TOCK TRADE ERY LIGHT; MOVEMENTS ARE NARROW

arket Is Dullest Since January but on Whole List Develops a Firm Tone—Buying of General Motors Turns Tide After Decline.

ROKER'S LOANS UP $8,000,000

ay's News Is Meager and of Little Influence on the Market — Case Closes Down 15 Points — General Electric Among Higher Issues.

y the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Today's k market was the dullest since anuary, but on the whole, the list eveloped a firm one. Prices ipped away rather rapidly for a ime in the morning under the influence of bearish operations of floor traders, but a few special operations for the rise were launched around midday, and prices quickly stiffened.

Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending May 21 were announced by the Federal Reserve Board after close of market as $4,015,000,000, representing an increase of $8,000,000 as compared with the preceding week.

Save in a few normally erratic issues, price movements were narrow, and mostly insignificant. To- sales were less than 2,000,000 res. Heavy buying of General Motors turned the tide after the early decline, and operations in this issue were attributed variously to a pool, or to a large operator. The stock closed little more than a point higher.

The day's news was meager and of little influence on the market. American Machine & Foundry pped 11 points in profit-taking yesterday's 16-point jump in anicipation of the splitup and retirement of the preferred. International Salt, on the other hand, rose 4 points to a new high, in response o announcement of its splitup, and ncreased dividend. Coppers were gain unsettled by reduction of Inpiration's quarterly payment from $1 to 50 cents, and Mohawk Carpet declined to new low ground on mission of the 75-cent dividend.

Case Down 15 Points.

Case dropped more than 18 points in further bear selling early in the day, rebounded sharply, and gain sold off, closing down nearly 5 points, net. Shares closing a oint or two off included Union Carbide, Macy, Consolidated Gas nd Nash.

Among the firm spots were Allied Chemical, Corn Products, National Cash Register, United Airaft, Electric Auto Lite, Mack k and Johns-Manville, up two three points, aided by short covering. Shares closing a point or more higher included such issues General Electric, American Tobacco, Texas Corporation, Sinclair nd Sears-Roebuck. United States teel was up a fraction.

Sentiment in rail circles showed mprovement, reflecting publication of the Chesapeake & Ohio and stern Maryland April earnings ports, showing gains over the e month of 1929. The new railay earnings reports for April now hand show an aggregate reduction from April, 1929, of about 20 per cent, but Class 1 roads all together showed a drop of more than 0 per cent in March from the like 929 period.

There was disappointment in me quarters that the Bank of ngland made no reduction in its per cent discount rate, but credit this market was plentiful. Although call money again renewed per cent, it was in good supply e outside market at 2½, and money, now around the lowvels in six years, showed an r tone.

commodity markets were d by a spurt of about 3 cents eat futures. Corn mounted 2 cents.

St. Louisan Solicited to Hire Detroit Man to Smooth Way For $1,700,000 Contract There

Edwin B. Meissner Says He Told Go-Betweens They Would Land in Rogues' Gallery if They Meddled—Award Made to His Company on Merits of Bid.

Edwin B. Meissner, president of the St. Louis Car Co., whose company recently was awarded a $1,700,000 contract for street cars by the City of Detroit, when asked today about rumors from Detroit that he had been solicited for "fees or commissions" to smooth the way for his contract, said he had not paid any money to anyone and that the contract was awarded on its merit to his company, the low bidder.

Meissner added, however, that, during the period when the award was hanging fire in the Common Council, a St. Louis man solicited him for employment to help get the award, but that he rejected the proffered services and threatened the man for meddling in the transaction.

The St. Louis Car Co. bid on April 11, and April 21 the Detroit Street Railway Commission rejected all bids as too high. On April 15 the price of copper dropped and Meissner revised his bid downward.

"Upon resubmission of the bid," Meissner explained, "Mayor Charles Bowles wrote me April 25 that, upon his recommendation, the Street Railway Commission had voted to award the contract to us, subject to approval of the Common Council.

Approached by St. Louis Man.

"While the matter was pending before the council early in May a St. Louis man, whom I know, telephoned me that a Detroit man had come to St. Louis and told him to telephone me that to employ him would smooth the way in the council for the award of the contract to our company.

The St. Louis man said the matter was first mentioned to him in the lobby of Hotel Jefferson by another St. Louis man, who introduced him to the man from Detroit.

"I suspected at once that this was an effort of someone to thrust themselves upon us for employment, and I lost no time and spared no words in letting the man at the telephone know that he and his Detroit friend would get themselves in serious trouble if they attempted to block the award to which our company was entitled. I told him in so many words that he and his friend would have their pictures in the Rogues' Gallery if they meddled in our affairs."

Meissner said he heard no more from either man; that he did not want any special men or influence to work on the Detroit council; that he had personally handled the bids of his company and all negotiations in connection with their submission.

Obtained Contract on Merits.

"We obtained the contract," he said, "not only because we were low bidder in the first instance, but because we further reduced our bid to give the city the benefit of a fall in the price of copper, and our readjustment of the bid will save Detroit more than $42,000. Our bid was submitted upon its merits, and was so considered by Mayor Bowles, the Street Railway Commission and in the end by the Common Council. There was no need for any wire pulling or the special employment of anyone at any time."

Details of the Bidding for Detroit Car Contract.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., May 22.—Bids were opened April 11 for 130 new street cars, 110 of the regular Peter Witt type and 20 of the same type but equipped with Timken trucks. The lowest bidder was the St. Louis Car Co., at $13,750 each, and the highest was $14,390. For the cars equipped with Timken trucks the bidders asked from $2500 to $3000 extra.

April 22, the Street Railway Commission, acting on the recommendation of Mayor Bowles, rejected the bids and decided to readvertise. The Mayor said that in his opinion market, labor and material conditions were such as to warrant lower bids. Cars purchased about a year ago cost $13,885 each and he thought there now should be a greater reduction than the bidders offered. Attention was called to the fact that in the new tenders motors were listed at $330 more than last year.

Joseph E. Mills, Commissioner of Purchases and Supplies, told the board that the day the bids were opened one of the bidders said his concern would submit a lower offer if there was a readvertisement.

Bid $330 Less a Car.

On April 24 the St. Louis Car Co. offered an amended bid $330 a car lower than its original price. It was accepted by the Street Railway Commission, which voted unanimously to rescind its action of April 22, calling for rejection of all bids.

The new price, according to Del A. Smith, general manager of the Department of Street Railways,

MOVE TO RECALL DETROIT MAYOR; 12 CHARGES MADE

Circulation of Petitions Arranged — Signatures of 89,497 Persons Required for Vote.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., May 22.—A Citizens' Committee, said to include a number of persons who supported Mayor Charles Bowles in the election last fall, today are ready to circulate petitions for his recall. The petitions appeared last night and contain 12 charges against the Mayor.

To bring about a recall vote, 89,497 signatures of registered voters are necessary. Members of the committee indicated they expected to have the required number of names by Saturday to present to the City Clerk. The clerk in that case would be required to call an election in 20 days.

The move to recall Bowles followed his dismissal of Police Commissioner Harold H. Emmons, whom he appointed slightly more than four months ago. One of the charges against the Mayor is that he discharged Emmons for "ordering enforcement of law."

Emmons ordered a series of raids on gambling places last Saturday while Bowles was at the Kentucky Derby. Two hundred and seventy-six men were arrested, 90 of them in an alleged handbook, half a block from the City Hall. More than 100 of the men already have been convicted and sentenced. The Mayor indicated he believed the Police Commissioner double-crossed him in raiding racing handbooks while the Mayor was attending a horse race.

Replying to the Mayor's letter of dismissal, Emmons charged Bowles "insisted on assuming entire responsibility" in handling of vice conditions in the city. He said there had been "an increase in efficiency in handling of major crimes, i. e., those of violence," but "diminished efficiency in the handling of gambling and other vice." The Mayor later denied he had interfered with the Police Department.

Although dismissal of Emmons is regarded as having precipitated the recall move, the petition also alleges the Mayor "substituted secrecy for frankness in public business," and "seeks to weld street railway and other city employes into a political machine." It cites the dismissal recently of Frank Couzens, son of Senator James Couzens, from the Street Railway Commission, and charges Bowles "threatened the success of municipal ownership" by his recent attempt to increase street car fares. Commissioner Couzens opposed the fare increase.

Bowles, running on a reform platform, defeated former Mayor John W. Smith for election last fall. Bowles and Smith defeated Mayor John C. Lodge in the nonpartisan primaries.

TWO KNOWN DEAD IN COLLAPSE OF BUILDING IN NEW YORK

Number of Bodies Thought to Be Buried in Debris; Frame Work on New Iron Structure Falls.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Two men were known to have been killed in a plunge from the second floor of a building under construction today when steelwork collapsed. Bodies of several others were thought to be buried in the debris. A hundred men were at work on the structure. Fifteen others were said to have been injured.

The building is being erected at Fifty-first street and Eleventh avenue for a baking company, and the steelwork had reached the fourth floor. The cause of its collapse was not ascertained.

Six ambulances, a rescue squad, hook and ladder companies and police from six precincts hastened to the scene, and four priests hurried from the Church of the Sacred Heart to administer the last rites to dying men.

One huge girder was flung across the street and into the side of the building of the Brambach piano Co., frightening women workers, but injuring none.

20 FORD DEALERS FIND THEMSELVES IN TAXI BUSINESS

Negotiating to Take Over General Cab Co. Which They Supplied With Cars on Credit.

EACH ALSO FORCED TO INVEST $1500

Other Creditors Must Consent Before Reorganization Can Be Put in Effect, However.

Twenty St. Louis Ford dealers who welcomed the promoters of the General Taxicab Co., with open arms last winter as a market for Ford taxicabs they had been unable to sell, today found themselves entering the taxi business. The dealers are negotiating to take over the company under a reorganization in an effort to protect the $1500 each one was forced to invest before the company bought any cabs.

The company, capitalized at $250,000, has been unable to meet some of its obligations recently, and the dealers were offered the option of taking it over and investing an additional $250 apiece, or losing the money they already had invested.

The reorganization cannot be put into effect, however, unless other creditors agree to wait for their money until the dealers get the taxi business on a firmer basis. All but three creditors had agreed to wait and at a meeting scheduled for this afternoon, the dealers expected to get the last three agreements and take over the enterprise.

However, when the meeting was called, some of the creditors were still reluctant to agree to wait and the meeting was adjourned without an agreement having been reached. Another meeting will be held in the near future.

Behind the reorganization is the story of a promotion scheme wherein a man with a persuasive personality, an idea, and a flock of Fords he got on credit, started a business that reduced St. Louis taxi rates and set existing companies scurrying for existence.

He is Vern C. Shaffer, who conceived the Ford taxicab idea in San Francisco, put it into operation there, and started east, establishing taxi concerns as he went, and employing "the other fellow's money" in each enterprise. His St. Louis plan was typical.

Late last autumn he visited St. Louis Ford dealers, many of whom had been assigned taxicabs by the Ford factory. The cabs had not sold well in St. Louis, because none of the existing companies used Fords.

"I'll organize a company using nothing but Fords," Shaffer told the dealers. "I'll take your cabs off your hands. Of course, you'll have to help me. I'll take three cabs from each one of you. For the first one, I'll give you my personal, unsecured note. For the second, stock in the General Taxicab Co., which I will form, and for the third, cash."

The dealers consented. Shaffer formed his company, received the cabs and then mortgaged them for almost the full purchase price, with the Motor Acceptance Corporation, a local automobile finance concern. The mortgage gave him approximately $40,000 operating capital. With part of this he bought 17 additional taxis, giving the company 77 cars in operation. With part he paid for one of the three cabs he bought from each dealer.

Then, to get additional operating capital, it is said he borrowed $10,000 from an oil company, agreeing in return to purchase all of taxi concern's gasoline from the company and to pay back the $10,000 at the rate of 1 cent on each gallon purchased.

"Shaffer," one Ford dealer said, "was here today and gone tomorrow. Trains were too slow for him. If he had to go any place he took an airplane. Well, a new business can't afford to be hiring airplanes like that. All of Shaffer's expenses, both personal and for the business, were on a grand scale.

"Our notes came due and were renewed. Two installments were paid on the mortgage, and then that lapsed. Why, any time in the last 30 days, the finance company could have lined the cabs up and stopped the business. But the finance company didn't know where it could sell 77 taxis. They wanted money and not the cabs, so they laid off.

"Finally this reorganization plan was suggested. Each dealer is to put up $250 and take stock in exchange. Then Shaffer is to put up some money and we're going to try to run the thing and make it profitable. So far, Shaffer has put up $5000. We want him to put up $5000 more. That, with our money, will give $15,000 operating capital."

$6970 CUSTOMS PENALTIES

Carlisle explained his family bought considerable clothing while they were in Europe and were ignorant of the law which makes even worn clothing purchased abroad dutiable. WOMAN SWALLOWS POISON IN SUITE OF TEXAS G. O. P. HEAD

Wife of Brownsville Physician Takes Disinfectant While R. B. Creager Is Giving Party.

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., May 22.—Mrs. R. L. Works, 25 years old, wife of a physician of Brownsville, Tex., was removed to a hospital in a serious condition today, after she had swallowed a liquid disinfectant in the hotel suite here of R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman from Texas.

In a statement, Creager said Mrs. Works was one of a party of guests he entertained last night at dinner on the roof of the hotel. He said she became indisposed and at the suggestion of one of the other woman guests, went to his suite to rest.

Later members of the party went to the suite to ascertain how Mrs. Works was feeling. In some manner unknown, Creager said, Mrs. Works had obtained a small bottle of the disinfectant and, in the opinion of other members of the party, swallowed some of the liquid by mistake in attempting to gargle her throat.

Creager said his guests were Mr. and Mrs. Houston Page of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Snipes of Dallas; G. Degraffenreid of Dallas; Mrs. C. G. Watson of Brownsville and Mrs. Works. The latter two, he said, were house guests of Mrs. Page.

A bottle which had been thrown from a window of Creager's suite was found in the street. According to police records, Mrs. Works, accompanied by two other women, came to Dallas to attend a church convention. Creager said he was here on political business.

Mrs. Works could not be reached at the hospital for a statement. Her husband at Brownsville was notified and left immediately for Dallas.

They will be at the bridge approach, at Seventh boulevard and Chouteau avenue, and at the cut-off between Chouteau avenue and Seventh boulevard.

GEORGE SIMMONS DIES SUDDENLY AFTER POLO GAME

Funeral 2:30 P. M. Tomorrow at Home, 21 Westmoreland Place, for Huttig Sash & Door Co. Head

George W. Simmons, president of the Huttig Sash & Door Co. and former vice president of the Simmons Hardware Co., collapsed during a recess in a polo game at St. Louis Country Club yesterday afternoon and died of heart disease while physicians and club members tried to revive him.

His death was similar to that of his elder brother, Wallace D. Simmons, who was stricken with heart disease last Dec. 8, when horseback riding in Forest Park, and died a few hours later at his home.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow, with services at his home, 21 Westmoreland place, and burial in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Seemed to Fall Asleep.

Simmons, who was 51 years old, an expert polo player and former captain of the Country Club team, went to the polo field with seven other members of the club. After the first period, about seven and a half minutes, they retired to the polo pavilion and Simmons, taking a seat on a bench, appeared to fall asleep, breathing heavily.

Thomas H. Francis, sitting beside him, tried to arouse him, and discovered he had fainted. Dr. Willard Bartlett was summoned from the clubhouse and Dr. Walter Fischel from the golf course. The physicians directed artificial respiration for more than an hour without success, but at 6 o'clock the effort was seen to be helpless. Dr. Fischel expressed the belief that death occurred when he collapsed.

A son of Edward C. Simmons, founder of the Simmons Hardware Co., Mr. Simmons was graduated from Yale University in 1900 and was an officer of the hardware company for 23 years.

In 1923 he withdrew from the business when the Simmons company merged with the Winchester Arms Co. and moved to New York as a vice president of the Chase National Bank.

Returned to St. Louis in 1928.

He returned to St. Louis in 1928 as head of the Huttig Sash & Door Co. He also was president of the George W. Simmons Co., distributors of package groceries, and a director of the First National Bank. During the war he was manager of the Southwestern Division of the American Red Cross. In 1918 he went to France as a Red Cross representative. After the war he was sent to Soviet Russia as a special representative of the Red Cross.

CROWDS FLOCK TO CITY TO SEE DIRIGIBLE LAND

After Taking on Fuel, Gas and Provisions Vessel Will Start at Daybreak Tomorrow for Rio de Janeiro.

ECKENER MADE "SON OF NEPTUNE"

Passengers and Crew Join in Traditional Ceremony That Marks the Passage of Airship Across the Equator.

By the Associated Press.

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, May 22.—The Graf Zeppelin, completing its flight over the South Atlantic, flew over Pernambuco tonight and prepared to moor until tomorrow morning. The big airship circled over the landing field shortly before 6:30 p. m. (3:30 St. Louis time).

She will take on water, fuel gas and provisions during the night and continue to Rio de Janeiro at daybreak. After a brief stay there, it is planned to return here for the start to Havana Sunday or Monday.

People flocked into Pernambuco this afternoon by thousands, much as Americans throng into a city for great college rowing or football events. Never before has this town been so overcrowded. All hotels are filled, boarding houses are overflowing and late arrivals faced the likelihood of having to turn back after the Zeppelin's arrival or, failing to find quarters in private homes, spend the night out of doors. Special trains brought in many thousands of persons.

The Twenty-first Battalion of Infantry had marched out to the landing field, rehearsed and perfected its technique for landing the eppelin. Forces of State and city police and firemen were at the field handling the crowds. The huge grand stand at the air field and all available standing room was filled with visitors.

The Graf has flown the North Atlantic five times and has completed its first trip across the South Atlantic which has been spanned by airplane nine times. Its flight marked the first appearance of such a dirigible south of the equator which was crossed early this morning.

By the Associated Press.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, May 22.—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, bound for Pernambuco and Rio de Janeiro, crossed the Equator this morning and made its first appearance in the Southern hemisphere.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, who was making his first crossing of the Equator, became a member of Neptune's band in accordance with the time-honored tradition of the sea. He was baptized by other members of the party, who already had their papers as Neptune's sons and daughters.

ABOARD THE GRAF ZEPPELIN, May 22.—The Graf Zeppelin made aeronautical history this morning when it pushed its great bulk across the Equator, mythical "belt of the world," at 8:38 a. m. ship's time (5:38 a. m. St. Louis).

It was the first time in history that a lighter-than-air craft had ever crossed the Equator. As the dirigible swept into the Southern seas, a cheer of triumph went up from the throats of those on board. Even the most travel-wise among the 19 passengers felt an undeniable thrill when the word came through from Dr. Hugo Eckener's control room that the ship was over the invisible line.

When the Graf crossed the Equator, it came within less than 500 miles of its first destination—Pernambuco, on the coast of Brazil.

DRY LEAGUE HAS FUTURE PLEDGES OF $18,705,922

F. Scott McBride Says It Is Not Fair to Rate These as Assets Since Part May Not Be Paid.

SEEKS AN ANNUAL FUND OF $300,000

Tells Lobby Committee It Is for 18th Amendment Campaign—Puts Collection Costs at 25 Pct.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Records of the Anti-Saloon League showed the Senate Lobby Committee today that it has pledges of future contributions amounting to $18,705,922. F. Scott McBride informed the Senators that his organization collected an average of about 70 per cent of its pledges. He said those listed ran over various periods of time, in some cases for five or 10 years.

The League superintendent, examining the records, said it would not be fair to say the amount pledged represented assets of the League, since part of the funds represented assessments which might not be paid.

Cost of Collecting Pledges.

Senator Blaine (Rep.), Wisconsin, the only wet member of the committee, read from records that the cost of obtaining and collecting pledges and distributing literature was 99 cents in the dollar. The cost of getting pledges, he read, was 76.52 cents in the dollar.

McBride said there might have been one fund of which that was true but added that the average total cost of collections was between 20 and 25 cents per dollar collected.

McBride expressed opposition to the views of Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination in New Jersey, who has advocated repeal of prohibition. He contended such a move would "cause us to go back to where we were before prohibition."

Prohibition Referendum.

Blaine read a letter submitted by the Legislative Committee of the League in 1914, signed by Bishop James Cannon Jr., Arthur J. Barton and Wayne B. Wheeler, which he said proposed a referendum on the prohibition question. The Wisconsin Senator asked whether Morrow had not supported similar action. The witness replied there was a difference between the two expressions in that prohibition now was law.

McBride disclosed the League was attempting to raise a fund of $300,000 a year to make a campaign in favor of the eighteenth amendment similar to the one before prohibition was adopted.

Questioned by Chairman Caraway, the witness said it was "probably a good thing" for the probable issue to be agitated by the wets. "I think it will have to be fought out and settled for all time by a contest of that kind," he asserted.

McBride said the Pennsylvania Republican primary was "the biggest body blow to the wets that has yet come."

Asked if he was glad wets were running for the Senate from New Jersey, he said smilingly he was glad there were two wets and one dry.

The witness said the league had indorsed Secretary Davis and Senator Grundy in the Pennsylvania primary.

Caraway asked McBride if he knew what President Hoover's prohibition views were and was told Secretary Davis ought to know since he was a Cabinet member.

League "Has Never Let Up."

Asked if the league's campaign had not "dropped off" since prohibition was adopted, McBride said it had "never let up, in its educational work."

He added that a campaign would be more effective when the "issue is keen."

The league superintendent said he had hoped the wets "would be good sports" and give up their campaign.

Senator Blaine read from league records that pledges made in 1929 amounted to $5,315,498. He added that the cost of collection was $3,820,434, and that net proceeds were $1,495,064. He also read from the records that $224,912 was pledged in Illinois, with net proceeds of $99,153.

Hoover Brought In.

McBride said he was "very much pleased with most of the things done by the present administration for prohibition enforcement" but that it was too early yet to say whether the league would support Hoover for re-election.

"What are the accomplishments?" Caraway demanded. "They are so many that it would burden the record," McBride said.

"It would burden you to think of one," Caraway said. McBride said he thought the transfer of prohibition enforcement from the Treasury to the Justice Department would be a good thing.

"I don't think the drys are getting any help from the present administration," Caraway commented. "I think the administration is making good," McBride rejoined.

Caraway later ordered struck from the record his comments on the Hoover administration.

"That has nothing to do with what we are considering," he explained.

McBride said Hoover had "spoken out clearly" on prohibition.

Satisfied With Mrs. McCormick.

Blaine wanted to know if the league was not "a little doubtful about indorsing Ruth Hanna McCormick for the Republican senatorial nomination from Illinois. "No," McBride asserted. "We were perfectly satisfied."

Blaine said he had found that the bootleggers were "pretty well lined up with the candidates supported by the Anti-Saloon League." The witness said bootleggers had not contributed to the league, and asked: "Do you think the bootleggers supported Gifford Pinchot in Pennsylvania?" "I haven't been in Pennsylvania," Blaine replied.

In response to a question, McBride said if a wet Democrat were nominated for the Senate from Pennsylvania, the league would support Davis. If a dry Democrat were nominated, he said the league would not take sides.

Caraway asked if there was not "a greater war being made on the eighteenth amendment now than ever before."

Wets Fighting Hard.

"The wets are fighting harder now," McBride replied. "But one reason is that they are against the wall and fighting for their lives. A few more elections like the one in Pennsylvania will discourage them."

Questioned by Caraway, the witness said: "We like a dry Democrat, just as well, or a little better, than a dry Republican." "I should think that any one would," Caraway, a Democrat, commented.

GEORGE SIMMONS DIES SUDDENLY AFTER POLO GAME

life in St. Louis, Mr. Simmons made polo his principal diversion, leading the Country Club team in many matches. Shortly before his departure for New York, he abandoned the game and told other members of the club that he suffered with heart disease and had been warned by physicians to avoid violent exercise. Back in St. Louis, he returned to the sport but left the strenuous match games to younger men.

Yesterday he was playing with Edward C. Simmons, his nephew; Mahlon B. Wallace Jr., Hayward Niedringhaus, Sam C. Davis, Alex T. Primm Jr., Allen Fordyce and Thomas H. Francis. Niedringhaus, Wallace and Edward Simmons, with Edward K. Love Jr., compose the Country Club team, the Redbirds, which was scheduled to meet the Memphis Hunt and Polo Club team here on Saturday and Sunday.

The St. Louis-Memphis matches were canceled last night and probably will be held on June 7 and 8, the arrangements to depend on the plans of the Memphis players.

Daughter Continues on Stage.

Mr. Simmons is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Virginia Wright; a son, Richard M. Simmons of Chicago, and three daughters, Misses Virginia, Lulie and Georgia Simmons of St. Louis. Miss Lulie Simmons, who has stage aspirations, is playing in the current offering at the Orpheum Theater, "Your Uncle Dudley." She appeared last night and will play the two remaining performances of her engagement tonight and tomorrow.

A brother, Edward H. Simmons, also survives. The other brother, Wallace Simmons, was 62 years old when he died after an afternoon ride in Forest Park. Returning to a nearby stable, he appeared to be ill and a friend persuaded him to leave his automobile and ride home in another car. He was unconscious and beyond help when he reached the house.

Mrs. George Simmons' sister, Mrs. Georgia Wright Pettus, is the widow of Charles Parsons Pettus, who was killed when on a horseback ride alone near Pittsburg. Mr. Pettus died of skull fracture after being found unconscious and it was never established whether he fell or was thrown from his mount.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Former Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, wet candidate in the three-cornered New Jersey Republican contest for nomination as United States Senator, called on Dwight W. Morrow, his opponent, yesterday to make clear his stand on the League of Nations and to explain the London naval treaty.

Morrow rested quietly at his home in Englewood. At his headquarters it was announced that some of the dry leaders of the State would continue to campaign in his behalf, though he has declared for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

EARTH SHOCKS IN HAWAII

Center Said to Be in Area of Hualalai Volcano.

By the Associated Press.

HILO, Hawaii, May 22. — A strong earthquake felt on Hawaii Island at 6:52 p. m. Tuesday was said by Prof. Thomas J. Jaggar today to have had its center in the area of the Hualalai volcano. It was the second shock within 24 hours. The shocks were felt strongly both on the Hilo or eastern side of the island and in the Kona district, its western side.

Jaggar said the quakes were the same character as those of last September and October when hundreds of shocks occurred. These were assigned by Jaggar to lava movements within the dormant volcano Hualalai. The great fire pit of Kilauea volcano was quiet, Jaggar said.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Charles Evans Hughes, Chief Justice of the United States, yesterday was elected honorary president of the American branch of the International Law Association, to succeed the late Chief Justice William Howard Taft. John W. Davis was elected president. Plans were discussed for the international conference of the association next September.

HOOVER WILLING TO GIVE UP SOME OF TARIFF POWER

Under Plan Before Conferees, He Would Make Change as Recommended by Board or Veto It.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 22.— A compromise on the flexible amendment to the tariff bill whereby the President's power to change customs duties would be sharply curtailed was discussed by the conferees today with prospects of final adoption.

As described by Senator Watson, the Republican leader, and one of the conferees, the new plan would authorize the Tariff Commission to report in emergencies what it thought to be a fair change in a tariff and the President would be required to proclaim the rate in effect or veto it.

Under existing law, the commission merely reports differences in cost of production and the President may proclaim a duty increase or decrease to a limit of 50 per cent to equalize those differences or completely ignore the commission's findings.

The new plan would not permit the President to ignore a commission report by inaction. It has been discussed with President Hoover by Republican leaders and he has been represented as being willing to forego some of his power.

Watson said he thought there was a good chance of the plan being approved at another meeting tomorrow.

The flexible clause controversy was the only one unsettled after today's meeting. The conferees compromised on $11,000 as the salary for members of the Tariff Commission as against $10,000 in the Senate bill and $12,000 in the House measure and rewrote another section to provide that no member could serve as chairman of the commission twice during one term.

The Senate conferees receded and agreed to eliminate the Senate coalition amendments directing the Tariff Commission to turn over to members of Congress, while a tariff bill is pending, all information obtained by it relating to cost of production and requiring the commission to inquire into efficiencies of industries, unemployment and other factors in cost investigations.

The conferees late yesterday agreed to abandon the export debenture plan which the Senate coalition wrote into the bill. In addition, they voted to eliminate the Senate's duty of 30 cents an ounce on silver and its amendment permitting the free entry of cement imported for purposes of public construction. A rate of six cents a pound on all cement was adopted.

The House conferees receded from the stand of that branch of Congress for free soft wood lumber and agreed to a duty of $1 a thousand board feet. The Senate bill carried a rate of $1.50. A Senate proviso making this rate apply to railroad ties and telephone and telegraph poles of all woods was eliminated.

Senate Adjourns, Has No Quorum.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 22. — Unable to obtain a quorum, the Senate adjourned at 3:20 this afternoon until tomorrow. Adjournment was moved by Senator McNairy of Oregon, the assistant Republican leader, who changed his mind after succeeding in having adopted a motion calling for a roundup of absent Senators. The league-leading Washington baseball team played a double-header with Boston today.

CHICAGO METROPOLITAN AREA CENSUS GAIN SO FAR 60 PCT.

Country Town Population of Cook County More Than Doubled in Last Decade.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The Chicago metropolitan area on the basis of census returns thus far gathered in Cook and its five neighboring counties, has gained 60 per cent in population during the last decade.

Dupage County, to the west, has set the pace for the group with a percentage gain of 137.97 in the towns and townships already tabulated. The census takers have countaed 78,059 residents, where 32,801 lived in 1920. The mushroom growth of such suburbs as Elmhurst, Downers Grove, Glen Ellyn, Lombard, Wheaton, Westmont and Villa Park accounts for the startling gains.

Cook County, in which Chicago is situated, has more than doubled its country-town population in the incomplete returns, which show a gain of 115.44 per cent.

By the Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 22.—Houston, Dallas and San Antonio have topped the quarter million mark since the last census.

Figures just announced place the population of San Antonio at 254,562, an increase of 98,183, or 57.7 per cent. In 1920 San Antonio was the largest city in the State, Dallas second and Houston third. The Port City of Houston, now nearing the 300,000 level, took the lead in the present census, and Dallas also stepped ahead of San Antonio. Houston's population has been announced as 290,811; that of Dallas 260,297. All were under 200,000 population a decade ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The 1930 population of San Francisco is officially reported as 625,974.

The population of Tacoma, Wash., is given as 106,372, an increase of 119,207, or 23.52 per cent.

KILLS SELF AS POLICE QUESTION HIM ABOUT WOMAN'S DEATH

Salesman, Arrested at London Ont., Falls Dead of Self-Administered Poison.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Ont., May 22. — Arrested today under suspicion in the death of Rita Gardner in a Montreal hotel two weeks ago, George Redfern, 42-year-old salesman, fell dead as police questioned him, leaving a note which said Miss Gardner had taken her own life. He died from self-administered poison.

The note had been written by Redfern to his wife in a Niagara Falls, N. Y., hotel after Miss Gardner's body had been found and he was being sought in connection with her death.

In it he declared the young woman, a 22-year-old office clerk of Baden, Ont., had found poison tablets in his pocket, at the Montreal hotel where they registered together, and had swallowed part of them. He said he had laid the woman on a bed, fearing to call a doctor, and had fled.

The airship sailed yesterday for a trial flight preparatory to a forthcoming Canadian voyage.

Commander R. S. Booth knew nothing of the damage until he received a message from below. He said the Graf reached a speed of 8 0knots and the increased air pressuer caused by the high speed test apparently injured the fabric.

Commerce Chamber Gets Names Of 500 Missed in the Census

Business Organization Thinks Complete Count Will Show St. Louis Is Larger Than Cleveland.

Names and addresses of about 500 persons who were missed by census enumerators in St. Louis and St. Louis County have been given to the Chamber of Commerce in its campaign to see that all residents of the community are counted, to give the city and county the highest possible rank.

The Chamber thinks it is possible that St. Louis will show a sufficient gain in population for the last 10 years to pass Cleveland in the 1930 rating. St. Louis was the fourth city in the 1910 census but was outstripped by Detroit and Cleveland in 1920 and became sixth. This time, Los Angeles is expected to be fourth and Detroit fifth, but the Chamber thinks there is a chance for St. Louis to hold its position as sixth.

Cleveland's population now was announced recently as 897,548, compared with 796,841 in 1920. St. Louis had 772,897 in 1920 but reports have been made so far this year for only three wards, which do not furnish a clear indication of what the total may be. On the basis of the Census Bureau method, the Chamber has estimated that St. Louis has 868,736 population, but this method is based on the same rate of growth—12.4 per cent—in the last decade as between 1910 and 1920. The Chamber's hopes are pinned to the idea that the rate has been greater in the last 10 years and on the determination to have every one counted this time.

Entire Block Missed.

On Monday the chamber began mailing letters to its 3400 members, asking them to report names of employes and their relatives and any other persons of whom they might hear who had not been counted. Up to this morning 181 replies had been received. The last letters were mailed last night.

One report was of an apartment house in the 5300 block of Natural Bridge avenue, said to be the home of 37 families that had not been enumerated. Another declared that the entire 4200 block of McDonald avenue had been missed. One business office gave the names of 38 employes and their relatives who had been skipped. The first batch of 25 replies opened averaged three names each.

Census supervisors here have welcomed the chamber's co-operation, and the campaign was undertaken with their approval. The chamber has emphasized that it is not trying to check or find fault with the census takers, but only to see that no inhabitants are omitted.

Citizens are urged by the Chamber of Commerce to report any omissions to its offices at 511 Locust street. The telephone number is CHestnut 7565.

All available means of publicity will be employed by the chamber to ask the public to help in this activity. Negotiations are being made to get various radio stations to make periodical announcements on the subject.

Returns From Twenty-third Ward.

Analysis of population figures for the Twenty-third Ward, for which the 1930 report was announced last night, indicates that there has been a substantial gain in the area it now covers. The ward has 25,411 inhabitants. It is bounded by Vandeventer and Walton avenues, Westminster place and Page boulevards, plus a small section between Page and Taylor, Marcus and Easton avenues.

This is a compact midtown district containing a few apartments, many boarding houses and a considerable Negro residential section. In the 1920 census the Twenty-third Ward had 28,647 inhabitants, but its area was almost twice as large then as now. At that time the ward extended along Vandeventer from Cook avenue to Tower Grove Station, with Newstead avenue the westernmost line. Hence no direct comparison is available. All ward boundaries were changed in 1921.

While many dwellings in the Twenty-third Ward were destroyed by the 1927 tornado, most of them have been replaced, in some instances by apartments.

St. Clair Population.

St. Clair County, Ill., has 156,624 population, compared with 136,520 in 1920, a gain of 20,104, or 14.7 per cent. This became known yesterday when Census Supervisor George Eckert announced the figures for the last township to be reported. This was Centerville Township, which includes a de oping industrial section south East St. Louis, and which has inhabitants, compared with in 1920, an increase of 3558, 113.6 per cent.

The nine townships in the cial St. Louis metropolitan have 132,270 population, in c parison with 110,583 in the pre ous census, a gain of 21,687, 19.6 per cent. These townships clude East St. Louis and Bel ville and the contiguous area industrial and residential devel ment. The growth in the count population was chiefly in East Louis, Belleville, Washington P Dupo, Fairmont City and Bro lyn. There was a decrease in of the rural portion.

was the lowest ever offered the city for cars of this type. The new price of $13,420 was $656 a car lower than the second low bid.

The amended bid was contained in a letter from Edwin B. Meissner, president and general manager of the St. Louis Car Co. Mayor Bowles, advising acceptance of the bid, said it represented an absolute saving of $42,900. John J. Barlum, president of the commission, pointed out that under the new price the city was virtually receiving three cars for nothing. Members of the commission expressed the opinion that readvertising would bring forth no lower bids than this.

Meissner said that at the time the first bids were received, he told Smith and Mills that if the price of motors were reduced, the company would at once pass the reduction on to the city. The reduction was not accomplished, he said, but the company had agreed to supply the cars at a price based on the old motor cost.

Contract Blocked in Council.

April 29 at the formal meeting of the Council, the contract to purchase the 130 cars from the St. Louis Car Co. was blocked by Councilman John A. Kronk under the Council rule by which any matter involving expenditure of money is laid on the table by one negative vote. He got his colleagues to refer the contract back to the Council Committee of the Whole for "further discussion."

Kronk's move was a suprrise. In explaining his reasons he first said he was not in favor of buying any more cars, but rebuilding 150 old cars which have been discarded. He then said he opposed the contract because the low bidder had made his bid lower.

The Councilman said the procedure of the Street Railway Commission in accepting the amended lower bid was "not regular." If the lower bidder could reduce his bid, he said, "any other bidder might reduce his."

May 5, the Council in committee informally approved the awarding of the contract for the 130 cars to the St. Louis Car. Co. This action was taken after Mills told the Council there was nothing irregular about the bids. The St. Louis Car Co. was low, he said, even without the proffered reduction.

Formal approval of the contract was given by the Council at its regular session May 6.

All members of the Council were present and voted approval of the contract. There was no split vote. Members of the Council are: John C. Nagel, president; William P. Bradley, Fred W. Castator, John A. Kronk, George A. Walters, Phillip A. Callahan, John S. Hall, Robert G. Ewald and Arthur E. Dingeman.

LIPTON'S YACHT WINS AGAIN

SOUTHEND, England, May 22.—The Shamrock V scored its fifth successive victory today after a thrilling neck-and-neck finish.

The Shamrock has shown so much speed that Sir Thomas Lipton thinks she has received a greater time allowance than is fair to its competitors in test races now being held, it is reported. It is understood Sir Thomas has pointed out that while the sail area of rival yachts is measurably larger than the Shamrock's, it has points which they lack as factors making for speed.

HEIRESS TO LIVE ON $35 A WEEK SALARY OF HUSBAND

Dolores Elizabeth Ford Instructs Father to Stop Her $12,000 a Year Allowance.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Daily News says that Dolores Elizabeth Ford, 24-year-old daughter of William Ford, Toledo, O., glass manufacturer, has instructed her father to discontinue her $12,000 annual allowance and intends to live on the $35-a-week wages of her husband, a plumber's assistant. Louis Matthews, the plumber's helper, is her fourth husband, whom she married immediately after the annulment in Buffalo, N. Y., of her marriage to Eugene Newton, a mulatto cabaret employe, May 7.

The News quotes Mrs. Matthews as saying: "I am not planning on using any of my father's money. I don't want any of it. I told daddy that I was marrying Lou and that we would live on his $35 salary. My father told me he would continue my allowance until I asked him to stop—and I have done just that. I have written to his secretary, telling him that from now on we are on our own."

Matthews said they were going to Richmond, Va., his home, where he has a job helping to put up a metal garage. In New York they are occupying a $7-a-day hotel room.

ENDS LIFE IN PRISON AFTER BEING GRANTED NEW TRIAL

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 22.—Samuel M. Fleischman, attorney for Felix Repetowski, who killed himself yesterday in his cell at Auburn prison, has begun an investigation to ascertain why Repetowski did not receive a telegram which Fleischman said he sent, notifying the prisoner that the Appellate division of the Supreme Court recently had voted a new trial. Repetowski was serving a sentence of 20 to 25 years on a robbery charge. He had maintained that the case was one of mistaken identity and the Appellate division in its decision wrote:

"In the interests of justice, this man must be given a new trial. The conviction is reversed on facts and not on law."

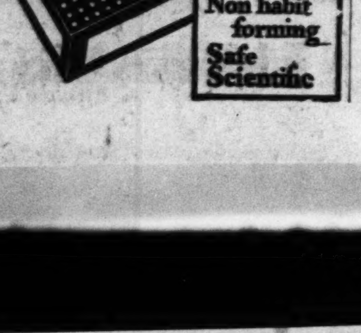
"If it is disclosed that the telegram deliberately was withheld," Fleischman said, "I will present the facts to the Governor. That boy never would have taken his life had he known that he soon was to be liberated."

HOUSE FOR REPARATIONS BILL

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The House today passed the Hawley bill to authorize settlement of German reparations to this country for approximately $753,400,000, payable over a period of 52 years.

The bill now goes to the Senate.



WATCHMAN BEATS HIS WIFE TO DEATH THEN KILLS SELF

Bodies of John and Johanna Hornberger, 4597A Evans Avenue, Found by Boarder Returning From Work.

After beating his wife, Mrs. Johanna Hornberger, to death with a poker, John A. Hornberger, a night watchman for the Hellrung & Grimm House Furnishing Co., killed himself yesterday by firing a bullet into his right temple at their home at 4597A Evans avenue. Hornberger was 70 years old and his wife 66.

The bodies were found by Arthur Holloway, a boarder, on his return from work shortly after 6 o'clock last night. The body of Mrs. Hornberger, with her scalp lacerated by blows from the poker, broken pieces of which lay on the floor, was found on a bed in the front room, and that of her husband in a middle room, on the floor, with the revolver in his right hand.

The cause of the tragedy is laid by neighbors and relatives to the pair's quarrels over rent money received from two frame residences which Mrs. Hornberger owned at Granite City. Hornberger thought the money should have been used to help keep up the home.

Holloway and Mrs. Anna Butcher, who resides on the first floor, told of frequent quarrels between Hornberger and his wife, beginning shortly after their marriage four years ago. Each had been married three times. Mrs. Butcher told police she heard a commotion upstairs at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, but thought it nothing unusual.

A son of Mrs. Hornberger, Henry V. Schuetz, 1635 Kansas avenue, East St. Louis, visited the house at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but finding both doors locked, went to the home of other relatives looking for his mother, and returning finally to the house found the police at the scene. He verified the fact that the pair quarreled over money matters.

The revolver which Hornberger held had two empty chambers, An examination will be made to determine if he fired a bullet into his wife's head after he had beaten her into insensibility.

Mrs. Hornberger's son said she was the daughter of Jacob Reichert, a former Freeburg (Ill.) brewer.

CHINESE HERB IS GROWN HERE

Shaw's Garden Experiment With Ma-Huang Possibly First in U. S.

Ma-Huang, a herb valued in China for centuries for its medicinal properties, but only recently introduced to the occidental world, is being grown this year at Shaw's Garden. It is thought the plant is being grown there for the first time in America. Seeds of Ma-Huang were obtained from Dr. K. K. Cheng, director of research for an Indianapolis drug company.

Twelve pots of the herb were grown this year. It is an inconspicuous grass-like plant. Extracts from it produce a drug similar in action to adrenalin, used in controlling blood pressure. Other products of it are used as an inhalant in forms of asthma and as a heart stimulant.

CHANGES PLEA TO GUILTY GETS 25-YEAR SENTENCE

Negro Admits Holdup After Four Witnesses Testify Against Him.

Garnett Albertie, 21-year-old Negro, changed his plea to guilty after four State witnesses had testified against him in Circuit Court at Clayton yesterday, and was sentenced to 25 years in the penitentiary by Circuit Judge Mulloy for holding up Albert Neuhaus, clerk in a clothing store at 214 North Kirkwood road, last Feb. 17.

Albertie fractured Neuhaus' skull with a hammer when he resisted, and he faced the maximum penalty of death under the Bates law. He obtained a small sum in the robbery.

MISSOURI PRISON FOOD GOOD

Well Prepared Also, Says Chef of Hotel Muehlbach After Inspection.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 22.—Food served to convicts in the Missouri penitentiary is of good quality and an excellent standard of cleanliness is maintained in the prison kitchens, Gov. Caulfield was informed last night by Charles Frey, chef of Hotel Muehlbach, Kansas City, who came here to inspect the prison kitchens at the Government's request.

Frey inspected food being served to the more than 4000 convicts, inspected the prison kitchen and commissary and checked menus for the dining hall over a period of several weeks, and approved them. He reported the meats, vegetables, bread and other food was of good quality and was well prepared. He recommended the prison steward and cooks make a more careful calculation of quantities to be prepared for each meal, however, to reduce the quantities left over, and eliminate the necessity of using left-overs in stew or hash.

Pershing Pays Tribute To Gold Star Mothers

Ambassador Claudel Joins in Praise of American Womanhood for Sacrifices Made During War.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 22.—Ambassador Claudel, for France, and Gen. John J. Pershing for the United States, today voiced the sympathies of their nations to the more than 200 gold star mothers who are visiting military cemeteries where their sons are buried. The two joined their tributes at public ceremonies which today provided a climax to the pilgrimage of the mothers from the United States.

The consecration occurred at a luncheon given by the American Club in Paris to Claudel, who had been invited to speak on the French influence in the United States.

One of the largest companies in the history of the club was present. After welcoming Claudel as a "great Ambassador," Pershing turned to the pilgrimage of the war mothers and wives. It was the only proper thing, he said, for the American Government to arrange for the visit of these mothers to the graves of their sons, speaking in solemn tones. Pershing asked all present to stop and think of the meaning of the visit.

"These American mothers," Pershing said, "are bringing to France again the spirit conveyed during the war by their heroic sons. They are reviving the splendid spirit of co-operation, devotion and patriotism. I hope all will give a thought to the significance of this splendid pilgrimage.

Represent Cross Section.

"These war mothers represent a cross section of the motherhood of America. What greater tribute can we pay to all the motherhood of America than to voice our respect and admiration to the women who are here on this sacred pilgrimage."

Pershing continued that in referring to motherhood he wished also to include in his tribute the motherhood of France, "whose numbers far exceed our own and who were equally devoted in laying upon the altar of freedom such precious sacrifices as they did."

Concluding his speech, the American General said, "These visiting mothers deserve our earnest attention. This voyage should be made a memorable one. We should impress upon them that all Americans respect and honor them for what they have done for their country."

Speaking in English, Claudel expressed France's official tribute to the American mothers. A hush fell over his auditors when Claudel said how deeply moved he had been when Pershing referred so touchingly to the American pilgrimage. There is one thing the United States owes to France, he said:

"America owes to France the most precious part of its territory. You have in America many beautiful places, but nothing so precious to you as your cemeteries which are in France, where so many of your soldiers are sleeping. The most precious part of America is outside her land, it is in France. May that never be forgotten."

Visited Own Home Town.

Claudel said he recently visited his own home village near Chateau Thierry which was liberated from its foreign yoke by the heroism of American soldiers. There, he said, he saw the monument erected to the American marines.

"Monuments and tombs," he said, "are a symbol not of death but of life. Out of them something living is to be born. Your heroes have not died in vain. Out of their tombs will come something which will be forever good for both of our countries."

Claudel said that while there had been much talk of the Americanization of France, his observation was that France was exercising a considerable influence on American life. He pointed out that 440,000 American school children are studying the French language and said it was a "living evidence that the practical contact between the United States and France continues."

Former German War Officers Salute Gold Star Mothers.

THIAUCOURT, France, May 22.—Gen. Otto Gessler, former Minister of War in Germany, who is leading a party of former war officers on a tour of inspection of the German, French and American cemeteries war zone, stood at attention as 23 American Gold Star mothers today arrived at the gates of the St. Mihiel Cemetery. The Germans clicked their heels and bowed as the mothers alighted from the busses.

The American mothers, under the impression that the former German Minister and his officers who were all in civilian clothes, formed the Reception Committee charged with welcoming them, returned the salute. Later, when informed of the identity of the party, all the mothers expressed pleasure.

This was the mothers' second visit to the cemetery and they planned to spend the remainder of the day at Nancy.

On the way to the cemetery the mothers drove over the famous St. Mihiel battlefield. The guide explained to them every detail of the American attack of Sept. 11, 1918, which resulted in straightening out the St. Mihiel salient and the capture of 433 cannon and 16,000 prisoners.

The motor busses stopped at Fleury a few moments to allow the pilgrims to view the monument there erected to Franco-American fraternity of arms and then went on to Thiaucourt.

BOARD CONSIDERS THE POSSIBILITY OF ENDING SYMPHONY

Only $460,000 of $750,000 Fund Sought to Maintain It for Three Years Has Been Pledged.

The possibility that the Symphony Orchestra may be disbanded if the campaign to raise $750,000 to support it for three years fails, was discussed yesterday at a meeting of the Executive Committee at Hotel Lennox. I. A. Stevens, campaign chairman, reported the total subscribed so far was $460,000.

Stevens pointed out that most of this money was pledged to be paid over a period of three years, and that many difficulties would be encountered if an attempt were made to apply the fund to the expenses of the orchestra in a briefer period.

The total annual expense of the orchestra had been about $300,000, and only about $100,000 of this is met from seat sales, he said. There is also a deficit of $100,000 accumulated in the past three years which must be met out of funds raised in this campaign.

Members of the Executive Committee are now soliciting subscriptions from industries, but these are slow in coming in because in most cases they must be approved at meetings of directors. Contributions have been received from more than 600 individuals who have not previously subscribed to funds for the Orchestra, but several hundred old subscribers have not renewed their gifts.

L. W. Baldwin, president of the Symphony Society, pointed out that the plan to advertise St. Louis by a series of 20 Sunday concerts to be broadcast next fall, was contingent on the success of the campaign for funds. The Executive Committee felt that it would be useless to struggle along unless St. Louisans supported the orchestra on a reasonable basis, he said.

Stevens said the drive would be continued until the goal was reached or until all possibilities for obtaining additional funds had been exhausted.

MAYOR SAYS LACK OF FUNDS DELAYS PUBLIC WORKS

Issues Statement on Difficulties of Speeding Improvements by Condemnation.

REPLY TO ADDRESS OF G. C. SMITH

Asserts $21,000,000 Is Required for Major Projects —Bond Issue Allotments Insufficient.

Mayor Miller today gave out a statement of his views on the difficulties of speeding up public improvements by condemnation proceedings.

His statement was prompted by a public address of George C. Smith, director of the Industrial Bureau, in which Smith urged more public work at this time to relieve unemployment.

At Limit of Taxation.

In part, the Mayor said:

"It is well known that one of the chief reasons for the delay on our public projects is the very lack of funds. If we had $6,000,000 we could immediately proceed with the widening of Market street.

"The same is true of a number of our other large projects in which the reports of the commissioners have either been filed or are ready to be filed. Everyone else seems to know that we have reached the limit of taxation for local purposes, and that the various agencies having to do with the collection of funds are moving Heaven and earth to get in enough money to pay the city's current expenses.

"Our position in the matter of funds is not unique. Similar problems trouble the officials of other cities. Everywhere there is a clamor for much needed improvements, and everywhere an appeal for increased tax payments meets with the same unwilling response from those best able to pay.

"Condemnation proceedings, under the Charter, originate in the Board of Aldermen, on recommendation of the Board of Public Service. When the city's law department, in obedience to an ordinance, has brought a condemnation suit and obtained such service on the defendants as the law requires, the Circuit Court appoints three commissioners to assess damages and benefits, and, when these commissioners have made their report, the city, by paying to the owners of the property involved, or into court for their benefit, the amount of damages assessed, may take possession of the property and proceed with the public work.

$21,000,000 Required.

"It would require $21,000,000 to proceed with all the major projects in which the commissioners' reports have either been filed or are ready for filing. Only $9,000,000 of the total bond issue of $87,000,000 authorized a few years ago may be issued each year, and this covers all projects: sewers, parks, plazas, street openings, street widenings, and public buildings and other structures.

"As to most of the bond issue projects specifically provided for, the amount allowed was insufficient. For instance, in the case of the plaza projects, there was no provision for anything beyond the mere acquisition of the property. No funds were made available out of which the cost of developing either the Memorial Plaza of the Union Station Plaza can be defrayed.

"In the one instance in which this administration went beyond the literal mandate of the people and secured the appropriation out of general revenue of an additional amount sufficient to construct a Courthouse worthy of a city like St. Louis, and sufficient for its needs for a reasonable period in the future, we brought down upon ourselves a considerable amount of criticism, both from the thinking and the unthinking. And if anyone thinks it was easy to secure these additional funds, he should sit in on some of the meetings of the board which controls the city's expenditures.

Cites Provisions of Charter.

"Section 25 of Article IV of the Charter provides that, except as otherwise expressly provided, 'no money shall be expended except in consequence of appropriations made by ordinance,' and that 'no ordinance contemplating or involving the payment of any money shall be adopted unless the Board of Estimate and Apportionment shall have recommended or joined in recommending the same.' Section 5 of Article XVI of the Charter provides that 'no appropriation shall be made from any fund for any purpose to which the money therein is not lawfully applicable.'

"The 'except as otherwise expressly provided' in Section 25 of Article IV has reference to the provisions of the Charter, which in certain emergencies give the Comptroller or the Health Commissioner or the Chief of the Fire Department the right to pledge the city's credit without going through the usual formalities.

"If anyone can discover any funds, other than the modest contingent fund allowed him for the expenses incident to his social duties and for other contingencies of his office, over which the Mayor has any control, I shall be obliged to him. It should not be necessary to remind that the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, which controls all municipal expenditures, is made up of the Mayor, the Comptroller and the President of the Board of Aldermen, each of whom is elected by direct vote of the people.

"Just which case Mr. George C. Smith had reference to when he spoke of the politicians who milked 'us' to the extent of 500 meetings at $5 per meeting for the condemnation of 'enough property to widen about two or three city blocks,' I have been unable to ascertain. No one in the condemnation division of the city's law department seems to have any recollection of anything quite as bad as that. The politicians referred to are presumably the commissioners who are appointed by the Circuit Judges, and over whom, if they really are the political milkmaids Mr. Smith claims they are, the administration has, of course, no matter of control."

ST. LOUISAN GIVES BAIL ON NEW YORK LIQUOR CHARGE

Defense Expected to Contend That Possession Without Intent to Sell Is Not Illegal.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Benjamin McReynolds, St. Louis insurance broker, arrested for illegal possession of liquor in the Hollywood Cafe raid by Federal prohibition agents April 26, was held in continued bail of $500, when he waived examination, through his attorney, before United States Commissioner O'Neill yesterday.

McReynold's counsel emphasized the fact that the waiver was not an admission of cause of action but was only to avoid inconvenience, since other patrons of the cafe, whose defense was similar, had previously been held. The trial date has not been set.

The defense is expected to contend that possession of liquor without intention to sell is not illegal.

McReynolds has offices in the International Life building and resides at 5840 DeGiverville avenue.

These treatments consist of medicaments given through the mouth or injected. He does not use surgery, but he says he uses a number of methods of treatment selecting what he considers best for each case. He said arrangements for extending the treatments to all of the 50,000 employes of the road were under consideration.

BISHOP CANNON KEEPS POST

Conference Rejects Move to Take Him Off Temperance Committee.

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., May 22.—The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today voted 257 to 124, not to substitute Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, Tex., for Bishop James Cannon of Washington, on the Board of Temperance and Social Service. W. A. Newell of Greensboro, N. C., had moved the substitution.

Immediately thereafter the conference by a viva voce vote elected Bishop Cannon and the other members of the board nominated by a majority of the Committee on Temperance and Social Service.

3 STEPS TO SPEED UP CONDEMNATION GET TACIT O K

Sale of Benefit Bills in Order to Obtain Ready Cash to Pay Damages Approved.

Tacit approval was given to three proposed amendments to the city's procedure for condemning private property for public use, at a conference at City Hall today. They are:

Sale of benefit bills assessed against the area benefited by an improvement, to provide ready cash to pay damages for land taken. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment already is considering adoption of this, and will receive proposals from banks tomorrow for discounting benefits.

Provision for payment of benefit bills in installments, which is possible now only in the infrequent condemnations for parks and playgrounds, and not for the common cases of street widenings and extensions.

Amalgamation of suits for condemning property in a street widening or opening and for changing the grade of the land, instead of the delay now incident to bringing the change of grade suit subsequently.

Muench's Recommendations.

These were among recommendations made by City Counselor Muench, chairman of the conference, at a gathering last week.

Today's meeting did not pass on other proposals he made then, which were: Fixing a flat fee for condemnation commissioners instead of paying them $5 a day for every day they meet; immediate collection of benefits from property owners who do not appeal from assessments, without awaiting final judgment; service of notice of suit only on the spouse holding actual title, instead of husband and wife, and service of notice by publication wherever condemnation suit defendants cannot be found on early efforts.

Representatives of various civic orginazitions, the city and the Circuit Court and members of the legislative committee of the Board of Aldermen were present today, this being the third session. Another meeting will be held at Muench's call, in the course of determining everything that shall be placed in an ordinance it is intended to draft. The three things approved today were among the changes proposed by the City Improvement Association in a bill that died with the last aldermanic session because of objection to some features.

For Close Supervision.

Muench announced that he would insist on including a provision in the new ordinance that the Circuit Judges, or someone appointed by them, have close supervision over condemnation commissioners, to see that they spend sufficient time on their duties. Commissioners now receive the daily pay of $5 even for extremely brief meetings. The city recognizes that this is small.

It should be possible to appoint capable men as commissioners who would regard the work as a civic duty, like jury duty, not a source of income, Muench told the meeting. He reiterated his belief that the Circuit Judges should fix definite, flat fees for commissioners before they began their hearings. Judges Hall and Bader had objected to this last week.

Forrest C. Donnell, representing the Bar Association, said at today's session that the flat fee scheme might tend to make commissioners hurry their work, so that they would not give sufficient attention to details, especially in laying out benefit areas and fixing the benefits. Muench replied that the flat fee might be fixed equitably in proportion to the number of parcels of property involved in the case.

Charles H. Diel, of the Municipal Development Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that past experience showed the cost of commissioners' pay per parcel in a case varied greatly. He suggested that $50 per parcel might be a fair rate. Donnell made the counter proposal that the Judges might fix a flat fee at the end of the commissioners' work. but the discussion of this tended to the view that some commissioners might exaggerate the time they had spent.

Might Antagonize Them.

At present, the City Councelor's office keeps a record of the number of meetings each commission holds. Muench declared that his office should not be charged with any control over the activities of commissioners, inasmuch as the city is a party to the litigation and its supervision might antagonize commissioners.

Clifford B. Allen of the Bar Association inquired whether the waste of time by commissioners that has been the source of much complaint occurred in the period of taking testimony on values, during deliberations in the office or when the commissioners visited property involved. G. William Senn, Associate City Counselor in charge of condemnation work, replied that the waste began at the start.

It is impossible for the Counselor's office to control the time spent by commissioners, Senn declared. He recited instances of some commissioners claiming a day's time for the briefest of appearances, and said that some commissioners conduct private business, talk politics or tell anecdotes instead of attending to their duty. There is an ordinance requiring commissioners to put in two hours as a minimum day's work, it was pointed out, and there have been instances where the city permitted active commissions to hold two separate meetings of at least two hours each in a day, so that the commissioners could get $10 for a day's time.

MUSCLE SHOALS LEASE TO BE DEBATED TUESDAY

House Rules Committee Allow Three Hours for Discussion of Reece Plan.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Reece plan for the disposal of Muscle Shoals obtained legislative right of way in the House under an order of the Rules Committee today.

Chairman Snell of the committee says the measure is to be considered Tuesday. General debate is to be limited to three hours.

The Reece plan proposes a board of three members to negotiate leases for the disposal of the Muscle Shoals plant. The lessees would be required to construct Cove Creek Dam on the Tennessee River about 300 miles above Wilson Dam, at a cost of about $37,000,000. It was disclosed at the hearings before the Rules Committee that the plant had cost the Government $127,000,000, but that its value had shrunk to about $70,000,000.

PINCHOT'S LEAD FOR GOVERNOR RISES STEADILY

Independent Republican 12,279 Ahead of Vare's Candidate, With Only 62 Districts Missing.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—Gifford Pinchot's lead over Francis Shunk Brown for the Republican gubernatorial nomination increased steadily today as returns from Tuesday's primary were reported from isolated rural districts.

Unofficial figures from all but 63 of the State's 8701 election districts gave the former Governor, who ran independently, a plurality of 12,279 votes over Brown. Should the complete tabulation show Pinchot the winner, he will have turned the tables on his enemy of years—the Vare organization of Philadelphia—for Brown was the personal choice of William S. Vare and was solidly supported by the organization.

With the exception of Brown, all other candidates on the organization's slate for State-wide offices, including Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, who defeated United States Senator Joseph R. Grundy for the senatorial nomination, were victorious.

Davis won an overwhelming victory over Grundy, who was backed by Gov. Fisher and other State leaders, the Secretary's plurality totaling 233,436, with 331 districts to be heard from.

Wets Get Quarter of Million Votes.

The anti-prohibition ticket, headed by Francis H. Bohlen, for Senator, and Thomas W. Phillips Jr., for Governor, polled more than 225,000 votes.

Returns from 8638 districts for Governor gave Pinchot, 627,798, Brown, 615,519, and Phillips, 263,650.

For Senator, 8370 districts gave Davis 717,959, rundy 484,473 and Bohlan 237,651.

The incomplete returns indicate that Pinchot carried 60 of the 67 counties, upstate counties giving him sufficient support to overcome the 187,730 plurality received by Brown in Philadelphia.

Davis received a plurality of 187,935 over Grundy in Philadelphia, and added to it up-State, where Pinchot's strength proved for greater than that of Grundy.

Predicts Victory by 30,000.

P. S. Stahlnecker, manager of the Pinchot campaign, said the missing districts would materially increase Pinchot's plurality. He predicted a victory by about 30,000. Bernard J. Myers, chairman of the Davis-Brown State Campaign Committee, refused to concede victory to Pinchot.

The present situation is similar to Pinchot's fight for the Republican gubernatorial nomination against the late George E. Alter in 1922. In the reports of missing districts that year, there was a seesaw struggle as the early returns were received, Alter first jumping into the lead and then Pinchot. Finally as the rural districts reported, the former State Forester's plurality began to stand out and he won by a margin of 9259 votes.

SUICIDE RATE IN THE U. S. HIGHEST SINCE 1916

18 Per 100,000 Population, Insurance Statistician Reports, With Sacramento, Cal., 52.8.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The suicide rate of American cities during 1929 reached the highest figure on record since 1916, or 18 per 100,000, Frederick L. Hoffman, consulting statistician of the Prudential Insurance Co., announced last night.

He drew his conclusion from the tabulated results of 151 cities throughout the country. Sacramento, Cal., leads with a rate of 52.8, he said, "and most of the Pacific Coast municipalities outrank all others in their tendency to self-destruction."

"The stock market collapse of last year unquestionably had a direct bearing upon the increase in suicides," he said, "although it is not as well marked as might have been expected."

"Senator" Murphy to Wed.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A marriage license was issued yesterday to Samuel Le Traunak, 41 years old, known on the vaudeville stage as "Senator" Murphy, and Carolyn L. Smith, 26, a dancer. They said they would be married June 5.

BANKER DEFENDS HAMILTON-BROWN PRESIDENT'S WORK

James H. Grover Says Singleton Hired Practical Shoe Man and Devoted Time to Finances.

Marvin E. Singleton, president of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co., is expected to return from New York this evening, and will be in Federal Court tomorrow, when Judge Davis will take up the pending petitions for a receivership for the $5,000,000 concern, once St. Louis' foremost shoe manufacturing house.

Singleton, it is expected, will reply, through counsel, to the allegations made in the suit filed yesterday by John S. Leahy, attorney and stockholder, charging that the company has sustained losses of more than $2,000,000 in the last year and a half, through Singleton's "inexperience and lack of attention" and through his action in removing old employes. Singleton became president Feb. 4, 1929. He entered the shoe company's affairs as representative of the St. Louis Union Trust Co., which was a trustee under the will of Alanson D. Brown, co-founder of the company.

In Singleton's absence, James H. Grover, vice president of the St. Louis Union Trust Co., made a statement in reply to some of Leahy's charges.

Directed the Finances.

Grover said, as to Singleton's lack of experience in shoe manufacturing, that this was understood at the outset, and that Singleton, for this reason, engaged an experienced and successful shoe manufacturer to take charge of plant operations. He denied that Singleton was inattentive to the business, saying that Singleton gave more time and attention to the shoe company than to any business in which he ever before engaged. His work, Grover said, was chiefly in the financial management of the company. His previous business experience was as president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co., in which he sold his interests several years ago for more than $7,000,000.

Disagreement among the heirs of A. D. Brown, Grover said, prevented the sale of 101,000 shares of stock in the Brown trust estate. The elder Brown, who died in 1913, directed in his will that this stock be sold within 15 years, "if it can be done without impairing the holdings of others," to officers and employes of the company.

The heirs, who were the son, Alanson C. Brown, and his four sisters, were unable to agree on a price. A. C. Brown was president of the company from the time of his father's death until Singleton took charge last year. He was a co-trustee with the trust company and with Singleton, who succeeded the late Murray Carleton in the third trusteeship.

Following the filing of Leahy's petition, a second intervening petition, in the names of Dale W. Moore, Sybil Scott Moore, Ray Bartholomew and Frank Hancock, all of Oklahoma, was filed by the law firm of Jones, Hocker, Sullivan & Angert, which represents the Chicago bank in the original suit.

The petition affirms the original complaints and adds that the company "has for a long time been and is now operated at a large and substantial loss." It alleges that the company lost $422,924.37 during the first four months of this year; that the nominal surplus of the company on April 30 was only $412,391.42, and that if operations are continued at the present rate of loss, all interest of the intervening stockholders and others similarly situated will be wiped out.

W. C. REICHERT GUARDED AFTER GETTING TELEGRAM

Belleville Race Horse Owner Asked by Wire to Turn Over $45,000 to "L. B. P. A. of C."

William C. Reichert, mill and race horse owner, has had a private guard on duty at his home at 501 South Jackson street, Belleville, since Monday, when he received an unsigned telegram demanding $45,000.

The text of the telegram, which Reichert turned over to police, follows: "You are being assessed forty-five grand (thousand) for L. B. P. A. of C. Be prepared." It was sent from a National Stockyards, Ill., branch of a telegraph company and delivered by a company messenger.

The L. B. P. A. of C. refers apparently to the "Law Breakers' Protective Association of Chicago." This name was contained in letters received by St. Louis bookmakers 10 days ago in which demands of $20,000 were made upon each bookie.

East St. Louis police have under surveillance a house on the East Side known to be frequented by a woman and three men who are under suspicion.

SCHOOL EXPERT DEAD

CARL G. RATHMANN.

CARL RATHMANN DIES, 50 YEARS AN EDUCATOR

Victim of Anemia and Stomach Ailment in Hotel Home —77 Years Old.

Carl G. Rathmann, adviser of visual education for St. Louis Public Schools, died this morning in his apartment in the Gatesworth Hotel of anemia and an acute stomach ailment. He was 77 years old.

Mr. Rathmann had been connected with schools in St. Louis for more than 50 years. He entered the public school system in 1895 and from 1903 to last fall was Assistant Superintendent. Previously he had been assistant principal of Toensfeldt Institute, a private school for boys, and had conducted a private school in Kansas City for six years. His first connection with public schools in St. Louis was as principal of the Gratiot School. Later he held that post with the Jackson, Fremont and Garfield Schools.

During th World's Fair in 1904 he had charge of the St. Louis public schools exhibit which attracted wide attention. Later he formed the Public Schools Museum, one of the first of its kind, which became a model for other school systems.

Mr. and Mrs. Rathmann celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last Aug. 18. Besides the widow a son, Walter, and a granddaughter survive.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 22.—Final accounting in the estate of Thomas H. Ince, motion picture producer and director, was filed in probate court yesterday by Mrs. Ellen Ince Herbert, the widow, and Ingle Carpenter, executor.

The gross amount was set at $930,732, of whcih the executors credited themselves with $296,972, leaving $633,760 for distribution. Under Ince's will the estate was divided equally among his widow and three sons, William T. Ince, 21 years old, Thomas H. Ince, 18, and Richard Ince, 14. Under a provision that Ince's widow should not marry for seven years after his death, Mrs. Herbert's fourth share will be placed in a trust fund and only the income will be available to her. She recently married Holmes Herbert, motion picture actor.

THE REV. B. J. OTTEN OF ST. LOUIS U., DIES

Author and Theologian Succumbs of Shock After Stomach Operation.

The Rev. Bernard J. Otten, S. J., author, theologian and professor in the School of Divinity of St. Louis University, died in St. John's Hospital today of shock following an operation for a stomach ailment with which he had suffered for many years. He was 68 years old.

Father Otten was a prolific writer on theological subjects, his four volumes on dogmatic theology being used as textbooks in many schools. They are written in Latin. He also wrote a "Manual of the History of Dogma" and numerous popular pamphlets.

He was a native of Westerlock, near Hanover, Germany. His parents moved to the United States when he was a boy and settled near Florissant. After completing a college course at St. Mary's College, in Kansas, Father Otten entered the Jesuit order at Florissant, later studying theology at Woodstock, Md. After his ordination in St. Louis in 1900, he took a special course in theology in Valkenburg, Holland. For five years he taught in the School of Philosophy of St. Louis University and was on the faculty of the School of Divinity for 16 years. Father Otten was well known as a Lenten lecturer.

He is survived by two brothers, the Rev. John Otten of Sacred Heart Church, Florissant, and George Otten, a resident of Florissant.

The body will lie in the south parlor of the university administration building, 221 North Grand boulevard, until Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock, when funeral services will be held in the College Church. Burial will be at St. Stanislaus Seminary, Florissant.

SICK MAN HANGS HIMSELF IN HIS ROOM AT HOTEL

H. G. Sidebottom, Chicago Salesman, Strangles Himself With His Suspenders.

Herbert G. Sidebottom, about 40 years old, a salesman for a Chicago poster advertising company, ended his life last night by hanging himself in his room on the eighth floor of the Mark Twain Hotel, where he had been a guest since April 13.

His body was found shortly after 8 o'clock this morning when a bellboy entered the room to deliver a note informing him of a telephone call to which he did not respond last night.

Sidebottom had looped a pair of suspenders about his neck and attached them to a hook on the top of a closet door. The hook was so low that he had to bend his body to throw its weight on the suspenders and with his knees two inches from the floor he strangled to death.

Hotel employes said he had been ill and had been visited several times recently by a doctor. Shortly before 9 o'clock last night he answered a telephone call from Chicago, but a half hour later failed to respond to another call.

For New Effects in Tinting Lingerie

favored by famous Paris couturiers

HOME tinting is now done in a new way. Lingerie looks fresher, newer than ever before.

An exclusive German formula makes all fabrics "take" the color quickly and evenly—no streaking or spotting. Mere "surface tinting" cannot equal its results.

By this method, known as New INSTANT RIT, colors are made clearer—and even daintiest pastel tints last through extra washings.

INSTANT RIT dissolves completely in 40 seconds.

Lingerie	Curtains
Hosiery	Children's clothes
Dresses	Scarfs, gloves, etc.

At your druggist or department store. 15c per package.

WHITE RIT—Color Remover
(Harmless as Boiling Water)

Any color, even black, completely removed from all materials by WHITE RIT (color remover). Also takes spots and stains from white goods—even ink, fruit, perspiration, rust, etc. Restores "yellowed" or "grayed" white goods to original whiteness.

INSTANT RIT

Tints or Dyes All Fabrics, Any Shade
Note: ALL RIT is INSTANT RIT whether so marked on package or not.

Texas Murderer Executed.

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., May 22.—Jordan Scott, Negro farmer of Moody, Tex., was electrocuted at the penitentiary here early today for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pedigo, his white neighbors, March 7, 1929. Scott made a lengthy statement as he stood before the chair, admitting guilt, expressing remorse and asking for divine forgiveness.

THINKS HOOVER NEEDS 'A DASH OF MUSSOLINI'

Percival Chubb Addresses Banquet of the Missouri State Dental Association.

President Hoover needs "a dash of Mussolini" so badly that a blood transfusion ought to be arranged with the Italian Premier, Percival Chubb, leader of the St. Louis Ethical Society, said last night at the banquet of the Missouri State Dental Association at Hotel Jefferson.

"They should be brought together," he urged, "in the hope that it will help matters. Washington now is nothing but a chaos of mediocrity—such a mess that we ought to call a garbage wagon to clean it up."

This lamentable state of affairs, he said, was the result of the tendency to specialize in particular jobs to the exclusion of other interests which means leaving the business of government to those professionally concerned. Democracies are no longer democracies when run that way, he declared.

Characterizing the Federal prohibition of liquor as "the rash and mistaken noble experiment," he credited it with being one of the important causes for the unusually rapid and recent change in the way the American people look at things.

"Time Off" and "Leisure."

Americans have confused "time off" with "leisure," he said, and distinguishing sharply between the two, asserted that most Americans have no idea of how to use their time in a way of true leisure. True leisure, he pointed out, is cultural and uplifting, while time off is merely what its name implies, time off to rest up for more work to be followed by more time off.

He summed up by saying that in this time of revaluating values none is more important than "a revaluation of the relation between work and leisure, between specialism and culture, and between the job and the man."

The convention of dentists, their sixty-fifth, which opened Monday and has an attendance of 1200, will close today. Scientific sectional meetings on various phases of dental work were continued with members of the association and out of state visitors in charge.

Dr. A. Werner, St. Louis, speaking of ductless glands and their relation to teeth, predicted the not far distant future would disclose the active principles of all ductless glands. "Then we will know definitely why individuals differ in growth, development, mentality, psychic equilibrium and energy production," he said.

Dental Health in Schools.

Accounting for "some delicate mechanism by which the autonomic life functions of the body are kept within normal limits of equilibrium," he said, "the Creator wisely did not leave these processes and functions to our own volition. If they were under our conscious control, we probably would not live a day."

In a description of the dental health education program in operation for 12 years in the Peoria schools, Dr. C. Carroll Smith, director of the work, described the public school as "the great avenue through which the benefits of dental health are to reach the people. Conscientious consideration of preventive dentistry in child life, he said, will bring "the reward of service well directed through helping to mould the future of a generation that will be more physically fit, mentally alert and visually perfect."

Dr. Virgil Loeb, professor of stomatology in Washington University, in a lecture on oral hygiene, declared it unfortunate the impression prevails that the use of a dentifrice is one of the most important factors in the proper care of teeth.

"This impression," he said, "comes from the advertising campaign conducted by the manufacturer of tooth pastes, mouth washes, etc. In many instances the statements made in the advertisements of these preparations, are misleading. There has not as yet been discovered anything which will prevent decay and pyorrhea alveolaris, the two most common diseases affecting the teeth and their supporting structures."

Dr. Edgar H. Keys, St. Louis, retiring president who presided at the banquet, has been named one of the delegates to the seventy-second annual meeting of the American Dental Association July 21-25 in Denver. Other delegates: Drs. James Harper and Walter M. Bartlett, St. Louis; A. J. Thompson, the new president, D. D. Campbell, and Roy J. Rinehart, Kansas City, and W. W. Brown, president-elect, Joplin.

Dr. E. L. Pilkington, Detroit, Mich., visiting lecturer on ceramic dental work, thinks St. Louis ought to know that the first dentist to make a porcelain jacket crown was Dr. C. H. Land, Detroit, Col. Lindbergh's greatuncle.

Injury to Aviator Fatal.

TULSA, Ok., May 22.—Jimmy Youngblood, 25 years old, Dallas, Tex., aviator, died in a Tulsa hospital Monday night from injuries suffered Sunday when his biplane fell from an altitude of 500 feet near Garland airport, southeast of here. Youngblood's ship went into a spin when he apparently attempted too steep a bank in the face of a strong wind.

HIGH GRADE COFFEE
GROUND STEEL CUT
IF you're not satisfied with the coffee you get at home, there's an easy way to better it.
Just stop in at the grocer's on the way home tonight and carry away one of those celebrated blue tins of Maxwell House Coffee.
Each steaming cupful of this famous blend from the Old South you will find surpassingly fragrant, inimitably rare and mellow in flavor. You will realize how certain restaurants have achieved their reputations for rich flavored coffee.
And you will understand why a President of the United States once said of this wonderfully smooth-bodied blend—"good to the last drop."

GOOD to the LAST DROP
There is only one blend of Maxwell House Coffee. The quality that has made it famous is always the same and there is always the same net weight of coffee as specified on the friendly blue tin, no matter where or from whom you buy it. SINCLAIR-PRAIRIE OIL MERGER 'STILL ALIVE'

Head of Corporation Tells Stockholders That Consolidation Deal Is Progressing.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Negotiations for the merger of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation with the Prairie Oil & Gas Co., have not been dropped, but are "still alive and progressing," Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the former corporation, asserted yesterday at the annual stockholders' meeting.

The deal with Prairie Oil, which would create a corporation with assets close to a billion dollars, has been in progress several months. At various times it has been reported under consideration by attorneys, and yesterday it was said that inability to agree on the exact terms of exchange was holding up matters for the present.

The deal was brought a little nearer to consummation when stockholders approved an increase in the authorized common stock to 20,000,000 shares from 10,000,000 shares to provide for possible expansion and other corporate purposes.

MET WOMAN TO ADVISE HER, MAN ARRESTED EXPLAINS

Frank Rayne Says Mrs. Kite Was Consulting Him on Her Domestic Difficulties.

Frank Rayne, 4036 Maffitt avenue, a city sanitary inspector who was arrested Sunday on complaint of John Kite, 4539 Arnold avenue, when Kite found his wife and Rayne in an automobile in O'Fallon Park, explained today that Mrs. Kite was separated from her husband and had arranged to meet him to seek advice on her domestic difficulties. He said he has known Mrs. Kite since she was a child.

Kite charged Rayne had a pistol in the automobile, but the Circuit Attorney's office declined to issue a warrant. Rayne said he had never owned a pistol and could not account for the presence of one in his automobile.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, May 22.—The Browns made it two victories in a row over the Cleveland Indians by winning this afternoon's game.

The score was 3 to 2.

Heine Manush, who received notice of a suspension before yesterday's game because of his run-in the day before with Umpire Vangraflan at Detroit, was reinstated overnight and was back in his regular position in left field.

Another good crowd took advantage of a sunshiny day to watch the teams in action. The crowd was estimated at 6000.

Manush dropped a double in short left, scoring Blue, but Hale was out at the plate, Goldman to L. Sewell. THREE RUNS.

CLEVELAND—Holshouser went to the mound, Manion behind the bat and O'Rourke to third for the Browns. Burnett batted for Goldman and Holshouser tossed him out. Holshouser deflected Brown's smash to Melillo, who threw him out. Morgan doubled to left. O'Rourke threw out J. Sewell.

BOSTON, May 22.—Manager Bill McKechnie's hopes of solving his third base problem soared yesterday when the Boston Braves obtained the services of Charles "Buster" Chatham from the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League in exchange for Infielder Eugene Robertson, another player to be selected later, and an unrevealed cash consideration. Chatham was described as a finished infielder and a good hitter.

BABE RUTH HITS THREE HOMERS, SIX IN 2 DAYS

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—Babe Ruth continued his record-smashing feats of home run hitting today by hitting two homers in the first game against the Athletics and a third in the second inning of the second contest.

The third homer of the day and the sixth in two days brought his total for the season up to 12. It tied him with Hack Wilson of the Chicago Cubs for major league leadership.

Jack Quinn was pitching against the Yankees when the Babe hit his third homer today.

Although Ruth's feat did not break any of the recognized records for home run hitting in consecutive games, it established a mark of some sort for a two-day period. The Babe's string was broken in the second game of yesterday's doubleheader when he could get no better than a single.

The accepted marks for home run hitting in short periods are five for three consecutive games, which Ruth has made on two occasions and several other players have equalled once, and five for two consecutive games, set by Cap Anson in 1884 and equalled by Ty Cobb in 1925.

Lou Gehrig followed the example of his more illustrious teammate by hitting a homer with the bases full in the first inning of the second game and another in the fourth with one on base. The two blows brought his total up to nine.

FAIRMOUNT RACETRACK, May 22.—Four horses came down to the wire heads apart at the finish of the first race on this afternoon's program, and Lloyd Geving pushed Lemnos' nose out in front for the decision. Mortana was second, The Moon third and King Bank fourth, all noses apart.

The start of the opening race was excellent, the field of nine getting in a perfect line. At the far turn, The Moon had slight advantage, but as they wheeled into the stretch, three others pulled up on even terms, and they were running as a cavalcade through the last sixteenth. Lemnos had most speed in this struggle and earned a nose victory. A winning ticket paid $19.46 for $2.

The favorite was again beaten in the second race when Woodgain, carrying huge bundles of "wise money," finished fourth while Fortunate Mann won in a close finish from Watchword. King Halma, an importation from the wilds of Tulsa, was a fast moving horse in the early part of the race and hung on gamely to finish third.

Ann Clay Pays $54 for $2.

The Audley Farm gave the public a look at a classy 2-year-old in Ann Clay, a filly by Wrack-Abbatissa, which took the third race from such favorites as Atlas, Master Halligan and Nervator. Ann Clay, making the third start of her career, was virtually left at the post when the barrier was sprung, but Jockey Callahan had her in full stride before the others had gotten very far ahead and he caught them on the turn. In spite of being boxed up, Ann Clay kept improving her position, Callahan finding a hole on the outside, and when free she came with a flash of speed which enabled her to overtake Master Halligan and Broad A. The latter two finished second and third, noses apart. The winner had shown nothing in her two previous starts and therefore attracted little support in the betting. She paid $54.04 for $2. The time for the five furlongs was very good, 1:02.

Morocco, making his first start here, captured the fourth race by outlasting Royal Yeoman of the Audley Farm stable in the mile and 70 yards struggle. Balroma, coming with a rush in the last quarter, finished third just a nose in front of My Scoop. The latter was given a rousing ride by J. D. Mooney, the boy who will ride Ned O. in the Derby Saturday. Braggadocio, forced wide all the way around, could not overcome the disadvantage of lost ground, but with better racing luck would have been a factor. The winner, ridden by T. Swigert, paid $11.34 for $2. My Scoop was the favorite.

LOTT SHUTS OUT MEXICAN DAVIS CUP PLAYER

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—George Lott of Chicago this afternoon defeated Ignacio de La Borbolla of Mexico, in three straight sets, 6—0, 6—0, 6—0. Opening the second round of Davis Cup competition in the American zone.

Alternating his hard back-court volleys to the side and base lines with unanswerable smashes at the net and soft topped shots to the fore court, Lott scored frequent placements and forced Borbolla into error after error.

Not until the fifth game of the first set did the Latin gain a deuce. Lott then won the game with two neat placements. In the fifth game of the second set, with the Latin needing but a single point for game, Lott ran out five straight points. He turned the same trick in the final game of the third set.

In the last set the Mexican forced Lott into harder play, but he was no match for the Chicagoan.

IOWA U. TO MAKE ANOTHER PLEA FOR SUSPENDED ATHLETES

By the Associated Press.

IOWA CITY, Ia., May 22.—University of Iowa athletic officials have not given up hope of gaining reinstatement for eight of the 14 athletes disqualified for borrowing from an alleged slush fund.

An appeal to the Western Conference Faculty Committee on Athletics, which almost a year ago ordered Iowa expelled from the Big Ten, will be presented Friday at Chicago. Mike Farroh, who was elected co-captain of the 1930 Hawkeye football team, will be taken to Evanston, Ill., Thursday with the hope he might be reinstated to throw the discus for Iowa in the Big Ten track and field championships Saturday.

By the Associated Press.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., May 22.—Alabama, which captured the Southern Conference basketball title, followed with a fine baseball record and a claim to the league baseball championship. The Tide won 15 victories and dropped three games. Oglethorpe University of Atlanta, with 11 straight victories, led the nonconference schools.

SYDNEY THRILLS RAILBIRDS BY FAST WORKOUT FOR THE DERBY

CAMDEN RACER CLOCKED FOR SIX FURLONGS IN 1:12 3-5

FAIRMOUNT RACE TRACK, May 22.—There really is something to this Fairmount Derby, Saturday, other than Gallant Knight and Ned O.

Johnson N. Camden's bay gelding, Sydney, which did not go to the post at Churchill Downs, had his first serious workout here this morning, and he went so fast over three-quarters of a mile that Trainer Howard Stearns had the boy pull him up at a mile. Sydney was timed by "The Owl," the jockey club's official clocker, in 1:12 3-5 for six furlongs and he hit the mile post in 1:41 2-5, eased up.

When it is recalled that the fastest time made in actual competition over six furlongs at this meeting in 1:13, it will be seen that Sydney was really showing lots of what the railbirds call "lick," otherwise speed.

Of the other derby candidates, Gallant Knight appeared best. He was sent a mile breezing in 1:42 2-5. There was no effort made to extend him.

Ned O. was merely sent out for an airing. He was clocked for the three-quarters in 1:19 3-5. By Product was galloped a mile.

Reveille Boy and Good and Hot had their work late Wednesday. Reveille Boy went a mile and a quarter, the Derby route, in 2:12 2-5, while Good and Hot caught at 1:58 3-5 for a mile and an eighth.

Reveille Boy appeared to have a great deal more in reserve at the finish than Good and Hot, which is representing the Meadowbrook Stable. The R. C. Stable's Longus was given a very brief exercise gallop of a quarter of a mile.

If he does not get a real work this afternoon, he may be put in the "doubtful starters" class.

The track was fast, probably in better shape than on any previous day of the meeting.

Beaumont Hits 20 Safeties and Defeats Soldan

In the biggest farce in the City High School League baseball season, Beaumont smothered Soldan, 21 to 12, yesterday afternoon at the Public Schools Stadium in the concluding game of the first round.

Yesterday's result makes the pairings for the tournament which begins Saturday Roosevelt against Cleveland and Soldan against Beaumont. The winners of these games will meet on May 31 for the championship.

Twice during the nine innings was Beaumont retired in order, although Coach Harry White used six pitchers, the first time coming in the third inning and the other in the ninth. Oscar Mahens, the sixth Soldan pitcher, sent three Beaumont batters back to the bench via the strike-out route in the last frame.

It may have been that Bob Kalbitz and his mates were too weary to lift their bats to swing in the last inning. Kalbitz made two home runs and two singles in five times at bat to lead the Beaumont attack of 20 safeties.

Soldan was not without its share of slugging, since Wilbert Siesennop and Bill "Red" Jones smashed homers, but failure to keep up the barrage cost the West Enders the game. Soldan lacked punch to send in runs, because there were runners on base in every inning. However Kalbitz, who relieved Harry Hannagan, received some splendid support in the pinches.

Barney Passer was the fielding star of the day, throwing out Schroeder at the plate in the second inning and doubling Bob Fuller off first in the fourth on a spectacular catch of Bernie Walsh's looping drive.

Happy Days.

SUNNY JIM is back again
On that old first sack again,
The peaky pill he'll crack again,
Happy days are here again.
With his thumb once more in trim,
Likewise that old batting glim,
Keep your eye on Sunny Jim,
Happy days are here again.

With Sherdel and Haines in shape,
From the fact we can't escape,
Those Birds are apt to bust the tape,
Happy days are here again.
Form is running true again
We've a winning crew again
Skies above are blue again,
Happy days are here again.

Strategy.

The way Hack Wilson scratches around the plate like a rooster digging for worms you'd think he was going to make a scratch hit. Then he crosses the opposition by making a home run.

Hack might get even better results if he used starting blocks for his batting stance.

If the management could guarantee that Hack would be called out on strikes at least once during the game they could advertise it as an added feature. Hack's reaction to a called third strike is alone worth the price of admission.

But he's a great guy. Don't let 'em tell you any different. At the time this was written he was 12 up on the Elgin Watch Co. and 122 to play.

If Hack was a left-hand hitter he might give Babe Ruth something to worry about. But the short right field fences are not for him.

With Rogers Hornsby and Bell both back in the game the Cubs played what will probably prove to be their worst game of the season.

"Packs Seeks Clinstock or McMillan."

Might try the lost and found column.

See where the I. A. A. F. has accepted Eddie Tolan's mark of 9 5-10 for the 100-yard dash. Indicating that Eddie ran in the face of a gale.

"Detroit City Official Fired, Rehired, Faces Ouster Again."

His name wouldn't by any chance be Finnegan would it?

Thanks to the Robins and Cardinals it's a bird of a race in the National League.

So I'm Told.

THE horse may make the jockey,
Or, the jockey make the horse,
But Gallant Fox and Sande
Were a great combining force.

Quite So.

But on the fifty-sixth renewal of the Whatcha-may-call-it we don't believe that if Gallant Knight and Gallant Fox had traded jockeys the result would have been much different.

When you consider how little tea it takes to make a potful for a big family we come to the conclusion that the Americans were not fighting so much over the money involved as the principle of the thing.

St. Louisans Get Awards.

ST. MARYS, Kan., May 22.—Two St. Louis residents were among the 13 members of the St. Mary's College track team to receive their awards for the season just closed, it became known here today upon announcement of the lettermen by the Athletic Board. They are Adrian Dwyer and Howard Zeuchel. Both are freshmen. Dwyer, a distance runner, proved to be a consistent point-getter for the Knights, specializing in the mile and half-mile events. Zeuchel is a pole vaulter. In addition to his track activities Zeuchel will also receive his letter for tennis.

Breadon Confers With Keyser, Night Baseball Pioneer; May Install a Plant at Houston

By John E. Wray

Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

E. Lee Keyser, president of the Des Moines baseball club of the Western League and pioneer in the development of night baseball, was in conference yesterday and again today with President Sam Breadon, trying to sell his night baseball idea to the Cardinals. Only the minor league farms of the Cardinals are under consideration at this time, Houston's park being the particular objective of Keyser's drive.

After the conference today Breadon told a Post-Dispatch representative that he was interested but would not be in any hurry to adopt night baseball for his Houston park. "The proposition needs careful consideration and there are a lot of angles to it. I will not take snap judgment on the matter," he added.

Keyser is associated with the General Electric Co. in the installation of night plants. It was under the direction of Keyser, working with the electric company's engineers that the present lighting system was evolved, after a year of experiment. The success of Drake University with its night football games gave Keyser his first inspiration.

"I determined to try out my plan on the dog, which was myself," Keyser, who is a St. Louis boy by the way, told the Post-Dispatch. "We worked for months over the problem of complete lighting and we have solved it. Our present plant lights the space above the entire field to a height of 400 feet. The batteries of flood lights, consisting of groups of 1000-watt lights projected in beams, are mounted on steel towers, some of them behind the grand stand, some on the side of the field, and others in the outfield. The beams criss-cross so that there is no shadow cast and the lights arranged so that there is no glare in the fielders' eyes.

"Night Light Better Than Daylight."

"A ball hit into the air is lighted on ALL sides and as a result, there is actually a better visibility than in the sunlight, where the illumination is only on the side turned toward the sun, with a shadow on the under side. I am convinced by experience that the baseball's visibility is better under night lighting than in daylight."

Keyser's experience at Des Moines is illuminating—in two ways. Here is his reaction to the night baseball as based on the Des Moines club's adventure into this pioneer field:

"My players have found that the lighting helps their hitting and in no way hampers their fielding," Keyser observed. "They say fly balls are easier to field than in daylight because there is neither a high sky nor sunglare to fight. The hitters say, and their averages show it, that they see the ball better by artificial light. The completeness of the lighting satisfied me. There are a few make shift night lighting systems being tried in some parks, but they are inadequate and one should not judge by such efforts the possibilities of night baseball under satisfactory light conditions. A properly equipped plant costs $20,000 and involves the use of about 150 lamps of 1000 watts. The electricity bill for this is only about $25 a night and is therefore not prohibitive.

Daily Attendance Quadrupled.

"From the attendance standpoint I have quadrupled my week-day attendance and it will continue. I have won back two classes of patrons that were lost to us under daylight conditions. One group was the golfers, who would rather play golf than watch baseball but who still would like to see baseball. The other group is the skilled working men who cannot afford to take time off for three hours in the afternoon and lose from $1 to $1.75 an hour.

"Night baseball won back these fans, at Des Moines. Few realize the attendance conditions in minor leagues today. We play to only about 40,000 attendance a year at home. The average is less than 50 cents a head, of which the home club receives only a part. My week-day attendance will average, under daylight conditions, 300 daily or fewer; and that won't get us by. Some days we hardly have anybody present. Notwithstanding that I sold about $25,000 worth of baseball players last season, the club did no more than break even.

"A club like Tulsa, winning a pennant, drew only about 35,000 persons and lost money on the season.

"The night game will save us, or nothing can—that's my deduction and that was the reason I have taken my cue from football to follow it up.

"Omaha in our league is trying the night system, and I look for all the minor leagues to take it up. I don't know whether the major leagues are ready for it, but I do know that every major league park ought to have a lighting plant. One exhibition game at night between major league clubs would pay for the entire plant, which can be used for all sorts of night events—soccer, fights, athletic meets, etc. Almost every form of sport event, even to trap-shooting, has been tried out under the night light system. To me it would not be surprising if a big revival of sports formerly held in daylight would be made possible by night lighting."

Illinois Golf Team Wins Two Big Ten Titles

EVANSTON, Ill., May 22.—Both team and individual Big Ten championships in the royal and ancient game of golf today belonged to the Divot Diggers wearing the Orange and Blue of Illinois.

Dick Martin, pint-sized Illinois Junior who wears glasses off and on the golf course, held the individual crown while he and his three Illini golfing mates also stowed the Big Ten championship trophy among the many athletic souvenirs won by Illinois athletes.

Coming back with a pair of 75s in the final two 18-hole rounds at the Westmoreland Country Club Course yesterday, Martin snatched the individual title from Jarvis Hicks, Michigan sophomore, and Bob Kepler, another sophomore from Ohio State, by a single stroke. His total for the two-day tournament over the heavily trapped course was 305.

Great or Lucky?

WINNING the Derby is a feat that gets a lot of advertising, but it doesn't necessarily stamp the victor as a champion. Many Derbies have been won by secondary three-year-olds in years when the title was won by a noncontender or even by a horse beaten in the "darby."

Blue Larkspur last year ran fourth behind Clyde Van Dusen, but he turned out to be a truly great three-year-old, winning $153,000 in one season.

Man O' War and his sons, Crusader and American Flag, all were three-year-old champions who never ran in the Derby.

Morvich was unbeaten as a two-year-old and won the Derby his first start as a three-year-old; but he was a flop thereafter.

Winning the Derby and winning the three-year-old crown are not at all the same. And so we come to the question of whether Gallant Fox is a champion or just a Derby winner? Was he lucky in having an ordinary field to beat?

The Answer Comes Later.

GALLANT FOX won without being pressed. His time, even considering the track condition, was nothing to become enthused about. His competition was second rate; yet there is still an impression that he had plenty in reserve.

In his present prime form he is the best horse in the field and, until he meets a reverse, he will have to be regarded as a near champion. He has undoubted ability to carry on for a greater distance than 1¼ miles. His next major test will be at one and one-half miles, in the Belmont Stakes. Perhaps the Whitney pair will be starters in this race and then Gallant Fox will have to show all that he has in reserve.

A defeat of Whichone and Boojum would give Gallant Fox the championship. Almost all rivals that might have a claim to recognition, on their two-year-old form, have developed faults. Flying Heels, one of the really great youngsters of last year, failed to mature properly and did not gain in size or weight. Desert Light also failed to come back to form and suffered defeats twice at the hands of the Fox, one of them this season. Dedicate failed, Spinach did not develop—and so on through the list.

It will be up to Whichone to stop the rush of Gallant Fox to the forefront as the horse of the year.

Derby Slipping?

INDICATING the steady decline of interest in the Kentucky Derby, the official figures on the amounts wagered on Derby day at Churchill Downs are very disturbing to racing promoters.

When it was published that the total turnover for Derby day was not the expected $2,000,000, but only $1,641,949, and that the amount wagered on the Derby itself was only about one-third the total sum, it was pointed out that financial depression and unemployment accounted for this.

But one reads a different story between the lines of the figures published by the Courier Journal of Louisville, showing amounts wagered on the Derby in previous years. Here are the amounts wagered on the Derby and the total for the day, as far back as 1926:

Year.	Derby.	Total.
1930	....$582,384	$1,641,949
1929	 676,106	1,785,440
1928	 620,793	1,889,200
1927	 676,483	1,934,262

The decline in the total volume of betting for the past five years seems to mean a falling off in attendance, especially that of out-of-town visitors. It is certain that St. Louis in the last three years has not sent as many persons to Louisville for the Derby as formerly.

Other Derbies Gain Prestige.

THE Kentucky Derby will henceforth have a battle to retain its prestige on a par with several other events of growing consequence. The American Derby, the Arlington Classic and the Belmont Stakes are the closest rivals of the Churchill Downs feature.

Of them all the real prestige ought eventually to be accorded to the Belmont derby, or "stakes," because it is at the derby distance of one-and-one-half miles and comes at a time when all 3-year-olds will have had time to round into condition.

WORK OF PITCHERS WORRIES CUB LEADER

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The conduct of Chicago Cub pitchers is causing Manager Joe McCarthy no end of worry as June 15, the time when all cuts will have been made, approaches.

McCarthy is carrying an even dozen servers now, and three of them will finish the season elsewhere. The five regulars, Pat Malone, Guy Bush, Hal Carlson, Sheriff Blake and Charlie Root, are almost certain to remain, although only Carlson and Root had winning percentages today.

The recruits still possessing Cub uniforms are Art Teachout, Al Shealey, Bill McAfee, Lon Warneke, Malcolm Moss, Bob Osborn and Lynn Nelson.

300 ATHLETES TO COMPETE IN LITTLE 19 MEET

By the Associated Press.

PEORIA, Ill., May 22.—Ten of the 15 Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference track and field records have been tied or officially broken during the current season by the army of 300 track men from 23 Illinois Colleges who will clash at Bradley Tech tomorrow and Saturday in what promises to be one of the greatest Little Nineteen track meets in history.

Three teams that finished at the top of the heap last year, Knox, defending champions; Bradley and Lombard, are the favorites to win the championship, but experts also give Monmouth and Illinois College an outside chance for high point honors.

Knox will send four outstanding men, including Tennery, shot putter; Sherman, quarter miler; Captain Henry Taylor, defending champion in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and Elliott, 880-yard runner, into competition.

The Bradley Tech team will be fighting for its third Little Nineteen title of the season. The Red runners won their sixth consecutive cross-country title last fall, the basketball five won its first cage title since 1913, and the baseball nine is setting the pace for this year.

Led by Captain John Russell, high jumper, the Peorians also will be strong in the pole vault, hurdles, broad jumps and distance runs. Lombard's squad, in the Little Nineteen competition for the last time.

Two present titleholders, Ted Harpstrite of Milikin, javelin thrower, and Lynn Hess of Wheaton College, distance runner, are expected to withstand the threats of competitors in their favorite events.

COUNTRY DAY ATHLETES BREAK TWO RECORDS IN TRACK MEET

TAYLOR FIELD, May 22.—Record-smashing began early in the annual Preparatory School League track and field meet here this afternoon. New marks were set by Country Day runners in the 120-yard high hurdles and in the 220-yard low hurdles, among the first six events.

Schlapp of Country Day clipped five-tenths of a second off the high hurdle distance when he was timed in 17.5 seconds. A teammate, Morton, ran the low hurdles in 27 seconds, which is one second faster than the old time.

The results:

120-YARD HIGH HURDLES—Won by Schlapp Country Day; second, Silva, Western Military Academy; third, Brumby, McBride. Time—17.5s. (A new record.)

100-YARD DASH—Won by Bell, Country Day; second, Morton, Country Day; third, Courtney, St. Louis University High. Time, 10.3s.

MILE RUN—Won by Schmeid, Christian Brothers College; second, Kromer, McBride; third, Elms, Western. Time, 4m. 58s.

SHOT PUT—Won by Niehaus, Western; second, Conlon, McBride; third, Thompson, Country Day. Distance, 42 ft. 8½ ins.

440-YARD DASH—Won by Richards, Country Day; second, Courtney, St. Louis; third, Ashenden, Western. Time, 55s.

220-YARD LOW HURDLES—Won by Morton, Country Day; second, Curran, St. Louis; third, Schmidt, St. Louis. Time, 27s. (A new record.)

JAVELIN THROW—Won by Morton, Country Day; second, Niehaus, Western; third, Lehman, Country Day. Distance, 139 ft.

DISCARDED PLAYERS STAR AT THIRD BASE FOR SAN ANTONIO CLUB

By the Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 22—The climate of San Antonio apparently agrees with discarded third basemen.

Last season Jodie Tate, presumably having worn out his usefulness with the Dallas Steers, was given a tryout with San Antonio and he made good at the hot corner with a bang. He led the batting race for several weeks, and continued to hit the ball hard until August when he slumped a bit.

HUMBOLDT, Sask., May 22.—Thousands of fish, smothered to death by the heavy blanket of ice and snow which shut out air from the water during the winter, were found on the beaches of Lake Burton, near here, when the ice melted.

C. B. C. Defeats Western, 10-5, In Prep Battle

The Christian Brothers' College tossers assured themselves of at least a tie for second place in the final standing of the Prep League baseball race yesterday when they defeated the Western nine, 10-5, in a league game played on the Concordia diamond. The contest was the semifinal one of the season for the Brothers, and gives them a record of five victories and two defeats in the league, while St. Louis U. High, in third place, has won three and lost three. The Junior Billikens must win both of their remaining games, therefore, and the C. B. C. outfit must drop its remaining tilt in order for the two teams to finish in a tie for the runnerup position.

NINE CHAMPIONS DEFEND HONORS IN BIG SIX MEET

LINCOLN, Neb., May 22.—The classic of the "Big Six" spring athletic season—the conference field and track championships—will center the attention of Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma and Nebraska collegians and their followers here tomorrow and Saturday.

Nine champions of 1929 are entered in the galaxy of stars from the six institutions. These luminaries, defenders of honors won at Ames last year, are: Hursley, Missouri, 440-yard dash; Lamson, Nebraska, 120-yard high hurdles; Carmen, Oklahoma, low hurdles; Fortune, Kansas, two-mile run; Faytinger, Nebraska, javelin; Tomson, Nebraska, broad jump; Ossian, Nebraska, and M. Soults, Iowa State, pole vault; Shelby, Oklahoma, high jump.

Judged from a viewpoint of early season prowess, Nebraska and Kansas are regarded as finalists for the 1930 title. Near records, or perhaps new marks in several events are a possibility.

Standing records that now seem certain to be shattered are the mile relay, shot-put, discus and high jump, with the Missouri quartet expected to compile a new relay mark.

In the Weights.

Jim Bausch, all-around Kansas behemoth, or Hugh Rea of Nebraska grid fame, are seemingly certain of a new shot-put record, while Thornhill of Kansas and Shelby of Oklahoma, may take discus and javelin honors with new marks.

Sprint stars expected to ring up 9 and 8-10 seconds in the 100 and 21 4-10 in the furlong, include Meier of Iowa State, indoor champ; Smutney and Stefan of Nebraska; Welsh and Jackson, Missouri; Sickel and Klaner, Kansas; Atkinson, Oklahoma, and Elwell, Kansas Aggies.

Keither Hursley, outdoor and indoor champ, and Missouri ¼-milers expected to ring the bell in the 440-yard event, with others in the foreground such as Ulfers, Dills of Missouri, Beardslee of Kansas, Fuhrodt and Ostergaard, Nebraska, and Abbott, Oklahoma.

Faytinger of Nebraska will defend his javelin laurels against a heavy field, with such threats as J. Rausch again looming in the foreground.

KNOCKS OUT GILBERT IN THIRD ROUND; KADERBECK WINS

The South Broadway A. C. and the Olympian A. The results:

Missouri Enters 15 Athletes in "Big Six" Meet

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 22.—Fifteen University of Missouri track team members, accompanied by Coach H. J. Huff, entrain tonight for Lincoln, Neb., where they will compete in the annual outdoor Big Six track and field championships Saturday. Holding little or no hope for a team championship, the Missourians are, nevertheless, very much in the running for individual titles in three or four events.

Two of the Tiger entries, Capt. Keith Hursley in the 440-yard dash and the Missouri mile relay team, composed of Hursley, Dills, Ulffers and Welch, will be among the defending champions. Hursley and Dills are the only two remaining members of the 1929 championship mile relay team, but Ulffers and Welch, sophomores, have added speed to the quartet that has enabled it to best times made by last year's mile team.

The Tiger relay quartet is undefeated this year, as is Hursley in the quarter mile event. Rockwell Swartz, Tiger half miler, and Ostergaard, Nebraska, are expected to make a dual affair out of the half mile run. In two races this year the pair have split even. Swartz was second in the outdoor championships last year.

Owsley Welch, sophomore low hurdler, has shown decided improvement in his event all spring and is rated by Coach Huff as likely to place in the 220-yard low hurdles.

100-Yard Dash—Owsley Welch, Chillicothe; Charles King, Dallas, Tex.; Russell Dills, Albany; Capt. Keith Hursley, Kansas City; Hal R. Austin, Mount Vernon, and William F. Jackson, St. Louis.

220-Yard Dash—Welch, King, Dills, Hursley, Austin and Jackson.

440-Yard Dash—Welch, King, Dills, Hursley, and Carl A. Ulffers, Kansas City.

880-Yard Run—Rockwell Swartz, Columbia, and Ulffers.

Mile Run—Rockwell Swartz; Dick Swartz, Columbia, and J. G. Mitchell, Columbia.

Two-Mile Run—Dick Swartz, and Mitchell.

220-Yard Low Hurdles—Welch, Austin, and Lee Williams, Mount Vernon.

BROAD JUMP—Estill McGuire, Palmyra, and Howard I. Lawler, St. Louis.

Javelin—McGuire.

High Jump—Mack Gladden, Turley, and Charles Huhn, Independence.

Discus Throw—Luther Kilgroe, Hot Springs, Ark.

Mile Relay—Welch, Dills, Ulffers, Hursley, King, Austin and R. Swartz.

Battery Is Released.

Manager Jess Altenburg of the Hamilton (Ontario) League team, released a battery last week, Catcher Gingerella and Pitcher Boutte.

PAST WINNERS TO COMPETE IN MADISON RACES

Fourteen winners of their last engagements are listed among 80 racing greyhounds scheduled to go to the post in the 10 events of tonight's competition at the Madison Kennel Club. Two of the 14, namely Golden Sheen and Spalding Brutus, are scheduled to compete in feature attractions, while the others are distributed over the balance of a well-matched card.

Golden Sheen, winner over Sly Boots, Sugac and other fast speedsters in a closely contested debate over the five-sixteenths route last Tuesday night will be pitted against some exceptional routers in Santorb, Bendigo, General Harry and Jerry in a three-eighths mile race, fifth on the program, with Chance Taker, Hilcourt's Fancy and Pat Connelly rounding out the field of eight starters.

Spalding Brutus engages a crack field of futurity sprinters in the tenth and though the De Bernard Kennel veteran covered the futurity in 0:29 2-5 on a slow track to win his last effort he faces a more strenuous task tonight with the fast-breaking Hargento starting from the one box, and Louis Meadows, Armed Man, Kerry News, Banjo Encore, Alloon and Dr. Harry, all top-notch youngsters, lining up on his right flank.

Banjo Encore indicated in his last two races that he is approaching the form he displayed last year when he hung up five successive triumphs. Louis Meadows also displayed excellent form in winning his first start of the season a week ago, though he failed to place in his next race, relinquishing third place to Alloon on the home stretch. Dr. Harry, a running mate of Cashoo in the Houghton Kennel of Chicago, covered the futurity course in 0:29 flat in a victorious sprint last Friday night.

Air Capital, winner of his last two races, steps out in the ninth to match his speed, stamina and cunning in a five-sixteenths mile jaunt with Hawke's Gold, Winnie O'Groats, Poleen, Rush Forth, Judann, Vulcan and Cappy Ricks.

Other winners of their last starts entered are: Betty Gray and Sunny Land, competing in the eighth, Moving Trigger, Jovial Scamp and The Lobster in the sixth, Bobby Burr, Three In One and Seascape in the third, Jap Rose, Cantonian King and Scramble in the second.

The NEW JOHNSON RUNABOUTS

$270 to $1065 Complete

MATCHED UNITS with New-Type Boats Scientifically Engineered for Outboard Motors

Rope-Started or Electric-Started

The new Johnson runabout gives you constant entertainment—makes water motoring a new delight. None of the restricted cruising range of inboard motor boating. Now glide through any waters, (even shallowest streams) with speed and comfort, with assurance in its performance.

Johnson Boats are made of a new process ... 35% stronger, 50% lighter than comparable boats, and guaranteed to outlast them. They cannot leak or warp—bailing and caulking are ended. Lighter, they give greater speed for horsepower. Outboard equipped, they give 33% more usable space.

Johnson Sea-Horse Motors are now electric starting with auxiliary rope-starting—in the 3 larger models. Rope-starting for smaller models is simplified by Alternate Firing. Two sparks per revolution instead of one give instant firing—vibration is cut in half.

Powerful propeller steering means control in any situation—in a tideway or at landing. Tilting propeller avoids obstructions that endanger inboard motor boats.

Even shallowest waters are navigable with Johnson Sea-Horses.

Johnson Matched Units—the two new Aquaflyers for instance—have all the comfort of comparable inboard boats, none of their disadvantages, and cost but a fraction as much. They start at the push of a button. Steers with automobile wheel with controls conveniently grouped.

See Johnson Aquaflyers—other Matched Units—and Johnson Boats and Sea-Horse Motors at any Johnson dealer. Write us for new catalog illustrated in color. Prices for Matched Units $270 to $1065—motors $125 to $395, f. o. b. factory.

AIR-FLIGHT TIRES by FISK

-ride on AIR-FLIGHT

7 Air-Flight POINTS OF SUPERIORITY

which create a new tire era

E. E. DEARTH, Engineer
Creator of Air-Flight

This revolutionary tire is the creation of the famous tire engineer, E. E. Dearth. It is the crowning achievement in his long and brilliant list of tire successes.

Utterly new in principle, this super tire combines new, unrivaled riding comfort with tremendous mileage. Never before have these two prime tire qualities been united in one tire.

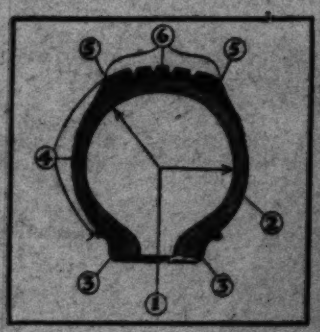
With the new AIR-FLIGHT you ride on more soft, buoyant air. The car fairly floats over the roughest roads. Road shocks are cushioned.

The new AIR-FLIGHT also makes steering easier . . . gives greater traction . . . insures faster pick-up . . . assures quicker brake action.

Yet it costs no more than old style tires.

Seven exclusive Fisk advancements give you a larger air chamber, much greater strength and far more flexibility than was ever before offered in any tire.

See this new-type tire at the store of your nearest Fisk dealer. You'll find this dealer to be thoroughly reliable and courteous—the type of dealer you like to do business with. He is a responsible, independent merchant—anxious to please you because he wants your future business as well as today's order. Fisk tires are always sold by this type of merchant.



1 Large Air Chamber—Your car rides less on the rubber—more on the air.
2 All-Cord material reduces internal friction and adds strength without rigidity or weight.
3 Multiple Cable Bead gives added strength at the rim while increasing side-wall flexibility.
4 Increased length of Flex area at the side-wall provides greater use of the air cushion.
5 Rim-width, streamline tread, eliminates the useless overhanging tread rubber and allows greater air-cushioning.
6 Greater Road Contact—results in better and longer lasting Non-Skid qualities.
7 The AIR-FLIGHT Balance.

200 GOLFERS TO START IN HIGH SCHOOL TOURNEY

Nearly 200 players have entered the second annual high school golf tournament conducted under the auspices of the St. Louis District Golf Association, which takes place Saturday morning at Woodlawn Country Club, Kirkwood.

The tournament is an 18-hole medal play event, and in order to get the large field under way the committee in charge, composed of Elliott Whitbread, Missouri amateur champion, and Sidney Salomon Jr., has decided to start play at 7:30 o'clock. Some of the players will start from No. 1 tee and some from No. 10.

The school which has the lowest score for four of its members will win the team trophy, and the members of the team need not be designated in advance of the play, but each school may choose its team after the scores are in.

Arthur Kippenberger won the tournament last year while University City captured the team trophy.

Cook A. C. Plays Academy Tonight

The neighborhood rivalry which has tended to make the Twilight Soccer League games extremely close affairs reached a climax tonight in the meeting of the Cook A. C. and the Academy A. C. On the occasion of their previous meeting four weeks ago, the Academys slammed through two goals in the first 10 minutes of play, both by Ellison, and the Cooks came back to tie the score before the end of the first half. The game ended with the count 2-2.

Tonight's game, to be played at Sherman Park, will be refereed by George Corrigan. Play will start at 6:30 p. m., instead of 6:15 as heretofore, the later sunlight permitting a later start.

The league is now confronted with a serious problem in the handling of the crowd. Over-eager spectators line the boundaries of the field and encroach upon the actual playing field. About 1800 witnessed Tuesday's match in which the German Sports Club was held to a tie by the Dolans wha obtained their lone goal on a penalty kick.

STAGG'S TRACK MEET TO BE LIMITED TO PUBLIC HIGH SCHOOLS

CHICAGO, May 22.—The University of Chicago's annual national interscholastic track and field championships will be limited this year to public high schools, Coach A. A. Stagg, has announced.

The Academy division, part of the meet for many years, has been dropped. The next, which will be run off May 30 and 31 on Stagg Field, has attracted an entry list of 34 schools from 14 states.

"Not Parity but Inferiority."

Seconding Admiral Schofield, ear Admiral J. M. Reeves of the eneral Board told the Foreign elations Committee he was "in accord" with the statement of e board favoring the eight-inch ns.

He declared Great Britain would have a superiority of both eight-inch and six-inch cruisers during the life of the treaty, and thereafter, "when we are supposed to have parity, the United States will have 337,600 tons of cruisers built and building and Great Britain 425,000 tons."

"This is not parity," he said, "it is an inferiority that imperils our commerce."

Senator Demands U. S. Build Up to Treaty Provisions.

The first discussion of the treaty in the Senate broke out yesterday with Senator Walsh (Dem.), Massachusetts, calling for consideration of "the difference between parity in sea power" and "parity in combat vessels."

Walsh demanded appropriations for combat vessels followed by the treaty and asserted "we have only begun to solve the problems of parity when we approve the pending treaty."

Statistics compiled by the Navy Department and submitted by Walsh were intended to show that in order to obtain parity in sea power, "we must immediately consider the question of building a merchant marine sufficiently large to be a naval auxiliary in time of war equal to that of the other nations."

British merchant marine vessels total 18,000,000 tons, the statistics showed, while United States merchant vessels total 9,000,000.

Baldwin Consents to Demand for Hearing on Treaty.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 22.—Stanley Baldwin, former Conservative Prime Minister and leader of the Conservative party, was joined today with those back-benchers of his party who have questioned the merits of the London naval treaty.

Notice has been given in the House of Commons of a motion calling for appointment of a select committee of 11 members of the House of Commons to examine and report upon proposals contained in the treaty.

The motion stands in the names of Stanley Baldwin, Sir Austen Chamberlain, Winston Churchill, who has been most vociferous in denunciation of the pact, and others.

The motion, it is believed, represents a compromise between the more extreme Conservatives and those of Baldwin's camp who have been felt to favor the treaty as it stands. The former group Saturday gave notice of a motion declaring part three of the treaty—which refers to limitation of auxiliary craft—as contrary to the interests of the British Empire.

Conservative hostility to the treaty has been growing the last few days, and it seemed today that Baldwin and his fellow leaders had been forced to take this action in order to placate the back-bench followers, with whose attitude toward the treaty it was understood they disagreed.

The "back-benchers" number more than 100 out of the Conservative House membership of 260.

RUMANIA FOR YOUNG PLAN

By the Associated Press.

BUCHAREST, May 22—The Rumanian Chamber yesterday ratified the Young plan legislation and Paris agreements. The Young plan already has gone into effect by virtue of previous ratification of Germany and four Allied Powers.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, May 22.—A bill authorizing German participation in the scheduled Young plan up to $1000,000,000 has passed the Reichstag on all three readings without debate. The first loan being floated by the new Bank for International Settlements will be for $300,000,000, and $100,000,000 will go to Germany for internal improvements.

Gandhi, From Prison, Writes He's Happy and Taking a Rest

He Is Permitted to Sleep in Open and Servant Is Assigned to Him—Says Health Is Good.

By the Associated Press.

BOMBAY, May 22.—Intimate details of the prison life of Mahatma Gandhi, interned leader of the civil disobedience movement, were made known today in a letter which he wrote to Miss Slade, alias Mira Bai, at Ahmadabad ashram, intended for the eyes of all inmates of the camp.

Gandhi says:

"I have been quite happy making up my arrears of rest. The nights are cooling and I am permitted to sleep right under the sky. I have a refreshing sleep.

"I am giving as much time as I can to the takli (a hand spinning wheel). I find I have no speed on it at all. I hardly get 30 rounds in one hour. For the first day I gave nearly seven hours to it, reaching 160 rounds. I was washed out at the end of the performance. I must learn the trick of getting more speed. My health is all right. I rise at the ashram hour (4 a. m.). I am given a light so that I can read the Gita, according to our custom.

Recovering from Exhaustion.

"I am gradually recovering from my exhaustion. I rest regularly from eight in the morning to 12 noon and thus get two or three hours' sleep during the day. I gave up oranges during the march but have begun taking them again here. On the first day I took raw goat's milk and am continuing it for the present. I take three pounds (daily).

"I shall have to reduce the quantity a little or take it in the form of curds. In the morning, also, I take cold water instead of hot. They give me full facilities for making it hot, but if the body can be maintained by cold water, why bother about hot water? I have left off honey. The goat is milked in my presence so there is no question of the cleanliness of the milk.

"I have been given a man for cleaning vessels, et cetera. There is no reason for anxiety about my diet."

Letters to His Family.

Writing to his wife, the Mahatma says:

"How nice it was that I saw you and all the sisters on the evening previous to my arrest. I was able to go with you up to your residence, which gave me much pleasure. God's favors pour down upon us as rain from heaven.

"None of you should get nervous or troubled."

In a letter to his son, Davi Dás, he says:

"I don't know where you are. but there is a God above to take care of us, so let us not worry about one another."

CHANGES IN U. S. EMBASSY STAFF IN MEXICO CITY

A. B. Lane Returns as Counsellor and Maj. Lowry Is Charge d'Affaires Temporarily.

Copyright, 1930, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co. (The New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

MEXICO CITY, May 22.—Herschel V. Johnson, first secretary of the United States embassy in Mexico City, has departed for Washington, where he will succeed Arthur Bliss Lane as chief of the Mexican department at the State Department. Lane will return to Mexico City as counselor of the embassy. Maj. E. P. Lowry, second secretary of the embassy, today assumed the duties of Charge d'Affaires, which have been in Johnson's hands. He will serve as Charge d'Affaires until Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow returns to the Mexican capital, which is expected to be on or about June 25.

Lowry formerly was in the consular service. He held a post as Consul first at Guadalajara and later a similar position here. A year ago he was transferred to the diplomatic service and received his first appointment. During the negotiations that led to settlement of the conflict between Mexico and the Roman Catholic Church he acted as confidential go-between for Ambassador Morrow with the Catholic prelates.

Lowry is a native of Paris, Ill., and Johnson is a North Carolinian.

LEAGUE SIGNS AGREEMENT ON USE OF WIRELESS STATION

Apparatus in Normal Times to Be Under Direction of Radio Swiss Co.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Switzerland, May 22.—The League of Nations and the Swiss Government yesterday reached an agreement whereby the League, in times of emergency, will have complete control of a wireless station for communication to all parts of the world.

Sir Eric Drummond, in behalf of the League, and Joseph Motta for Switzerland signed a convention providing for construction of this station, which in normal times will be under direction of the Radio Swiss Co.

Sir Eric, secretary-general of the League, acted under instructions from the last Assembly. Officials think this means of direct and rapid communication with member states will greatly strengthen effectiveness of the League's intervention when grave disputes threaten.

BRITISH SOLDIERS ORDERED TO STOP INDIAN SALT RAIDS

Detachment Sent to Depot at Dharasana — Heretofore Only Police With Clubs Have Stood Guard.

OFFICERS DESTROY NATIONALIST CAMP

Give Occupants at Untadi 15 Minutes to Leave and Charge Those Who Still Remain.

By the Associated Press.

BOMBAY, May 22.—British troops from Hyderabad Regiment were sent today to the Government operated salt depot at Dharasana to prevent further raiding by Indian Nationalist volunteers.

Simultaneously Nationalist headquarters there announced the next mass raid would take place Sunday. Hitherto only police, some armed, but principally with staves, have been depended upon to maintain order at the salt depots.

Police and troops raided the Nationalist camp at Untadi, near Dharasana, and destroyed it, remaining in complete control of the area. When the police and military arrived at the camp, they gave the volunteers 15 minutes to leave, which most of them did. Those who persisted in staying were charged by the police with staves and many arrests were made.

Salt Siezed at Wadala.

At Wadala 100 raiders divided themselves into two groups and were arrested. Of a second party 18 were arrested but the rest succeeded in getting away with some salt.

The British Government issued a statement saying that only three or four of the Nationalist volunteers injured yesterday in the clash with police during the raiding at Dharasana were injured seriously. The Government estimates 2600 volunteers took part in the raid.

The Communique adds that the All-India National Congress estimated the total number of seriously injured at 170. Other estimates are as high as 634. Injuries received by police were limited to bruises and scratches.

A report from Peshawar says severe casualties were inflicted by British bombers on the forces of the Haji of Turangzai, which have remained in a threatening position near the Indian border since beginning of the present unrest.

Run on Bank Loses Force.

A run on the Bank of India, begun yesterday, continued today, with the number of persons withdrawing their deposits somewhat smaller. The directorate of the bank issued a statement that the manager had not participated in the police action in raiding Congress headquarters here or at Dharasana and Wadala but the statement had little effect on the Hindus.

K. F. Nariman, president of the local congress committee, who was arrested yesterday during a raid on the All-India National Congress headquarters, was sentenced today to four months' simple imprisonment. Other officers were sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment.

Sir Purshotamdas Thakurdas resigned his seat in the legislative assembly in obedience to a recent mandate of the Indian Merchants' Chamber and Bureau, whose representative he is in the assembly.

Mrs. Mahatma Gandhi and V. J. Patel, former president of the Indian legislative assembly and new leader of the civil disobedience movement, arrived here to make plans for the future of the campaign.

SENATE ADOPTS MEASURE TO HALT RAILWAY MERGERS

By Vote of 46 to 27 It Passes Resolution Suspending Consolidations Until March 4.

HAWES AND FESS OPPOSE PROPOSAL

Bill Also Prohibits Control of Lines by Holding Companies Except With Approval of I. C. C.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Senate adopted by a vote of 46 to 27, yesterday the Couzens' resolution to restrict railroad consolidations until next March 4 and to make illegal the exercise of joint control through holding companies or otherwise without the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The vote followed a long debate in which Couzens (Rep.), Michigan, author of the measure, assailed the operations of holding companies and demanded a curb on unifications "until Congress can legislate further."

Opposition to the resolution was voiced by Senator Hawes (Dem.), Missouri, and Senator Fess (Rep.), Ohio, who asserted it would suspend execution of a consolidation plan Congress has commanded the Interstate Commerce Commission to make, and was an "affront" to the House, which is now investigating holding companies.

The resolution specifically would suspend authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve any unification or consolidation which, except for the commission's approval, would be in violation of anti-trust laws.

Some Exceptions Made.

Amenments by Senators Swanson (Dem.), Virginia, and Glenn (Rep.), Illinois, accepted by Couzens before the vote was taken, provided that he resolution should not prevent acquisition or control of steam or electric railroad properties commonly classified as short line railroads, required as a condition to any other acquisition of control previously or in the future authorized by the commission.

Couzens also accepted an amendment by Senator Connolly (Dem.), Texas, providing that no unification, merger or consolidation should be authorized which did not require continued operation of general offices and shops where previously located, or adequate and continuous compensation for removal.

Aimed at Great Northern Plan.

The resolution would prevent unification of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railroads under the commission's general plan for consolidations. That unification was assailed in the debate by Senators opposing as well as supporting the measure. Senator Hawes asserted, however, that it should be dealt with in some other manner.

The resolution would direct the commission to prescribe, in approved unifications, conditions to prevent dismissal, lay off or demotion of employes, and to insure compensation of employment privileges lost or expenses incurred through transfer.

STIMSON OPPOSES FILIPINO SELF-RULE

Says Islands Should Be Kept Under U. S. at Least 30 Years.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 22—Hearings on various Philippine independence bills before the Senate Territories Committee, were concluded today with the statement from Secretary Stimson that a minimum of 30 years should bet set as a period of American occupancy.

Stimson, former Governor-General of the islands, said he thought independence now would be disastrous to the islands and would cause unsettled conditions in the East.

Stimson said he favored ultimate independence for the islands, if they desired it, but added that he thought it should come only after they had reached economic solvency under American supervision.

He testified as a former Governor-General of the islands. He said he concurred in the opinion recently expressed before the committee by Secretary of War Hurley, who also opposed immediate independence.

Stimson and Senator Hawes of Missouri, co-author of one of the bills under discussion, had an exchange after Stimson asked to be allowed to make his statement without interruption. Hawes said he was not so sure he could refrain from interruption.

Stimson then said he would refuse to proceed, as it was not fair for the committee to interrupt him. Hawes agreed to let the hearing proceed, but he said he would interrupt if he thought it necessary.

Manuel Roxas, Speaker of the Philippine House of Representatives; Juan Sumulong, minority leader of the Filipino Senate, and Camilo Osias, resident commissioner, attended the hearing.

English Earl "Enjoyed Visit to America Very Much."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Among the passengers on the Mauretania, which sailed yesterday, were the Earl of Derby and his daughter-in-law, Lady Maureen Stanley.

On the pier Lord Derby said: "I have enjoyed my visit to America very much, and have been treated with wonderful courtesy." Asked if he expected to enter a horse in the Kentucky Derby next year, the Earl appeared dubious. "I don't know about sending horses over," he said, "but I hope to return soon again."

M'DONALD TO SEEK CONFIDENCE VOTE IN LABOR RANKS

Failing to Win This Tonight at Party Meeting, He Probably Will Call General Election.

CRISIS RESULT OF EMPLOYMENT ISSUE

Another Test Expected Next Week When Commons Discusses Motion to Cut Pay of Minister.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 22.—The Ministry of J. Ramsay MacDonald, second Labor Government in the history of Great Britain, girded itself today for a fight for existence.

It is expected that at a meeting of the Parliamentary Labor Party this evening the Prime Minister will ask for a vote of confidence in the Ministry's unemployment program. Failing to achieve it, he probably will ask King George to dissolve Parliament and then will take the question to the country.

The situation is the outgrowth of the resignation of Sir Oswald Mosley, Labor convert from Conservative and Independent ranks, as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, after MacDonald and the Ministry had failed to indorse plans put forward by Sir Oswald for handling of unemployment.

Crisis Due to Unemployment.

The resignation has brought to a head the dissatisfaction with the Government's failure to decrease the number of men without jobs and materially to better conditions among them. As strong as is this dissatisfaction among the ranks of the opposition it has reached something like mutiny among the left wing members of the Labor Party itself.

It was thought in Government circles that the Parliamentarians meeting tonight would give MacDonald a vote of confidence, for going to the country in a general election under the cloud of the unemployment discussion would greatly lessen the party's chances at the polls.

Another Test Soon.

But, assuming that the Government gets safely over tonight's hurdle, it has another big fence to clear next Wednesday when the unemployment problem is discussed on a conservative motion to reduce the salary of J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister for Unemployment, this being the traditional method of calling to account the efficiency of a department head.

In this discussion the usual Liberal support may be lacking for David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, has made the price of continued support a Labor pledge for elec-

Support for State Institutions.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I HAVE been interested in the importance which you apparently attach to the statement of the 1000 economists on the tariff question. In one editorial you quote Dr. Wilcox to the effect that no eminent economists were opposed to this viewpoint, and headed the editorial "An Unanswerable Argument."

I wonder if you would reach the same conclusion with respect to other current economic questions. For example, you have consistently supported the report of the State Survey Commission and pleas for adequate financial support for State institutions. Yet you have seemed to hedge on the question of the income tax, or any change in taxation which would result in the city man paying a proportionately larger share of the funds to be derived for the above purposes. If it could be said that all economists of standing in or out of Missouri would favor the tax recommendations of the commission would you agree that this was an "unanswerable argument"?

If the Post-Dispatch and other papers in the State should take this viewpoint, the problem of caring for the financial needs of our sadly neglected State institutions would be much less difficult.

Busses and Service Cars.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

ALDERMAN STUDT'S bill to abolish service cars, dump 400 more men into the army of unemployed and give a monopoly of regular route passenger transportation to a single holding company should and will be defeated.

R. W. Meade, president of the People's Motorbus Co., contends that the service cars cause traffic congestion. That's the biggest joke of the season! Imagine a giraffe poking fun at the goose's long neck. Let any interested citizen station himself as an eyewitness along Washington avenue during the peak of traffic rush, then write his own ticket.

Why doesn't Mr. Meade try eliminating service car competition with a superior service instead of legislation? It is more than evident that many St. Louis people actually prefer service car transportation, otherwise these cars could not operate under the expensive, exacting requirements of the recently enacted service car regulatory ordinance. Some of us feel that that drastic ordinance was an intended blackjack for the slaughter of service car operation. It missed its mark, and now another swing is made through the Studt bill.

I suggest the wisdom of each utility standing upon its own legs instead of taking snipe shots at competition through legislative ambush.

BUSINESS AND GOVERNMENT.

There is behind the spectacle of Grundyism a moral that ought to be impressive.

It is not suddenly that the country has come to such a pass. Ever since a warring world deluged us with its gold we have imagined prosperity to be something that government makes. The presidential campaigns of 1924 and 1928 reduced this fallacy to such an absurdity that there was no political issue. Mr. Coolidge stood for election as the prophet of prosperity, and when he was elected by a majority of some 7,000,000 votes we naively assumed prosperity to be assured. In the four years that followed before Mr. Hoover's nomination there was a gradual decline from that golden zenith to which we had been levitated by the war, but we were too full of the delusion that prosperity is begotten by political fiat to notice what was happening. Thus Mr. Hoover succeeded Mr. Coolidge as the apostle of prosperity. Everything else in the campaign was like chaff before a tornado. Mr. Coolidge had said that the business of the Government is business, and the country promoted Mr. Hoover from his post as Secretary of Commerce to tighten up and make efficient what Mr. Coolidge had put together. It was the impression of the country that Mr. Hoover's administration would be a sublimation of Mr. Coolidge's administration, or Coolidge prosperity without the waste.

Plato had said 2500 years before that "ruin follows when the trader rules." By this he meant that business is not a proper governing power. Its outstanding characteristic is acquisitiveness, and if given its head it will take whatever it can. Business cannot be blamed for this. It is so with everything. The church has for the same reason been separated from the state. Monarchies may be of men, of money, of faith, of what you will. Democracy is the antithesis of autocracy. It postulates a nice balance of all the elements and interests served by government. In the case of Col. Frank L. Smith, who was elected to the United States Senate from Illinois chiefly by the aid of the public utilities, the question of his fitness did not relate to his ability as a Senator. He is an able man, experienced in public affairs. The Senate barred him because he came there, not to serve the balanced interests of the people of Illinois, but to serve an industry. This is the point. The Senate in that case made a distinction which the country must make if we are not to put business in charge of the Government.

It goes without saying that business is, indeed, one of the prime affairs of the Government; but it is only one. It is not, as Mr. Coolidge attempted to say, the business of the Government. Nor can government alter the law of supply and demand. It is only to a point that prosperity can be the creature of politics. The Emperor Trajan made Rome more prosperous by conquering Dacia and making its metals available to the empire. The Spanish and the English have both enriched their peoples with imperial politics, the gold of America, the riches of India. But an industrial civilization must sell to those whom the imperialist plundered. That is what has made the tariff to our exporting nation a totally different thing than it was during our domestic expansion. When the void of manufactured goods created by the World War was filled, industry faltered everywhere. The world needed time to consume the artifacts poured into this vacuum by our own country, Great Britain, Germany, Japan, etc. It waited for discovery to give us more things to make that everybody would buy. That is the state of affairs today. It will improve, but politics cannot improve it. Discovery must bear the brunt of the revival. Whether there is a Republican or a Democrat in the White House cannot affect such a situation, unless he is an inventor. Either would be powerless to make the world buy what it does not yet need. All that any political party can do is to tinker with the tariff. That might be useful if, as England did after the Napoleonic wars, we realized that our debtors can pay us only in goods. The overemphasis of business in the Government puts us in the absurd position of saying to the rest of the world that it cannot sell us its goods, but must still pay us its money.

Grundyism is the symbol of government in business. The trader has come to rule, and he proposes ruin. He wants to ruin our foreign trade. He wants to ruin our foreign investments. He wants to ruin the American political ideal of free trade among the states and set up between them what approximates the tariff walls of Europe. He proposes to increase the cost of living in the United States a billion dollars a year. That live-and-let-live policy with which we should conduct ourselves toward all the peoples of the earth, a policy which would expand our foreign markets and so enrich us, the trader proposes to abandon. He is doing only what any other interest would do if we surrendered the Government to it. It is not the trader's fault. If he were unlike that, he would not survive in a world of trade. It is our fault, a punishment inflicted upon us by our own folly. We have forgotten that democracy is a nice balance of all the interests and elements served by government. We have thrust everything else aside and have said to business: "You run the country." Enter Grundyism.

Have we learned our lesson? Or is the next presidential campaign to be as hollow and nonsensical as the last two, with an even ruder awakening?

HUMORS OF THE BECKER PRESS.

The Rolla (Mo.) New Era says the Post-Dispatch hates everything rural, and we can hardly wait from one week-end to another to get to the country.

We are very fond of things rural, particularly in that loveliest of all hill countries which we call the Ozarks. We would much rather be floating one of those spring-fed streams, casting for bass, than sweating and toiling in this big city. The mere thought of driving from here to Rolla even makes our hearts bubble.

What, in truth, we do not like is the machine our Secretary of State has largely built up by distributing largess to the rural press. We do not believe the rural press, which is usually quite free to fight for good government, should be used in that way by Mr. Becker or any other politician. His public conduct in the case of Young Bros. was indefensible, but to prove our point the Becker newspapers have generally defended him.

To assume from this that we are not fond of things rural, and that lamp posts and filling stations are to us the same as waving grain and croaking frogs, is as much beside the point as it is untrue. The New Era knows that, as do all the other Becker newspapers. What is more important is that the people of Missouri know it, or will know it. They have found Mr. Becker out, and in good season they will put him out.

THE DARK ORIENTAL SKY.

Apparently China is sinking deeper and deeper into chaos. No sooner had Chiang Kai-shek, head of the dominant party, declared that China had been unified and constructive work would begin than another rebellion broke out. The Nanking Government has its hands full fighting the allied forces of Gov. Yen and Gen. Feng. Constructive work is postponed again, bandits kill and loot and famine rages.

While armies fight under war lords for political advantage, millions are starving and it is futile to attempt relief. The Red Cross quit relief work in outlying provinces because it could not employ enough agents to distribute food nor trust Chinese officials to do it. Grover Clark, one of the best informed newspaper men in Pekin, after a trip through Shensi Province, said 2,000,000 had died from starvation, 2,000,000 more are doomed and several millions are on the edge.

Mr. Clark emphasizes the hopelessness of relief. Food cannot be obtained in other provinces but if it could or if relief stores could be brought from elsewhere, it could not be transported. There are no means of transportation and if there were the bandits would get the food intended for the starving.

There are several causes for famine. Drouth is one, exhausted soil another, over-population is the persistent and greatest cause. There is an enormous excess of man power over labor opportunities. China needs educational opportunities and the Chinese are enthusiastic for education, but China needs particularly practical education in science, engineering, mechanics. The need is for railroad builders and operators, high road builders and factory constructors and operators for industrial and economic development to absorb labor and supply necessaries.

Education is hampered by poverty. There is little chance for education and culture among people who labor from dawn to dusk for a pittance that barely keeps soul and body together.

While these deplorable conditions and pressing needs exist, the young, educated Chinese are devoting their time and energy to political aims. They want control of the Government and the Government jobs. Of course, they are professedly working for lofty ideals.

A strong obstacle to either political unity or economic development is the complete indifference to co-operation among the Chinese. The Chinese are so absorbed with family interests that they have neither time nor care for common interests. In the vast population, mostly illiterate, there is little or no national spirit and no inclination to co-operate beyond the family or the small community.

The Chinese people have excellent native capacity and it is unthinkable that so great a people with a splendid past, will not work out a solution of their problems, but it will be a long road to stability. Anything may happen and with China in chaos and India in revolutionary turmoil the Oriental sky is dark. It darkens the Western sky. What happens to one-half the population of the earth must seriously affect the other half.

EXIT UNCLE JOE.

The voters of Pennsylvania do not seem to feel that Uncle Joe Grundy altogether expresses them. He has been defeated in the primaries and at the expiration of his term within a few months he will leave the Senate.

To think harshly of Uncle Joe would be to despise the instruments of political progress. Except for him the tariff would not now stand so low in public esteem. When Uncle Joe was a lobbyist he could get only so far; but when he became a Senator he got so much farther that he at last brought down upon himself and his law the wrath of almost all the people who had formerly supported the tariff. He will live on in our folk lore as a variation of the man who corrupted Hadleyburg.

Uncle Joe upset the applecart, and not all protection's men can ever pick up the apples and put them back in those tempting rows which for a long time beguiled us.

THOSE MIGHTY CARDINALS.

Our own Cardinals are the sensation of the National League. Inspired by the glory and grandeur of other days, when they were even world champions, the Cardinals have pulled themselves together and won 12 of their last 13 games.

A good many guesses have been made in this difficult matter of what makes a winning baseball team. Our notion about it is that since other things are pretty equal, the spirit the Cardinals are displaying right now is what does it. When they go out to the park they paw dirt, bellow and are impatient to get at the opposition. (Freud, page 634.) The effect upon the opposition of such a superiority complex is remarkable. Even the puissant Cubs, with great gladiators like Hack Wilson among them, hid in their dugout when the Cardinals came on the field. Result: The Cardinals took three of the four games just played with the Cubs. They are now in second place, if you please, outhitting, outfielding and outgaming any team in the League.

It is, of course, the spirit of St. Louis. Some of the eminent psychologists on the team, such as Prof. Sunny Jim Bottomley, Ph. D., S. W. A. T., A. M. or P. M., recall that it was not his plane that put Lindbergh into Paris.

THE COUNTRY'S GREAT PUBLIC FORUM.

Unanimously and without debate, the Senate approved the appointment of Owen J. Roberts to the supreme bench. This was in marked contrast to the stormy fight against Hughes and to the 10-day battle resulting in the rejection of John J. Parker. Critics of the Senate claim that body to be almost pathologically jealous of its own importance, but the charge is not borne out by the facts. In the appointment of Parker, the Senate sensed politics, and it fortunately contains among its membership a commanding group of men who do not intend to let politics invade the Supreme Court. Roberts' selection was a good one. It was the kind of appointment Mr. Hoover should have made in the first place, and the Senate was quick to acquiesce. We owe the Senate a debt for its guardianship of public institutions. It is our greatest public forum.

DROPPING THE PILOT.

A British View of Gandhi's Arrest

Incarceration of Indian leader will not make it any easier for British to negotiate with malcontents; Gandhi viewed as not effective political leader, for people will not obey him; as spiritual leader, however, he has hold on masses; hope expressed for his release, so he can use his courage and good will constructively to aid country.

From the Manchester Guardian Weekly.

MR. GANDHI has been arrested. The first question which comes to all our lips is simply, "How will the news be received in India?" We doubt whether any British official or any Indian politician would care to risk a confident prediction. The workings of the newly awakening mass mind of India are still mysterious and incalculable. A rude shock may discourage and deaden or it may stimulate the quickening consciousness to anger.

All we know is that Mahatma Gandhi's name is revered by illiterate and superstitious millions as the name of a great ascetic saint in a land where religion tells of ascetic saints more powerful than governments or gods. As to the intelligentsia, many of them will, of course, regard the arrest of India's chosen leader as a new insult to Indian nationality.

Undoubtedly, on all sides there are dangers. But the balance of probabilities makes it possible to hope that the arrest will have no startling consequences. The average educated Indian may be expected to acquiesce reluctantly, recognizing that Mr. Gandhi had, indeed, succeeded in making it impossible for the Government to leave him at liberty. The villagers and the town mobs used to reason differently. The fact that the Sirkar is, after all, not afraid to arrest the saint may still be a weighty argument with them.

If the question, "What will India do?" comes first in our thoughts, that is because our minds are already made up about that other question, "Is it politic or right to arrest this saint?" If there are any in this country who hold that the time has already come when Great Britain ought to surrender her control over India, Mr. Gandhi's arrest will seem to them only one more link in the chain of inevitable wrong.

But if we believe that Great Britain is bound to retain responsibility and power at least till the question of Indian readiness or unreadiness to stand alone has been fully and freely debated at the London conference, then we can hardly doubt that Lord Irwin's Government could not avoid proceeding against a man whose recent activities were designed not merely to secure the abolition of the salt tax but to subvert the authority of the Government of India. Besides, though Mr. Gandhi is still true to his creed of nonviolence, he has indiscreetly allowed himself to convey the suggestion that cowardice is worse than violence, and that if a man feels himself incapable of nonviolent heroism, then rather than shun the conflict he had better strike.

It would be affectation to make a show of horror at the prospect of consigning Mr. Gandhi to gaol. Mr. Gandhi has been there already, and he has shown that a man of his simple tastes, habits and virtues can be tolerably comfortable and tolerably happy in an Indian gaol. And, indeed, gaol life may be far more conducive to the health of Mr. Gandhi's body and soul than the strain of attempting to lead a nonviolent agitation in an atmosphere of violence and in the height of the Indian hot weather. Yet we must sincerely regret that the Government of India should have been brought into conflict with a man of Mr. Gandhi's character.

Nevertheless, we do not think that it would be possible for the Government of India to negotiate with Mr. Gandhi in gaol or outside it. Some contend that Mr. Gandhi's chief or sole political aim is to abolish Indian poverty. But that is also the chief aim of the Government of India. Only, since the Government of India has been engaged on the work for a century and more, it has come to realize that Rome was not built in a day. After all, schemes for the abolition of Indian poverty require to be framed by expert economists and expert administrators. Mr. Gandhi is neither the one nor the other, and his schemes seem more likely to make poverty universal than to abolish it. We are confident that no Swarajist Government of India would accept them, and we cannot expect the British Government to do so.

Besides, even if Mr. Gandhi is not himself committed to the doctrine that Indian poverty can be abolished only by a self-governing India, it is quite certain that what the intelligentsia wants is not any specific economic reform or group of economic reforms, but quite simply self-government. Except when he acts as the spokesman of the intelligentsia's demand for self-government, Mr. Gandhi cannot surely be regarded as India's political leader.

The effective force of his spiritual influence with the masses should not be miscalculated. It is not a constructive political force. It is strong only for destruction—weak for construction. Like many other religious leaders, Mr. Gandhi has found that to glorify his name the masses will do everything—except carry out his instructions.

So let him rest in peace—for a little while. We doubt his wisdom, but we do not doubt either his courage or his good will. We trust that he will soon again be free to do useful work for India. Meantime we can only hope that the temporary removal of the Mahatma from the Indian stage may make it possible for practical men of common sense and good will to get on with the business of the play.

The Simon Commission report will soon be before the world. That will give the British view of the problems involved in the establishment of self-government in India, and at the London conference the British Cabinet will, no doubt, base their tentative proposals on the Simon report. The Nehru report, which attempted to give the Indian view of the same problems, was not a very convincing document.

If Indian politicians wish to move the British Cabinet and the British Parliament to go beyond the view of the British experts, they will have to base themselves on something more solid than the Nehru Constitution, and produce better proof of political common sense and a capacity for political organization than can be discovered in the inception and conduct of the campaign against the salt tax.

The fundamental thing that the author seems to be really striving for is not only to give a picture of the life of the people of a par- icular period, but to understand soul of humanity at any time. hen he departs from authenticated documents in depicting the his- ory of Thomas his aim is to give better understanding than if he ad remained in rigid accordance with them. Often, as Friedell has pointed out, legend mirrors the life of a time better than the bare facts pertaining to actual events. This explains the introduction of the "Rosamond and Her Bower" story as an integral part of the narrative.

This little book should prove a delight to those readers who are just a little weary of naturalism and the more recent cult of realism. Its truthfulness of observation, its realistic plasticity in description, its style, so singularly pure and polished, and above all its perfect structural form, are qualities not very prevalent in contemporary fiction.

VISA TO FRANCE. By Berry Fleming. (Doubleday-Doran.)

This novel will probably be mentioned in connection with Thornton Wilder's "Cabala" and Norman Douglas' "South Wind," for in addition to having a certain outward similarity to those works it is obviously the product of a mind that is not too much bemused with transitional phenomena.

The author calls this a "frivolous novel." Perhaps he means it is frivolous in the sense that the characters in Balzac's Comedie Humaine are comic. Or perhaps he means that for a reader who takes it too rapidly it will undoubtedly seem to be a light-minded book about a group of relatively insignificant people. In that case the reader would share the conclusion of Clement Train, the American, who came to Les Planches to write a book, but who went away empty-handed because nothing he saw seemed to be worth writing about.

Train unpacked his typewriter and started looking for a French heroine that would fit into a thesis he had already conceived. During the month that he conducted his fruitless search he encountered the Italian with the long beard, the American girl who constantly wore a beret, M. Perrichard, the boulevr. the half-witted boy who always heard the bells when somebody was going to be drowned, the New York lady who couldn't forgive herself for not being English, M. Le Maire, Mlle. Curie, and so on. He suspected that any one of those persons might have a story about him, but in the end concluded that it was all just a counterpoint of trivial themes.

But don't suspect that Mr. Train was stupid. He simply didn't have vitality enough to follow a single strand to the bitter end. And so he never quite understood the depth of Mrs. Barret's tragedy, nor the manifold reverberations of Signor Imperiali's character, nor the neat little punctilio that Mr. Pullstone observed even in the midst of his adultery.

One of the things that Mr. Fleming seems to say in this book is that facts are nothing and their significance everything. He not only says it but demonstrates by taking the materials that Train rejected and making them into a work of art. For "Visa to France" is almost a handbook of the artistic method in literature. Moreover, it is written with a distinction of style that derives from a delicate use of words both for their sound and meaning and a quiet, pervasive humor.

This reviewer wishes the author hadn't chosen the machine-gun method of projecting Mrs. Barret's thought wher she was pondering the strange emptiness of life toward the end of the book. But that defect did not prevent it from being a book that was always interesting and often profoundly moving.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, May 22.

THE Bowery's curling economic question mark—the breadline—is thinning now that warm weather has arrived. Thousands of the shuffling figures who clotted at mission doors at dusk for hot coffee and a free flop have taken to the open road and back door handout.

One of the distinguishing features of the breadline to me was that almost invariably the members wore caps. You rarely saw a hat. The cap becomes a badge of the down-and-outer. The missions are frankly conscious the breadline is composed chiefly of professional floaters.

The floater is the vagabond without charm or romance. He does not want a job, nor is he interested in nightly services, save for the material rewards of food and lodging. Yet no floater is turned away. Once in awhile there is a conversion and regeneration.

The mission superintendents themselves are paragons of patience. Many have been down and outers and often criminals before they "saw the light." They believe if they were able to turn from wicked paths into respectability there is hope for all.

Nightly they exhort, pray and call mourners to the bench. Sometimes half the audience is in an alcoholic haze, snoring loudly through the services, but there seems to be no such word as discouragement in the lexicon of the mission worker. They carry on against overwhelming difficulties.

The chronic bum drifts from one mission to another through the winter months. The only impediment to his freedom is he must be in the sawdust carpeted flop room by 9 p. m. Regulars in the breadline have frequently mingled together for years, yet rarely know each other by real name.

Among the submerged, pasts are never discussed. Men acquire such names as "Red," "Slim," "Fatty" and the like and thus are known to their fellows. Sentiment has long since congealed. Each is strictly for himself. Conversation is restricted to monosyllables.

IN a Bowery doorway Lisle Bell and I once saw an example of down and out sympathy. A forlorn fellow was waiting the ambulance after a fall down subway stairs. A buddy, leaning over him, consoled rather tenderly but bitterly: "Even if you croak, you won't be worse off."

THE two most opulent facades on Fifth avenue these days are those of beauty parlors. One in color contrasts of black, white and red and the other in beige sandstone inset with black plaques. Farther up the avenue this fall will be one of pure white marble and too utterly uptown for a window display.

THE director generale of one palace of pulchritude is a pompous fellow with a sharply pointed beard like a rubicund figure out of a Dutch painting. Patrons are seated in Chippendale chairs while waiting to interview the grand seigneur. He is the personification of old world charm and his job is to make patrons feel it a privilege to be served there. He accomplishes it with magnificent gusto.

BEAUTY culture doubtless has merits—look at the lady whose initials are P. J.—yet in the hands of bunglers becomes a ghastly thing. New York has three formerly beautiful women symbolizing the frightful danger. They go everywhere in public heavily veiled.

ONE of the veiled unfortunates used to visit the Montmartre night club. From time to time she lifted the veil for a quick puff of a cigarette. Although she sat in an obscure corner, every eye seemed constantly on her. Nothing offers such a touch of mystery as a veiled woman.

"WE have," informs a billboard magnate, "erected one of the largest billboards in the world in a Jersey meadow. We want you to see it, read what it proclaims, and assure you you will find it great literature."

It wouldn't interest me. I'm not at all booksy.

MAN, SHOT IN LUNG, FALLS FROM HIS AUTO

Madison County Authorities Think He Resisted Assailants.

Madison County authorities are investigating the shooting of Nicholas C. Brown, a foundry worker, who, wounded in the chest and clutching a recently discharged revolver in his hand, fell out of his automobile in front of the White Pig, a roadside restaurant on Illinois Highway No. 3, four miles north of Granite City, at 11:30 o'clock last night.

Brown was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Granite City, where physicians said a bullet had penetrated his lung. They pronounced his condition serious. While delirious Brown muttered, "They shot me on a road." The condition of his clothing, which was soiled with loose earth, indicated, authorities say, that Brown had fought with his assailants. His revolver contained six discharged shells, three of which had been fired recently, officers say. In his pockets were a dozen extra cartridges.

Upon regaining consciousness today, Brown declined to discuss details of the shooting with officers, who sought to learn whether he had wounded his assailants. He said he is 30 years old, and resides with his wife and child in Community Heights, near Nameoki.

Brown formerly worked as a helper at the American Steel Foundry in Granite City, but had been unemployed recently, police say. His mother, Mrs. Joseph Kiefer, 910 North First street, East St. Louis, was notified, but could throw no light on the shooting.

FINDING OF WATCH LIKELY TO FREE TWO NOW IN JAIL

Owner Had Identified Them as Men Who Held Him Up.

The finding of a stolen watch in the pocket of Philip Fielder, his statement that it had been given to him by William E. Loomis, held by Maplewood police for 24 holdups, and Loomis' confession that he had obtained it in a robbery, may save two men from prison terms.

Robert Whittaker and Michael Flynn are held at City Jail awaiting trial for holding up Frank Drake, 7817 Grove avenue, and taking the watch March 25 as he sat in an automobile with a young woman in front of her home, 6543 Manchester avenue. Drake had identified both men as the robbers.

190 SMALL BOYS, 26 NUNS ESCAPE IN MILWAUKEE FIRE

Passersby Throw Bricks in Windows of Orphanage to Awaken Occupants.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 22.—The 190 small boys and 26 nuns at St. Aemiliah's orphanege of the St. Francis order ran down the fire escape in their night clothes shortly after 1 a. m. today as fire destroyed the $350,000 building. No one was injured.

Persons in a passing automobile discovered the fire. They stopped and threw bricks through the windows to arouse the nuns and children. Firemen from Milwaukee were called to aid the volunteer fire-fighters.

The orphanage is on the campus of St. Francis Seminary, just outside the Milwaukee city limits and on the shore of Lake Michigan.

All the boys at the orphanage are under 15 years old. They were asleep on the second and third floors of the four-story brick and frame building.

The Rev. Joseph Korha, superintendent of the orphanage, was ill and not present when the fire broke out. The Rev. Joseph Baier, acting superintendent, supervised the rescue.

FLAG ROW DISTURBS TOKIO

Indian Athletes Insist Upon Emblem of Independence.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, May 22.—An echo of the turmoil in India disturbed harmony in preparations here today for the Far Eastern athletic championships opening Saturday. The question has arisen as to what flag the small Indian contingent shall fly.

Monday and Tuesday the red, green and white tricolor of the Indian National Congress, emblem of Indian independence, flew above the building in which the visiting athletes are quartered, together with the Japanese and Chinese national flags and the banner of the Philippine Insular Government. Yesterday the Japanese athletic authorities, having consulted the British Embassy, were told that the Viceroy's flag, a modified form of the Union Jack, was the proper Indian emblem. The Viceroy's flag replaced the tricolor. Thereupon, the Indian athletes, under the pressure of the strongly anti-British local Indian community, protested, the Viceroy's flag was hauled down. Today the Indian flagstaff was bannerless.

RAIDERS SAY MAYOR O K'D BOOTLEGGERS

They Testify Arcola, Ill., Official Gave Them Cards to Men They Arrested.

Mayor C. E. Parks of Arcola, Douglas County, Ill., recommended the wares of two bootleggers they later arrested, Federal prohibition agents testified in Federal Court at East St. Louis yesterday at a hearing in the case of Lucius Sylvester and John Peeler of Arcola, who pleaded guilty of selling whisky to the agents.

The Federal agents and Deputy Sheriff Joseph Gordon of Douglas County told Judge Wham that they purchased whisky from Peeler and Sylvester on the recommendation of Mayor Parks, who gave them his card to present to the bootleggers. Sylvester and Peeler used the Mayor's dyeing and cleaning establishment as their headquarters, the agents said, although the actual purchase of liquor took place elsewhere. Sentence of the two defendants was deferred. Parks was not charged.

Liquor charges against Mrs. Lena Aissi and Mrs. Margaret Sciales, both of Murphysboro, were dismissed by Judge Wham to permit them to care for their children, but their husbands, Tony Aissi and Jake Sciales, jointly charged with them, were sentenced to 60 days in jail and fined $200 each.

Other sentences for liquor violations imposed by Judge Wham were: David Sullivan, East St. Louis, fined $100; Louis Turner, four months and $250; James Kilmer, $100; George Soladuk, 90 days and $100; Luther St. John, 60 days and $100, and Paul Galvananskas, Westville, Ill., $300.

CANDIDATES FOR POLICE JOBS WARNED AGAINST GRAFTERS

Journal Tells Them to Beware of Men Who Ask for Money to Get Places.

Prospective candidates for places on the police force were warned yesterday against grafters who might approach them with an offer to secure a position on the force for a sum of money, in an article in the Police Journal, a publication of the St. Louis Police Department.

"The scheme of the swindler is simply to wrest $100, $200 or $300 from the eager candidate by causing an application to be filed in the regular way and, if the applicant is successful, to demand payment for an agreed amount," is the statement in the Journal.

The selection of candidates, the article points out, is made on the basis of ability and is without interference by anyone. The list now available is probably sufficient for this year.

DENOUNCES SILENCE OF SENATOR KING

Robinson of Indiana Says Utahan Has Shown No Desire 'To Answer Charges.'

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—A report asserting that Senator King (Dem.), Utah, had "shown no desire" to testify before the Senate Lobby Committee in answer to testimony that German dye interests had contributed to his campaign and used his office at the Capitol was submitted to the Senate today by Senator Robinson, Indiana, a Republican mebmer of the committee.

It reviewed testimony of Samuel Russell, former secretary to King, to the effect that Herman A. Metz, New York dye importer, had contributed $1000 to the Utahan's campaign of 1922 and another $1000 in 1928.

"While Senator King could doubtless throw much light on all these matters," the report concluded, "he has thus far shown no desire to testify before your committee."

Although he has never appeared before the committee, King has said he never heard of the 1922 contribution and that he destroyed the 1928 check. He recently returned from Europe, where he went to recuperate from illness.

Quoting from a letter dated Nov. 22, 1928, to Russell from E. R. Pickrell, New York, an associate of Metz, the report said it showed that Metz had sent a check for $1000 to King on Oct. 18 of that year and also the payment of $157.50 to Russell for "revision of data, looking toward the revision of the antitrust laws to suit the interests represented by Pickrell."

Russell further testified, the report continued, that $1000 had been contributed to King's campaign fund in 1922 by Metz, and that "Dr. Pickrell had given the money to him (Russell) and Mr. Russell had in turn given it to Samuel King, the Senator's brother, for the use of the Senator in his campaign."

"He stated also that Senator King was informed of this transaction," the report said.

Metz, it was said, "substantially corroborated the evidence of Mr. Russell."

In the absence of the Utah Senator, Robinson withheld comment.

Senator Black (Dem.), Alabama, protested against placing the report before the Senate in King's absence, but Robinson insisted that it be read.

Senators Blaine (Rep.), Wisconsin, and Walsh (Dem.), Montana, asked Robinson if he intended the report as one from the Lobby Committee. The Indiana Senator replied, "I take full responsibility for the report."

"I may say," he added, "that I can't get other members of the committee sufficiently interested even to read the report. I brought it before the committee months ago in executive session. It has been delayed largely because of the illness of Senator King and his subsequent trip to Europe."

The upsets of Children

All children are subjects to little upsets. They come at unexpected times. They seem twice as serious in the dead of night. But there's one form of comfort on which a mother can always rely; good old Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation can't harm the tiniest infant. Yet mild as it is, it soothes a restless, fretful baby like nothing else. Its quick relief soon sees the youngster comfortable once more, back to sleep. Even an attack of colic yields to the soothing influence of Castoria.

Keep Castoria in mind, and keep a bottle in the house—always. Give a few drops to any child whose tongue is coated, or whose breath is unpleasant. Continue with Castoria until the child is grown! Every drug store has Castoria; the genuine has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

this is ONE reason why

3 times as many Frigidaires are now in use as any other make of electric refrigerator

Frigidaire is sold with a definite guarantee—backed by General Motors.
And still more important to you as a purchaser is the fact that year after year Frigidaire continues to give satisfaction—long after the guarantee has expired.
If service should be required it is rendered instantly and without removing the machine from the premises.

Other reasons why 3 times as many Frigidaires are now in use as any other make of electric refrigerator

Ice and desserts freeze faster with the "Cold Control." Vegetables stay fresh and crisp in the Hydrator. Foods are always kept safely cold by surplus power. Stooping is made unnecessary by elevated shelves. The Porcelain-on-steel finish won't rust, peel or blister. The mechanism is in the bottom, out of the way. The smooth, flat top provides an extra kitchen shelf. The price is lower because of quantity production. Operating cost is lower because the motor runs less.

Apple Sauce Recipe

Pare, core and quarter several juicy, sour apples. Put them in a saucepan and cook with just enough water to keep them from burning. Add a dash of cinnamon and a little lemon juice. Cool and serve.

YOU ONLY need one guess. Sugar is missing. And if you add sugar "to taste" just before you take your apple sauce from the stove, you will have the utmost in flavorful goodness.

Very often you wonder how to improve foods which are lacking in flavor or appetite-appeal. In most cases a dash of sugar is all that is necessary. This is especially true in the preparation of vegetables. Just try a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt in cooking spinach, carrots, string beans, tomatoes and peas. You'll be surprised at the way sugar improves the distinctive flavor of each vegetable.

When you consider that vegetables, cereals and fruit are essential in the diet for the vitamins, mineral salts and roughage they contain, you will realize the importance of making these foods appeal to the appetites of young and old. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

GIRL SCHOOL TRUANT FREED AFTER 6 YEARS

Judge Denounces Juvenile Court for Adjudging Her Feeble-Minded.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 22.—A girl who has spent the last six years in the State School and Colony at Lincoln, Ill., because she would not go to school, was released today by Superior Judge David in an order censuring the Juvenile Court as a "sociological laboratory that usually doesn't work."

"It is disgraceful that this young woman should have spent six of what should have been the happiest years of her life in such a place," Judge David said. "Because she didn't like to go to school and played hookey she was adjudged feeble minded."

The girl, Grace Molkentine, 19 years old, whose parents live at North Riverside, was committed to the Lincoln institution by Judge Mary M. Bartelme of the Juvenile Court Jan. 31, 1924. Her release was sought by habeas corpus writ. Judge David questioned the girl in court today. She said she had passed in all her classes at the school.

"Even though the Juvenile Court erred in committing the girl," said Judge David, "it was the duty of the head of the institution to petition the Court for a release when she was found to be mentally well balanced."

His order found the commitment illegal and declared the girl was not and never had been feeble minded and "on the contrary appears to be a young woman of great intelligence."

U. S. NAVY MEN TO SUPERVISE NICARAGUAN ELECTION

310 to Assemble in Canal Zone Next Month for Transportation to Republic in July.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Three hundred enlisted men and 10 officers of the navy are to be sent to Nicaragua in July to supervise the November election.

The men will be assembled at Coco Solo, Canal Zone, early in June and moved to Corinto and Bluefields, Nicaragua, the next month. They will be distributed throughout the county to prepare for the election.

The naval personnel already is being trained under the direction of Capt. Andrew S. Hickey. He will be an assistant to the President of the Nicaraguan National Board of Election, for which post President Hoover has suggested Capt. Alfred W. Johnson of the navy.

President Moncada of Nicaragua, shortly after his inauguration, informed President Hoover that the Nicaragua Supreme Court would designate as president of its Election Board a citizen of the United States suggested by President Hoover.

HELD AS ROBBER; PROVES ALIBI AND IS SET FREE

John Boehlein Was in Knoxville, Ia., at Time of Holdup of Which He Was Accused.

John Boehlein, 23 years old, 4249 North Nineteenth street, who was arrested and identified as one of two men who held up Charles F. Klauke, a grocer, 4538 Louisiana avenue, last Saturday, was released on order of the Circuit Attorney's office yesterday, when he produced evidence that he was out of the city at the time of the robbery.

Boehlein, an electrical maintenance man, denied knowledge of the holdup, in which $231 was taken, and declared he visited his brother, a patient in the United States Veterans' Hospital at Knoxville, Ia., on Saturday. His statement was corroborated by relatives, the conductor of a Burlington train on which he returned home, and by records of the hospital, which showed that he had been permitted to take his brother away from the institution for several hours.

Leo Steiner, 23, an electrician, 4019 Labadie avenue, the other suspect identified by Klauke, is still held.

TWO JUDGES CITED IN GRAND JURY DOG TRACK INQUIRY

Edmund Barry of Appellate Court at Mt. Vernon and Clark of Danville Circuit Ordered to Testify.

Assistant State's Attorney Curt Lindauer, who is conducting a grand jury investigation at Belleville into charges of corruption on the part of St. Clair County officials in the dog track controversy, announced today he had subpenaed Appellate Judge Edmund Barry, of Bloomington, Ill., Circuit Judge S. Murray Clark, of Danville, and Robert Roe, of Mount Vernon, clerk of the Fourth Appellate Court, to testify.

Yesterday Circuit Judge Henry G. Miller of Belleville, reconvened the grand jury, charged it to investigate thoroughly the allegations made in an Edwardsville newspaper and appeared before the jury as a witness for an hour, waiving immunity.

Judge Clark several months ago granted a temporary injunction restraining county officials from interfering with the operation of the dog track at Cahokia. Judge Miller several weeks ago dissolved the order when it was pointed out Judge Clark lacked jurisdiction.

Unknown to St. Clair County authorities, the track owners appealed to Appellate Judge Barry and the latter declared the injunction in force until a final decision as to its legality. Thus, except for internal troubles over stock control, the Mississippi Valley Kennel Club might begin operation without interference. The club, however, is in the hands of a receiver.

The veiled charge of the Edwardsville paper that certain St. Clair County officials were being paid by the Madison Kennel Club, in Madison County, to hamper the rival track in St. Clair County, has led to bad blood between Judge Miller and his colleague, Judge Louis Bernreuter, and on Monday caused a verbal clash between them in chambers.

Miller confronted Bernreuter with a statement alleged to have been made by the latter to the effect that when the Danville injunction came up for hearing Miller asked Bernreuter to permit him to take Bernreuter's turn on the bench and pass on the matter.

"I was asked by your brother, E. E. Miller," Judge Bernreuter replied. E. E. Miller is a real estate dealer and former Congressman, of East St. Louis. "He said," continued Bernreuter, "that your son was sick and you wished to be near him and that it would be a favor to you if I went to Pinckneyville and let you take my place here."

"I am not bound by requests others make on my behalf," Judge Miller said. "I won't compromise my honor for anyone."

In charging the grand jury, Judge Miller said, "If I have done anything wrong, I want you to indict me.

"These are very serious charges and I want you to go into them deeply and thresh them out."

Exhibiting a handful of anonymous letters he had received, Judge Miller said: "Fair criticism doesn't worry me a bit. It is part of holding a public office. But this kind does." He said he would turn the letters over later to the Federal authorities.

Everett Bess, editor of the Edwardsville Republican, was a witness before the grand jury yesterday.

William T. Miller, a member of the East St. Louis Park Board, was appointed receiver for the track on Tuesday by Judge Bernreuter.

AUSTRIAN FASCIST ULTIMATUM

Heimwehr Tells Chancellor Socialists Must Disarm First.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, May 22.—A sensation has been caused throughout Austria by an ultimatum from the Fascist Heimwehr to Chancellor Schober in which it is stated that the disarmament by the Government of irregular military formations will be permitted by the Heimwehr only if the Heimwehr is allowed to co-operate and the Socialist Peasant League is disarmed first.

The Heimwehr further stipulate that Minister of the Intreior Schummy be replaced by a Heimwehr man and that similarly all official posts in the Provincial Government demanding executive forces for the control of military or civil assemblies must be filled by Fascists. Both the Socialists and Fascists in Austria have been maintaining irregular military organizations. On several occasions the possibility of these groups being in armed clash has arisen but thus far no serious fight has developed. Recently the Government has been seeking measures to disarm these groups.

WIFE DIVORCES O. B. JONES

Reported Former Constance Bridges Will Get $1,000,000.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., May 22.—Mrs. Constance Bridges Jones yesterday was granted a divorce from Owen Barton Jones. Jones did not contest, and was not present. Cyrus Bentley, Mrs. Jones' attorney, said a financial settlement had been made out of court and there was no alimony order. It was reported that Mrs. Jones will receive more than $1,000,000.

The basis for the suit was desertion, and a letter sent by Jones to his wife May 2, 1928, was read. He wrote that it was "for the best interests of both that he leave her forever." The Joneses were married in June, 1927, at Cambridge, Mass. Mrs. Jones is a member of the Bridges family of Boston.

Condemned Men Reprieved.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 22.—Paul Johnson and Ray Coleman, of Spartanburg, under sentence to die in the electric chair tomorrow received a 30-day reprieve today from Gov. Richards. Johnson, son of a Methodist minister of Simpsonville, S. C., and Coleman, his brother-in-law, were convicted of first degree murder for killing Earl Belue, Spartanburg payroll clerk, in an attempted holdup.

Ignore the moth but treat the cloth

Take the short cut to prevent moth damage

Get ahead of the moths by mothproofing the cloth itself. Then there won't be any accidents when you want to use your woolen clothes again. In fact, you don't need to bother putting them away at all. Don't need to use bad-smelling preparations. You know, anyway, that these don't keep mothworms from eating.

Larvex does keep mothworms from eating. Mothproof with Larvex and the worms will starve to death right on the wool. This is the new way, the sure way to prevent all moth damage.

Larvex is odorless, non-inflammable and guaranteed as advertised in Good Housekeeping Magazine.

SPRAYING LARVEX, for upholstered furniture, coats, suits, etc. One spraying lasts a whole year. $1 for a pint, or with atomizer which lasts for years, $1.50.

RINSING LARVEX, for such washable woolens as blankets, sweaters, etc. This is in powder form (50c a package) and you just dissolve it in water, soak and dry—that's all!

FINANCIAL NOTES

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22. — John McHugh, chairman of the executive committee of the Chase National Bank, has been elected a director of Technicolor, Inc.

April steel production totaled 308,988 tons as compared with 259,658 in March, the National Association of flat rolled steel manufacturers reports.

Readers of the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape have some memorizing to do. To speed up the service, the exchange has simplified the symbols of several stocks, effective Monday. American Telephone, now "ATT," becomes "T," International Telephone, "ITT," becomes "IT;" Fox Film, "Fox," is changed to "F;" Warner Brothers Pictures will be "WB" instead of "WBP," Paramount Publix is changed from "FP" to "PX."

George H. Houston, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, said that shipments in May would be about the same as in April, and that unfilled orders are sufficient to maintain the same rate of output through October. Shipments in April amounted to $3,482,466.

The Board of Governors of the New York Rubber Exchange have voted to close the exchange on Saturday, May 31, the day after the Memorial day holiday. Governors of the New York Stock Exchange are expected to act a similar proposal shortly.

Foreign sales of copper for the month up to noon today were 210,000,000 pounds, exceeding the record of 204,500,000 pounds established in May, 1928.

Daniel Willard and George Shriver, president and vice president, respectively, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, were elected directors of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railroad today. The Buffalo road is controlled by the Baltimore & Ohio.

Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific, states that at a meeting of the Deposit Committee in New York early next week, it will probably be decided whether the Northern Pacific-Great Northern merger proceedings will be continued or abandoned. He said that adoption of the Couzens resolution by the Senate, which seeks to defer rail consolidations until March, "will not diminish the difficulties of the situation."

No Change in Rediscount Rate.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank today announced no change in the rediscount rate of 3 per cent.

National Capital News

By Associated Press Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Frank Greene, managing editor of Bradstreet's in addressing the advertising federation in annual session here, said that poor earnings by industries for the second quarter of this year seem likely to follow those of the first quarter. Despite the admittedly good business done in the iron and steel industry, the really better-than-anticipated trade done by chain stores so far this year, and the unquestionable gain in public confidence shown over earlier months of this year and the late months of 1929, Mr. Greene held that improvement has not measured up to earlier anticipations.

Two frequently mentioned curative influences, namely, cheaper money and lower costs of production proceeding from fallen prices, have yet to produce benefits in the opinion of Mr. Greene, although he said lower money has helped support commodity prices a trifle which afforded a stimulus to stock speculation.

In his observations of worldwide trade the speaker declared reduced buying power abroad renders the prospects of our export trade more doubtful, and little improvement can be expected until prices of foreign products, now depressed by overproduction, can be strengthened.

"One may safely counsel the business world to look the situation over at the mid-year carefully for signs of future trade and industrial promise," Mr. Greene advised his hearers. "A perhaps old fashioned view is, that by July 1 in most years some idea of what is doing in most crop areas can be had. In this, of course, within limitations, hopes may be based on this possible crop outturn regarding resulting effects on railroad business, farmers' purchases, etc., which should have some determining value upon estimates of the business of the year. Thus middle July may give a much clearer view than can be had now as to business in the last half of 1930, and even further, because, after all, and admitting the progress of this country in manufacture, it may safely be said still that the business year begins on July 1."

Measures by which voluntary agencies and the Federal Government can more effectively supplement the efforts of state authorities to check stock swindling will have a conspicuous place in the discussion of the national conference on prevention of fraudulent transactions in securities which opened a two-day session here today.

"The need of the moment in checking securities frauds, which are costing the people of the United States many millions annually," said Henry R. Hayes of Stone & Webster and Blodgett, Inc., New York City, chairman of the executive committee of the conference, "is more effective co-operation. The states are dealing with the local aspects of the problem, but the national aspects must be dealt with by the national business and private organizations in co-operation with the Federal authorities. This will not require further legislation. It is merely a question of the more effective enforcement of existing laws against fraud."

A note of optimism was sounded by Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, who told the Advertising Federation of America that "business is gradually but unmistakably coming out of the depression."

The recovery, he said, is not a rambling hit or miss scramble, but, on the contrary, for the first time in our business history we are progressing by carefully calculated, far-sighted plans, which explains the encouraging fact that the "rate of advance is just about twice as rapid as in previous slumps of similar proportions."

CONVERTIBLE BONDS UP IN LATE MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Influenced by a good stock market, convertible bonds tended higher in the late trading on the New York Stock Exchange today, turning over in good volume. The rest of the list was desultory, and outside of some wide ranges by a few domestic and foreign bonds, moved within narrow limits, up and down.

Philadelphia Reading Coal and Iron 6s which has vied with American Telephone for the most attention among stock privilege issues, touched a new 1930 high at 108, and then lost a little ground. The A. T. & T. 4 was much in demand, with tomorrow the last day for conversion under the current rate. The company reported today that out of the $219,000,000 issue a total of $188,575,400 had been surrendered to the close of business Tuesday.

Increased interest was displayed in United States Governments in the late trading and Liberty 4th 4¼s moved upward on a moderate turnover.

INSPIRATION CONS. COPPER DECLARES SMALLER DIVIDEND

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Inspiration Consolidated Copper Co. directors today declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents on the common shares, or one-half the $1 dividend paid three months ago. Inspiration is the third copper company to reduce its dividend rate this week.

Yesterday, Calumet and Arizona declared a payment of 50 cents, against $1.50 in the previous quarter, and on Tuesday directors of Calumet and Hecla reduced the quarterly disbursement from $1 to 50 cents.

There have been recent reductions in the price of copper, now quoted at 13 cents a pound, as compared to 18 cents a few weeks ago.

The Inspiration disbursement is payable July 7 to stock of record June 19.

WHEAT UP SHARPLY ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, May 22.—Wheat closed 2⅜c to 3⅛c higher on the local market, following the strong Chicago market, where the chief factor was said to be less favorable crop reports. Corn closed 1¼c higher.

Advances of a cent to more early followed fractionally higher opening to wheat. The rise was credited to ⅜@⅝d higher close at Liverpool, comment of Hessian fly damage in Southeast Nebraska and Northeast Kansas and comment on size of Argentine shipments. Winnipeg wheat was higher early.

July wheat opened at $1.02⅜, Sept. wheat $1.05, July corn 80⅝c and Sept. corn 81⅝c.

Local wheat receipts, which were 100,800 bushels, compared with 98,000 a week ago and 30,800 a year ago, included 65 cars local and 7 through. Corn receipts, which were 47,600 bushels, compared with 44,800 a week ago and 47,600 a year ago, included 30 cars local and 4 through. Oats receipts, which were 77,000 bushels, compared with 63,800 a week ago and 66,000 a year ago, included 33 cars local and 2 through. Hay receipts were 14 cars local and 2 through.

WHEAT TRADE MORE ACTIVE AND STRONG

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Broadening of activity went hand in hand today with higher prices for wheat. Less favorable crop reports from Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas were the chief stimulating influence.

Wheat closed strong, 2⅝@3c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1¼@2⅛c up, oats ⅝@1¼c advanced, and provisions varying from 7c decline to a rise of a shade.

Reports of damage by Hessian fly in Southeast Nebraska and Northeast Kansas, with Liverpool quotations higher, gave wheat values here an early upturn.

Relative smallness of wheat shipments from Argentina was noted as a bullish factor at Liverpool. Opening unchanged to ⅝c higher, Chicago wheat afterward sagged somewhat, but then scored an all-around adance. Corn, oats and provisions were firm, with corn starting unchanged to ⅜ up, and subsequently showing a general rise.

Intimations of liberal export business put through overnight in United States hard winter wheat helped to lift wheat values at times today. There was also prediction of frost tonight reaching down into Kansas from the Canadian line.

The fact that the Paris market for wheat future deliveries had jumped 8 cents a bushel in two days was also given notice. Much of the time early pit traders here showed more disposition than of late to work on the bull side of the market, and there was less selling pressure in evidence than has reecntly been the rule.

COTTON CLOSES MIXED ON NEW YORK MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—In contrast with yesterday's ruling, new cotton crop positions were relatively steady today, owing to the forecast for showers in the Southwest and improved technical conditions. General business was quiet, with the old crop held back by some scattering liquidation. Additional May notices were promptly stopped and there was some buying of July by trade interests on the declines. The midafternoon market was fairly steady, with prices 2 to 6 points net lower on old crop positions and 10 to 13 points higher on the new.

Futures closed steady, 7 points lower to 12 higher; May 16.22-23c; July 16.34c; October 15.20-23c; December 15.26c; January 15.25c. New contracts—October 14.93-94c; December 15.00c; January 15.00c; March 15.20c. Spot quiet, middling 16.45c.

Cotton opened steady, 4 points lower to 1 point higher, on a small volume of business which included some liquidation promoted by relatively easy cables, and a little buying on unfavorable crop reports from the Southwest.

Business continued quiet after the opening and fluctuations were narrow. May ruled around 16.26c, and the new October contract 14.77c, before the session had advanced far when the general list was about net unchanged to 4 points lower. Liverpool cables reported covering in the near months and trade calling, with the market lower under Continental and Bombay selling.

Trading was quiet later in the morning, with the old crop easing off under some scattering liquidation, while the new crop was steady to firm on the forecast for showers in the Western belt. At midday July contracts were selling around 16.30c or 5 points net lower, while the new October contract at 14.93c showed a net advance of 14 points. A private report was published pointing to a decrease of 2.9 per cent in acreage, which appeared to be without much effect on the immediate market.

CURB IRREGULAR IN A DULL MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Quotations eased in a dull session of the curb market today. Early losses of a couple of points in the leading utilities, which were the market's most active shares, were partly regained on a late covering movement, but closing prices were irregular.

Electric Bond & Share traded within a two-point range, making an inconsequential net change. Minor variations appeared also in American Superpower, Niagara Hudson Power, United Gas issues, United Light & Power "A," Associated Gas & Electric "A" and Central States Electric. National Fuel Gas rallied about a point and American Commonwealths "B" sold up 2 points. Traders seemed satisfied with the narrow fluctuations of their favorites and the day's business was limited almost entirely to half-hearted operations by the professionals.

Deere (new) was a weak feature in the miscellaneous list, dropping 7 points in sympathy with the weakness at one time of farm equipment shares on the big board. Dresser Manufacturing "B," which has been active and higher, yielded a point. Garlock Packing, New Jersey Zinc and Western Air Express were heavy on moderate sales. Technicolor rallied sharply from Wednesday's low and United Shoe Machinery pushed up a new 1930 high.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The raw sugar market was quiet early today, with no sales reported. Philippines nearby and about due were offered at last paid prices of 3.17c delivered, but found no buying interest.

Raw sugar futures opened unchanged to 2 points lower, under liquidation and selling by houses with Cuban connections, promoted by the continued liberal offerings in the spot market. Report of labor unrest in Cuba led to increased covering in the late forenoon, however, and the early loss was more than recovered with prices at one time 1 to 3 points above the previous close. The demand was soon supplied, and toward midday prices eased off again under hedge selling. The list at midday was net unchanged to 1 point higher. Business on the whole was of small proportions and operators were inclined to limit extensive commitments and await developments.

The refined market was unchanged at 4.70c for fine granulated but with second hands available below this level. The demand was light and supplied through second hands.

Sugar futures closed steady; approximated sales 19,800 tons. July 1.47c; September 1.55c; December 1.64c; January 1.66c; March 7.73c; May 1.80.

Jimmy Joins Stanhope's Company

Journey's End

The novel on which the world-famous war play was based.

—By—

R. C. SHERRIFF and VERNON BARTLETT

SYNOPSIS

Dennis Stanhope is a frequent visitor to Alum Green, near London, where Jimmy Raleigh and his sister, Madge, live. Although Dennis is three years older than Jimmy, a strong friendship develops between the boys. When Dennis goes away to Barford to school he became Jimmy's hero, because of this athletic prowess. Later Jimmy arrives at Barford and finds a gulf between himself and Dennis for the latter is now a school monitor. Germany invaded Belgium and Dennis is sent to Flanders as an infantry officer where he commands a front line company. Jimmy, now a second lieutenant, is sent to France and goes up to the front to join Dennis' company which is just returning to the trenches, where a German assault is expected any day.

CHAPTER XIV.

A RUNNER from battalion headquarters led Raleigh up a long narrow lane, paved with duckboards, or, in places, with branches from larch-trees, old stacks stuffed with empty tins, or rubble from the ruins of some neighboring farm.

"It ain't nothing to write 'ome about, sir, this communication trench," remarked the runner, "but it's more 'ealthy-like than the open country. Jerry's decent, on the whole, in this sector, but 'is machine-gunners always 'as insomnia. Jest carn't keep quiet."

At Bovington Camp they had dug communication trenches which ran breast-deep through the heather, and of which the sandy walls were as clean-cut as though they had been hewn from rock. Their floors were kept as spick and span as the tidy front-line trenches, with their neat and regular traverses and firesteps. Out here it was difficult, even in the light of the trench flares, to see very clearly, but Raleigh was overwhelmed with the patchy untidiness of it all.

Here and there other untidy trenches branched out to right or left. "Unused support trench," the runner informed him, or "C. T. to B Company," or "men's latrines." It was all such a muddle, and so little like his preconceived ideas of trenches, that he felt the would never be able to find his way about. And all these Very lights gave the place an exciting fifth-of-November atmosphere. The sharp crack of bullets was very distinct now—it was almost as though they were being fired from a yard or two away—but they were somehow not at all frightening.

The communication trench suddenly ended in a cross-trench filled with men. They looked at him curiously as they made way for him to pass, and he felt almost as awkward as on his first day at school. These must be fellows from "C" Company—some of them might be soon under his own command—and he knew they were summing him up. He could not help wishing that he looked a little older.

"Where's 'C' Company 'eadquarters, Sergeant?" the runner asked. "New officer come to join 'em."

"Good evening, sir," said the sergeant. "I'll show you the way."

The runner saluted, and disappeared into the night before Raleigh had time to thank him. He followed his new guide, more conscious than ever that the men were watching him and sizing him up.

"Here's headquarters, sir," said the sergeant, "down them steps," and he pointed to the entrance of a dugout.

"Oh . . . thanks." Raleigh paused a moment, wondering what to do.

"Better go down, sir," advised the sergeant gruffly.

"Oh, yes. Righto. Good night, Sergeant."

He felt his way carefully down the few steps that led to the dugout. The place was low and dingy, lit by three or four candles thrust into the necks of bottles, or stuck on to thin slats of wood pushed in between two sandbags. The light flickered on a tangled mass of equipment hanging from the wall, a whisky bottle on a rough table made out of packing cases, a jumble of papers and an officer with short, iron-gray hair, who sat on the edge of a bunk studying a map.

He looked up with interest when Raleigh appeared. "Hullo!" was his greeting.

"Good evening," said Raleigh, and then, noticing the other's gray hair he added: "Sir."

"You the new officer?"

"Er—yes. I've been to battalion headquarters. They told me to report here."

"Good! We've been expecting you. Sit down, won't you. I should take your pack off. Awkward things to sit around in."

"Oh, right. I think I will, thanks."

He struggled out of his equipment, feeling a little more at his ease. This old chap was obviously a decent sort. What with him and Dennis Stanhope, the company ought to be good fun.

The dugout was quite a large one, with two gloomy tunnels leading from it to left and right. Besides the table there were two bunks, consisting of strips of wood with wire netting nailed across them, and two packing cases which obviously served as chairs. Round the walls were pinned a series of French drawings, from La Vie Parisienne, of girls in flimsy costumes. They embarrassed him very much, since he felt he should make some comment on them which would show that he was a man of the world, and yet he could not think of anything appropriate to say. The other broke the silence.

"Have a drink?" he asked, stretching a long arm out towards the whisky bottle.

Raleigh hesitated.

"Perhaps you don't like whisky?"

"Oh, yes, rather! Yes—er—just a small one, sir."

"Say when."

He never knew when to say "when!" The stuff tasted like varnish, anyway. But it would look funny if he said he did not want any.

"Whisky takes away the taste of the water," remarked the other pouring out so small a dose that it almost seemed as though he had read Raleigh's thought, "and water takes away the taste of the whisky. The result is that you get a drink which isn't too bad, and makes your feet warm. Have a cigarette?"

"Er—oh, thanks. Yes, I'd like one." He put his glass down on the table, and felt in his pocket for matches, which he knew he had not got.

"Here, we always use these." And his new friend pushed the bottle with the candle in it towards him.

"Of course! I never thought of that," laughed Raleigh nervously. "What an ass I am."

He lit his cigarette, and then raised his glass self-consciously: "Well, good luck, sir."

"Good luck! By the way, my name's Osborne. I'm second in command of the company. You only need to call me 'sir' in front of the men."

"I see. Thanks."

"You'll find the other officers call me 'Uncle.' They've no respect for gray hairs. What's your name?"

"Mine? My name's Raleigh."

"Any relation of the master at Rugby?"

"Not that I know of. But I've lots of uncles and—and things like that."

"Ever been up the line before?" asked Osborne suddenly.

"Oh, no. You see, I only left Barford at the end of last summer term."

"Were you at school at Barford? Why, the man in command of this company was there. Captain Stanhope. Did you know him?"

"Rather!" Did he know Stanhope indeed! He could hardly refrain from laughing out loud. But perhaps it would be wise not to let Osborne know what pals he and Dennis had been. Things were so different out here, and it would not do to make it difficult for Dennis. "Did you see much of him then?" Osborne asked.

"I was only a kid, and he was one of the monitors. He's three years older than I am. But it wasn't only that we were just at school together. Our fathers were friends, and Dennis used to come and stay with us in the holidays. Of course, at school I didn't see a great deal of him, but in the holidays we were terrific pals."

"I see," said Osborne slowly; and he looked at Raleigh with a new interest. One would have said that the news disturbed him. "He's up in the front line at present, looking after the relief. He's a splendid chap."

"Isn't he? He was skipper of Rugger at Barford, and kept wicket for the Eleven. A jolly good bat, too."

"If you notice much of a difference in him, you'll know it's only the strain. He's a very fine company commander."

There was something almost aggressive in Osborne's voice—as though he anticipated contradiction. Raleigh was wondering what to say or to think about it, when a soldier came out of the tunnel on the left. He carried a roll of white oilcloth, a pile of tin plates and a grubby dishcloth. His braces appeared to serve only an ornamental purpose, since they were not hitched over the shoulders of his gray army shirt, but hung in loops at his sides. His hair was so smooth that either ration butter or rifle-oil must have been used for it.

"Can I lay supper, sir?" he asked.

Osborne turned to him with an expression of relief, as though he were glad to change the subject.

"Do, Mason," he said. "This is Mr. Raleigh. He's just joined the company."

Mason changed from a raffish-looking waiter in an East End fish-and-chips bar to a soldier. He clicked his heels smartly and held his plates almost as though he were carrying a rifle at the slope.

"Good evening, sir," he said, when he had relaxed his military attitude. "Nice and quiet up 'ere, sir."

"Good evening. Er—yes. I suppose it is."

Osborne tapped the ashes out of his pipe with slow, comfortable deliberation.

"What are you going to tempt us with tonight, Mason?"

Mason gave up the difficult task of remembering whether the knives went to the left or to the right of the tin plates, and adopted the semifamiliar semirespectful pose which his position allowed when talking to officers.

"Soup, sir," he announced in a confidential tone, "cutlets, and pineapples."

Osborne raised his eyebrows in astonishment.

"What's that? Cutlets? What sort of cutlets?"

Mason looked embarrassed. "Well, sir, you've got me there. I shouldn't like to commit myself too deep, sir."

"Ordinary ration meat?"

"Yes, sir. Ordinary ration meat, but a noo shape, sir. Smells like liver, but it 'asn't got that smooth, wet look what liver's got."

"Well, I hope it's got a new taste."

"Yes, sir," agreed Mason, and he returned to the dugout in which he and the signalers lived.

"Is he the mess cook?" asked Raleigh.

"Yes. We'll fix you up with a servant. I expect you'll have to share one with Hibbert and Trotter—they're the other two subalterns. You'll sleep in that next dugout with them."

Osborne was cut short in his explanation by the return of Mason, whose hair, less smooth than it had been, bore witness to the fact that something had gone wrong.

"I've 'ad a rather unpleasant surprise, sir," he announced.

"What's happened?"

"You know that tin o' pineapple chunks I got, sir? Well, I'm sorry to say its apricots."

Osborne laughed his slow, tolerant laugh.

"Good heavens! It must have given you a turn. Wasn't there a label on the tin?"

"No, sir. I pointed that out to the man at the canteen, and 'e said 'e was certain it was pineapple chunks. 'E said a leopard can't change its spots, sir."

"What have leopards got to do with pineapples?"

Mason looked cunning. "That's just what I thought, sir. Made me think there was something fishy about it. And, you see, sir, I know the Captain can't stand the sight of apricots. 'E said next time we 'ad them 'e'd wring my neck."

"Haven't you anything else?" asked Osborne, who took the matter with a seriousness which astonished the newcomer, still unable to realize that food and sleep were the most important subjects of thought and conversation to these tired, conflicting armies.

"There's a pink blanc-mange I've made, sir. But it ain't anywhere near stiff yet."

"Never mind. We must have the apricots and chance it."

"Very good, sir," said Mason, edging towards his own dugout. "Only I thought I'd tell you, sir, so as the Captain wouldn't blame me."

Osborne looked across the table at Raleigh. When he smiled there were dozens of little wrinkles around his eyes, and he looked much younger.

"He seems to be terrified of Dennis," Raleigh remarked.

"He's a bit quick-tempered," said Osborne, growing serious again. "You'll probably find that."

"Oh, I knew old Dennis' temper," laughed the other. "I remember once at school he caught some chaps in a study with a bottle of whisky. Lord! the roof nearly blew off. He gave them a dozen each with a cricket-stump."

Osborne smiled again, but a little grimly.

MUNY OPERA'S NEW PRIMA DONNA WON SUCCESS WITH TWO SONGS

"The Man I Love" and "My Bill" Responsible for Margaret Carlisle's Rise as Concert and Stage Artist.

By FAY PROFILET.

APPEARING before the most exclusive audiences in Europe because someone happened to hear her sing, "The Man I Love" and securing a contract on the American stage, because she sang, "My Bill," Margaret Carlisle, who has been engaged to play many of the leading feminine roles in the Municipal Opera performances for the coming summer, explodes the idea that prima donnas are temperamental, eccentric and haughty creatures. Upon meeting Miss Carlisle one sees an unaffected, charming young woman, who found after years of accompanying and coaching, that she was a singer as well as a pianist.

"I think I can truthfully say that I play the piano much better than I sing," she said, when interviewed in her suite at the Congress Hotel. "I am so glad to find such a happy medium as the light operas the Municipal Association will produce, for I went from grand opera to singing 'blues songs.' Isn't it funny that 'The Man I Love' sent me all over Europe and 'My Bill' put me on the stage?"

Beginning as a small child in Elgin, Ill., to study the piano the ambitious young musician was a member of an opera troupe at the age of 15. She made the curtain speech, then ran back to be the orchestra and voices of nuns off stage. This worked splendidly until one evening the Latin intonations pleased her childish fancy and the chants were interspersed with giggles, thereby reducing the cast and the audience to hysterics and almost putting an end to the performance.

Among other teachers she studied the piano with Josef Lhevinne and for five years was assistant to Isaac Van Grove as accompanist and coach of the Chicago Civic Opera Company and the Ravenia Park Opera.

As Mary McCormic's accompanist she seized the opportunity to go to Europe. On the ship Mrs. Patrick Campbell, noted English actress, heard her sing George Gershwin's "The Man I Love," and it was through Mrs. Campbell that a concert tour of an indefinite period was arranged.

"When I was a small girl, I always said I would marry the Prince of Wales," Miss Carlisle said. "So imagine my delight when I gave a command performance for him. He was attentive while I played Debussy and Bach compositions, but when I introduced Gershwin's song, he showed real enthusiasm and had me sing it many times."

Miss Carlisle appeared in the drawing rooms of the nobility and leaders of society throughout Europe, but because of homesickness returned to America, where she hoped to find a theatrical engagement.

Every day for six months she attempted to secure an interview with Florenz Ziegfeld and, giving up in despair, went on a concert tour to Florida. Ziegfeld, who was at Palm Beach at the time, heard of her singing at society functions and invited her to sing for him. She gave a program of 13 songs, but when she sang, "My Bill," a song hit from the producer's "Show Boat," she was given the part of Julie in "Show Boat," the role created and played by Helen Morgan.

Miss Carlisle is much impressed with the size and natural beauty of the Municipal Opera amphitheater and is curious to see Shubert's revolving stage.

"I have been warned about singing out-of-doors," she said, "but I am sure it is going to be a great experience. And just think of the vast waves of applause, from such a huge audience. How thrilling that will be, for, after all, it is the applause that keeps us on the stage instead of going into the pictures.

"I am so happy to know that Maestro Bamboschek is going to be here. He has conducted the Metropolitan Opera for seven years, so we may be confident that the music is in the hands of one of the greatest of musicians."

THE new prima-donna is enthusiastic about the various types she is to portray. In the opening opera, "Nina Rosa" she will take the part of a Spanish girl; in the "Circus Princess" she will be a Russian Princess; "The Desert Song" gives her the role of a French girl. In "The New Moon" she will play the part of a French girl and in "Blossom Time" she will be seen as a temperamental opera singer.

Next to her own career Miss Carlisle's interest is centered in her 15-year-old sister, Marion, in whom she has discovered talent for the stage and whose education along that line she is supervising. While Miss Carlisle's work takes most of her time she is interested in collecting Spanish songs, many of the twelfth and thirteenth century. She has one other hobby, that of collecting early American hooked rugs.

Miss Carlisle is slim, is five and a half feet tall and her hazel eyes and dark lashes set off her lovely olive skin. Her dark brown wavy hair just reaches to her shoulders and she is arranging it parted in the middle and behind her ears for her new role in "Nina Rosa." She was wearing eggshell satin lounging pajamas with a fingertip length French blue velvet coat, gold brocade slippers and a short strand of pearls. As she displayed the photographs of her mother and Marion, and played "My Bill" it was easy to forget that she was the new prima-donna, for she was really just a nice companionable girl from Elgin, Ill.

The Flying Enemy

BECAUSE of its voracious appetite and its more repulsive feeding habits, the fly is a carrier and spreader of disease.

The female deposits her eggs in filth. There the baby flies come to life and thereafter do little more than travel from garbage pile to food plate.

The fly is filthy inside and out, for, in addition to carrying and transmitting disease through its filth-laden legs and body, it has the nasty habit of re-gurgitating its food. Through this disgusting habit, it spreads the filthy stuff it feeds on and, incidentaly, also transmits many parasitic worms.

Eaton and Mason, two interested scientists, counted the number of germs carried by the average fly and found them to number no fewer than 1,250,000 to the fly. Another scientist made a similar study and found that on the average, the fly carries 4,400,000 germs on the outside, and 28,000,000 on the inside. Of course, not all of these germs were of the disease producing type.

The fly will breed very rapidly in a suitable environment. The female usually lays about 120 eggs at a time. A new generation of flies can develop every 10 days. By adding these two facts, we find that in 40 days, two flies can give rise to 1620 pounds of flies.

The fly is found practically all over the inhabited world. Wherever man is found, there too the fly is found but in modern times we know that where the fly is found, there also we may find bad sanitation, and, in the last analysis a lack of basic cleanliness.

The fly is known to have been responsible for many cases of typhoid fever, cholera and other communicable diseases.

A Clean Puff.

There is nothing so detrimental to the appearance of a well-groomed woman as to see her bring out a soiled, gray-looking powder puff when she applies that needed touch of powder. A puff can be washed perfectly in very soapy water and, if rinsed in more of the soapy water, will remain soft and fluffy.

That Telephone Bell.

When the telephone or door bell rings while you are ironing, take time to pull out the plug before answering. It takes but a second and the habit can be formed readily. Even if the iron does not cause a fire it is very bad for the wear of it to become overheated.

FIFI DORSAY, Film French Girl, Was Never in France

Fifi Dorsay, who was never closer to Paris than Coney Island, but who made a great hit in the films as a French actress.

Top: Fifi in the boudoir of her home and, below, as she looked in a recent movie.

Fifi in her new Beverly Hills home.

The sixteenth of a series of articles on "The Truth About Hollywood," by a Post-Dispatch writer who visited the California studios in search of interesting material.

By H. H. NIEMEYER (NIE), The Post-Dispatch's Motion Picture Critic.

HOLLYWOOD, May 21.

THE movie fans who come out to Hollywood to see the screen stars in person can see a lot of them in Fifi Dorsay. Fifi is the Parisian actress—according to all publicity reports—who can act in English, French or Italian pictures. Ignoring the reports, however, and getting right down to the solid truth, Fifi has never been to Paris, or any where else in France. The closest she ever got to crossing the Atlantic was a short trip on an excursion boat from Coney Island. Aside from that the legend which has been built up around her—the stories of her triumphs on the French stage, a dazzling year in the London music halls, applause from the Crown Prince of Italy in Florence—is true. She CAN speak French and English and Italian but she learned the first language at her home in Montreal and the other two in a convent in the same city.

But Fifi certainly has a brand of IT all her own what ever language she happens to be speaking.

She has that certain something and, practically, everything else.

She played a courtesy performance one day last week at the Old Soldiers' Home near Los Angeles and the next morning, if the more or less truthful press agent on the Fox lot—Fifi works for Mr. Fox in pictures—is to be believed, 50 of the inmates were discovered in the back yard, burning their crutches.

PERHAPS you saw Miss Dorsay vamping Will Rogers, the vamp-proof, in "They Had to See Paris" when that uplifting drama played the Fox Theater on Grand avenue. Maybe you saw her again luring Victor McLaglen in "Hct for Paris" at the same house. Those two Parisian operas gave Miss Dorsay her only views of the French capital and all the scenes were made right here in Hollywood.

You'll see her again, if you care to, with McLaglen in "On the Level" and with J. Harold Murray in "Women Everywhere."

Fifi's charm is in her eyes, her voice, her smile and her million-horsepower vitality, energy and enthusiasm.

Seven years ago the secretary to John Murray Anderson, who was then producing the Greenwich Village Follies in New York, told Mlle. Dorsay, then 17 and seeking a job in the chorus:

"If you can sing and dance like you can roll your eyes, you have a job right now."

None of the hundreds of beautiful girls Hollywood's talking pictures have brought from the stage to the screen has climbed toward fame so swiftly—and made and kept so many friends in the hurried scramble.

Fifi started out in the world almost 24 years ago as Yvonne Lussrers, daughter of a clerk in the Montreal Postoffice. There were 13 young Lussrers altogether and Yvonne got just the attention demanded by one of 13 hungry youngsters.

Her father's sister, Blanche de la Sablonniere, still living in Montreal, was in her time, Canada's best known dramatic actress. She played "Camille," "The Two Orphans" and other popular dramas of those days.

Five generations ago her father's family had left the Chateau des Sables at Les Limousins and emigrated to Quebec.

Fifi has literally hundreds of relatives in Montreal.

Her grandmother had 18 children, an aunt 22, and others of the family also did nobly in the work of keeping the white race from dying.

Fifi's mother never learned to speak English. She died last year, just as her daughter got her big chance. Fifi's father had died two years before. One brother, Roger, who is 17, and one sister, Alice, who is 22, and Fifi are all who remain alive.

FIFI was educated in the Academy of the Sacred Heart, and in the Elie Business College, where she learned English and shorthand. Her first position was in a Montreal lawyer's office, and later she did stenographic work for the American Sugar Cane Company in the same city.

She was not yet 17 when she made up her mind to go to New York and become an actress. She had never danced and she had sung only at church entertainments. No one had even suggested that she might act.

She took her mother into her confidence and they decided to tell the father that Fifi was going to New York on a vacation.

Her first step upon arriving in New York was to have a number of photographs made of herself. These she took to the advertising departments of the various big department and women's apparel palaces, announcing that she was from the Folies Bergere and had modeled for Patou and others in Paris.

She impressed her listeners and they gave her work and she made good. "As a girl from the Folies Bergere they would listen to me." she said. "As Miss Nobody from Montreal, I could not even have gotten by the secretaries."

Nicholas Muray, one of the artists for whom she posed, suggested that she probably could make more money on the stage and told her he would speak in her behalf to John Murray Anderson.

Interviews to prospective chorus girls were granted by Anderson at the Forty-Fourth Street Theater every Thursday morning. Fifi presented herself there every Thursday morning for two months before she landed a job.

"I think you'll amount to something," Anderson told her, "and I decided the first day to give you a chance. But I wanted to find out if you are the kind who will stick with things."

Fifi was in the chorus four months when Gallagher and Shean, late musical comedy heroes who made famous the song, "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean," joined the Greenwich Village Follies.

Fifi suggested to Gallagher that she be permitted to sing the song in French and English. She was given a trial and that part of the show "stayed in." Fifi had kicked her last kick as a chorus girl.

Next came the Gallagher and Shean musical comedy, "In Dutch," which Fifi says was "terr-r-ee-bil."

Following another Greenwich Follies tour, in 1926, she returned to New York and was without work seven months, during which she suffered a first-class nervous breakdown.

ONE night John McHugh, a song writer, took her with him to a radio station and induced her to sing a song, "Everything Is Hotsy Totsy Now." Herman Timberg, a writer and director of vaudeville acts, sitting at home, heard her, sent for her and gave her a place in a vaudeville act, "Ten Dollars a Lesson."

Her partner in the act, which toured all the "big time" circuits, was Herman Berrens. After two and a half years of the same act Fifi decided that she would go crazy if she had to go through the same routine one more time. So she gave it up and returned to New York.

Talkies had come in, the stage was slumping, and this time Fifi was out of work for 10 months.

This put a real crimp into the Dorsay bankroll and she turned her big flat, at Ninety-eighth and Broaway, into a rooming house. She rented rooms to show friends and in this way managed to keep the wolf on his own side of the door.

At that time the Public theaters were organizing stage units which toured the motion picture circuit and appeared as prologues to feature screen plays. A majority of the players in these units were selected at "amateur night" performances at the Paramount Brooklyn theater. The tryouts took place every Friday night.

Although many real amateurs tried out, most of the candidates were professionals. However, it wasn't often that an Orpheum or Keith headliner took her turn there.

Ten girls were trying out on the night that Fifi made her bid for a steady job. They were told to sing a certain boop-doop-a-doop song, and Fifi asked if she might go on first. There was no dissenting voice, for all the others were glad to have her break the ice.

"I thought if I sang the first song the audience would feel, more or less, that the other girls were copying me," she says. And applause counted heavily in the selection.

BY this time Fifi was using the name, Fifi Dorsay, for all her stage work. The other chorus girls in the Greenwich Village Follies had automatically given her the name, Fifi, just because of her French accent. The Dorsay part originally was D'Orsay, the inspiration of which was a brand of perfume.

She adopted D'Orsay when she went into vaudeville.

The unit with which Fifi was sent on tour did not fare well. It seemed unable to "get going" and the "home office" continuously made replacements in an effort to correct the trouble.

In Baltimore, Fifi got notice that her own services would be required only two weeks more. But in Baltimore the act began to go over in a big way. The next week, in Pittsburg, the management suggested to Fifi that it would like to rescind its dismissal notice, but Fifi had other ideas.

She was going to Detroit to be married.

In Chicago, during her vaudeville tour, she had met Fred Berrens, a brother of her vaudeville partner, and they had decided that the world would be a rose tinted affair, even without roseate glasses, if they were married. Fred Berrens was an excellent violinist, orchestra leader and master of ceremonies. Later, you may recall, he was M. C. at the Fox in St. Louis.

Just before she left Pittsburg she received word to go to New York for a motion picture test.

"I told them, 'No,'" she says. "What did I care about motion pictures?"

But the manager of the agency that had sent for her in Pittsburg came on to Detroit—the night before the intended marriage.

"The Fox Film Corporation wants a French girl to play with Will Rogers in his first talking picture," he said. "It's the biggest opportunity of your life. Why don't you go to New York and take the test? If it's good you will make a fortune. You can get married in a few months. If the test is no good, you can come back here and get married in a few days."

Miss Dorsay thought carefully.

The affair must be serious and important, she felt, because the telegram the agent had sent her in Pittsburg was prepaid and he had never done anything like that before.

SHE arrived in New York on the afternoon of June 3, last year, and went from the train directly to the offices of the film company, where she was ushered into the presence of Joseph Pincus.

"Let's see how you look with your hat off," he said.

"I weel not take my hat off," she declared hotly. "I 'ave just come from the the train and my hair weel not look right and I am all dusty and tired and if you want to take a test you weel take it joost like I am now and I would rather go back to Detroit and get married."

So the test was made, hat and all, and on June 21 Fifi Dorsay was before a camera in Hollywood with Will Rogers.

So far there has been no marriage and until Fifi elects to leave motion pictures there will be none, she says.

She will marry some day, she says, and hopes to have at least four children.

She is right on the verge of stardom, but wears the same size of turban and is the same likeable, charming, devastating Fifi who splashed into Hollywood for the first time just about a year ago.

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

Sky Cities

AFTER the Little Black Clock had taken them to the Air Hotel and had let them take shower baths from the famous Cloud showers, he suggested that they take a trip at night up in the air.

They thought that was a thrilling idea and they started off. The Little Black Clock had turned the time ahead many years, and there were a number of Air hotels and Air picnic grounds and Air playgrounds.

As they rode along through the air it was the strangest, most wonderful sight to see the lights gleaming from these different hotels and places up in the air.

Sometimes they would go through a dark cloud and when they were out of it they would once again see the twinkling lights from the windows of the great hotels.

Now and again they looked at the earth below. There were some beacon lights to be seen, and dimly, faintly, they could see the scattered lights along the streets of towns and villages—but the brightest lights were all up in the air.

Far above them they could see the stars. They looked very small. It was like a Fairyland with the earth below and its flickering lights and the air through which they were flying and its gay lights, and above them the twinkling lights of the stars.

They flew and they flew and they flew, and pretty soon the air and the many lights and the hum of the motor made them feel very drowsy.

They must have landed very gently, for they did not remember anything about it—only that they slept so well after that glorious ride.

It was so queer and funny, as John said, to see the world when it was new and when things were just being discovered, and it seemed so unreal when the Clock turned the time forward into the future.

Summer Foundations

THE average woman will frown when she thinks of a foundation garment for summer wear. The fact remains that some disciplinary measure is necessary to the well-dressed appearance, whatever the temperature.

Batiste this year in a fine durable quality makes practical and cool foundations. Light-weight satin is made to look dainty and summery with lace decorations. Lace over net, as also voile, is suggested to mold the slight figure.

Stays Put.

If you are going to decorate your rolls with poppy seed, spread just a little unbeaten egg white on the tops before sprinkling on the seeds. After baking the seeds will remain on the buns.

SYNOPSIS.

Mary Kate O'Hara is in love with Cass Keating and wants to marry him. But she also wants to help her brother, Martin. He is studying medicine at nights and has had to turn down an opportunity to go to Germany because of the family's poverty.

Then Christopher Steynes, a friend of her employer, makes a strange proposition. He asks her to play the part of his wife for a day and a half in order to discourage a Russian countess who is on his trail. It means enough money to give Martin his opportunity, and Steynes seems perfectly trustworthy—a gentleman. Mary Kate promises to think it over.

CHAPTER XI.

"Now the point is," Mary Kate said with a jump, "exactly what can we pay?"

"Rent?" Cass Keating asked, with a downward glance at her, walking along a sunshiny spring street beside him.

"Rent."

"Is that a new hat?"

"This? Well, I'll tell you. A girl at the office, named Louise Snevily, gave it to me for Tess. And I gave Tess 50 cents for it."

"It's wonderful." Cass bestowed another look upon his promised wife.

It was Sunday, a warm March Sunday that smelled of earth and flowers. White clouds were moving above a blue, blue sky; the world looked washed and clean, church bells laced the sunny city with a lingering solemn clamor. Late churchgoers were moving briskly along, but Cass and Mary Kate had already performed their Sunday duty and were free.

The girl had indeed been out in the cool twilight of 7 o'clock, catching the sunrise over the towers and ship spars of lower San Francisco. She had loitered over a delicious breakfast, alone with Ma and Pat, and had seen more sunshine slanting into the shabby kitchen, striking glints from the brass sink faucets and the nickel alarm clock. She had roused Tess and Regina and Tom and Mart, had washed her bright hair, and read the Sunday paper and worked out the crossword puzzle while it dried; she had helped her mother straighten the kitchen, after the children's breakfast, and had heard once more the story of the day Aunt Nellie caught fire just before the Rowe twins were born, which recollection inevitably led Mrs. O'Hara into a dissertation on Uncle Jim Rowe, who was irresistibly high-spirited, and who had been known in his youth as "the life of the wake." This naturally evoked memories of the Dugans, the Creels and the Spite Wall.

At 12 o'clock, on this particular Sunday morning, Mary Kate had come down the stairs a very picture of youth and beauty and smartness, and Cass, respectful, sitting on the edge of a chair in the now spotless kitchen, somewhat timidly making talk with a surprisingly friendly hostess, had risen to meet his sweetheart with a rather doubtful question.

"Could Mary Kate and I go for a little walk, Mrs. O'Hara?"

To which Mary Kate's mother had amazed him by responding heartily:

"Oh, go along with you, the both of you! You'll be doing nothing now but giving us all the slip, I wouldn't wonder."

"Gee, she's kind. What's happened?" the dazed Cass had lost no time in asking Mary Kate, once they were alone.

"Oh, you know Ma!" Mary Kate had answered impatiently. "She was on tenterhooks yesterday, for fear it was all broken off between you and me."

"Well, and now won't she expect me to—to say anything?..I mean are we engaged?" the bewildered Cass had pursued determinedly.

And now it was Mary Kate's turn to be a little contrary.

"Oh, yes, of course we are!" she had said carelessly.

"Well, but—we are engaged?"

"Well, we're househunting, anyway! Why must we fuss so much about everything?" But she had given a jump of general satisfaction in the spring day, her companion, and the expedition, that had afforded him little consolation.

"Let's hunt houses every Sunday until we find what we want?"

A faint cloud.

"Mr. Rountree may want me to go to Sacramento next week-end, Cass."

"Since when?"

"He was talking about it yesterday."

"You've never been there, have you?"

"Oh, never!"

"Gee," Cass said, thinking, "I wish I could get away and go down with you."

"Mother'd love that," the girl observed, with suddenly cold hands and a thumping heart.

"When do you go?"

"Thursday, I guess."

"Oh, well, I couldn't go then!"

The hour was one of rapturous excitement. In every obviously-enamored young couple that passed them they saw themselves. Baby coaches and toddling little citizens in white coats had a new meaning this morning. And especially were the new big apartment houses, rising tiers of bright, clean, empty windows, street littered with bricks and planks, filled with new charm.

Cass gave Mary Kate his hand to help her over precarious bridges of barrels and boards, and they peeped into bright little new domiciles not yet plastered or painted.

"Imagine, Cass, what a view!"

"Wait. Does this room belong to this apartment, or to the next one?"

They stepped through what would soon be walls; walls shutting one man's home from another. Mary Kate was ecstatic over breakfast ingles, open fire-place, casement windows.

"Here's where my apron would hang. This would be our room, this the sitting-room, and you see we could have little flower-pots all along here in a row."

The miracle of it smote them.

"Cass, isn't marriage wonderful?"

"I'll say it's wonderful."

Wandering, wandering, wandering happily along, they got far from home; way up into Stanyan and McAllister street neighborhood near the park. Mary Kate loved the idea of living near the park.

In the park, the band was playing in still, warm, afternoon sunshine, and thousands of persons were ranged on the benches, under the trees, or lying on the green slopes of grass, and with babies and newspapers scattered about them.

"Want to go into the Museum?"

"Oh, my feet!"

"Mine, too." Mary Kate sat down on the young green grass, and Cass threw himself down next to her, and they listened to the Poet and Peasant together. The girl quite unconcernedly took off her tight little helmet of a hat, and ran her fingers through the blazing red-gold of her silky hair. Passersby looked at her.

The music strained through the fragrant air unevenly, now fanned by an idle scrap of breeze, now fading away.

"I'm sunk," said Mary Kate suddenly.

"Me, too," Cass rolled on an elbow. "This househunting is a job," he said.

"Here's what we ought to do, Cass. We ought to go home, and I'll clean up, and change my clothes, and you go home and do the same. Then come back to supper. Ma has a chicken pie, I know, because she was making puff paste this morning, and then we can either go down to Loretta's or to a movie."

"Check!" Cass said, stirring reluctantly. "We skip lunch?"

"You had that hot dog."

"I know. Well, yes, that's all right," Cass asserted. "Dinner at 6, and it's after 4 now. Come on!"

In his own magnificent way, he stopped a taxicab, and Mary Kate gave a groan of comfort as she sank into the seat.

"Well, anyway, we didn't quarrel!" she exulted.

"Quarrel?"

"Don't you know you always quarrel, when you get tired and hungry and dirty, and begin to discuss plans?"

This aloud. But in her panicky heart she was saying, "Shall I tell him? Shall I ask him whether it would be all right for me to do what Mr. Steynes wants me to?"

And in her heart she was answering: "No, he'd go crazy. He and Mart and mother all would. They'd say he was bluffing me, just trying to take advantage of me. It's all only—fun. I'm no baby, to be deceived, to be gotten 'into trouble.'"

She remembered the penciled sum. She remembered Christopher Steynes saying, "Now, listen, no smart cracks about not wanting the money, when I give it to you," and her own surprised, "Why else do you think I'm doing it for?" and his friendly laugh.
